

Oak Knoll, Winchester, Mass.
December 30, 1924

My dear Mr. Willey:

When you asked me to act as chairman of the Campaign Committee for the War Memorial I was very glad to accept that responsibility. At that time you thought, as we all did, that we could make it "short and snappy" and complete it in a couple of weeks; but two months have elapsed and the goal is not yet reached.

The treasurer will soon make up his records to December 31, 1924, and we shall then know how near we are to the goal; but beginning with January 1, 1925, I have another public matter that will take all of my time for several months, so I must ask you to excuse me from further service for the present. I know that you feel somewhat disappointed at the result of your appeal and I think you have some reason to feel so, for never was a matter put before the town in a more thorough and convincing manner than was done by the Publicity Committee that you selected, and you had every reason to expect, from the action of the town at the last annual town meeting, that the response to your appeal would be prompt and generous.

But there are several good reasons why the contributions for this Memorial have not been as numerous as you hoped for. I do not refer to such excuses as that one preferred the taxation method, another preferred a library, another a different location. These are all mere subterfuges; for in a democracy the majority must rule and the minority, when once a question is settled after fair debate, must fall into line. That is what has made Winchester what it is. The real reason is that it was the most unfortunate time that could possibly have been selected to make this call. It was a time of year when every family had heavy expenses—coal, taxes, winter clothes, Christmas demands—all these must be met. It has so happened that in nearly every church in town there has been an urgent call for funds which should properly have a leading position in making out one's annual budget. Then your committee was most generous in giving up your position to the Hospital Committee last spring and joining with them in raising a large fund for that most worthy purpose. All this accounts for the extra time needed to complete this work.

Again, some have said the balance will be raised by taxation; why subscribe now and be taxed later? This would manifestly be unfair to all who have subscribed and I feel sure that a vote of this kind could not be passed in town meeting, and ought not to be.

Rumor has come to me from time to time that not only were some of our people not willing to give to this cause but were even urging others not to give. I can't believe that there is a single person in this town who would be guilty of such action.

But I have enjoyed some things in connection with this campaign very much. First of all, the public spirit and enthusiasm of many of the captains and their assistants have been most inspiring. That is the kind of service that makes a community worth living in. Then the interest which the school children manifested was most gratifying, and it was a real satisfaction to me to see the little Mystic School, which in our part of the town is always prized so highly, take a stand among the first in this patriotic service. Also, from time to time in the Winchester Star, which has been most liberal in offering its columns for this cause, have appeared very interesting and loyal communications. I was especially pleased with the editorial in last week's issue, which stated the whole situation so pungently. Altogether, then, I have enjoyed very much this service which you asked me to render.

As I understand, you have already paid the first instalment to the sculptor under your agreement and you have funds in hand ready to pay the second when it becomes due; and sometime next year, when it seems propitious, if you make another call, I am sure the goal will then be reached.

Sincerely yours,

LEWIS PARKHURST

TOZIER PARTY LEFT WEDNESDAY

The "Tozier Party," conducted each year by Dr. and Mrs. Charles H. Tozier, left Wednesday afternoon via the R. & M. railroad for a week's visit to Canada; a week which will be devoted to all sorts of winter sports, both of the out and indoor variety. These annual expeditions are becoming far famed, and this year's trip should number among the best yet experienced. Plans call for headquarters at Quebec, the mecca for winter tourists and sports lovers in the North. Among the Winchester members of the party are Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Bowen Tuttle, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hodie, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kerrison, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hoey, and Mr. and Mrs. Newton Shults, in addition to Dr. and Mrs. Tozier.

MRS. MARY O'CONNOR

Mrs. Mary O'Connor, wife of Mr. Patrick O'Connor, died on New Year's Eve at her home, 38 White street. She was 69 years of age and had made her home in this town for the past 60 years. Besides her husband she is survived by two sons, Dr. James H. O'Connor of this town and Dr. Edward O'Connor of Cambridge and one daughter, Miss Ellen C. O'Connor.

Solemn high mass of requiem will be celebrated at St. Mary's Church on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. The burial will be in Calvary cemetery.

PIANOFORTE RECITAL

The second in the series of three holiday season recitals given by pupils of Mrs. Annie Soule Lewis, was held in her home, Wednesday, Dec. 31 at 10:30 a. m.

The program rendered included a "Welcome" recitation, given by the youngest pupil (6 years old) followed by songs, pianoforte solos, duets and trios. After the 80 minute long program, pupils and guests enjoyed social time while refreshments were served.

Those taking part in the order of their grade were:

MUCH PROGRESS

The Young People's Forum of the New Hope Baptist Church have enjoyed much progress since its organization ten months ago. Many interesting speakers have been heard at the meetings on subjects which proved the source of much inspiration to those who attended. The musical part of the program has been instructive as well as interesting.

The efforts of this body have been marked by a remarkable degree of success, thanks to the assistance of members and the active co-operation of many friends.

WINCHESTER TO PLAY CHELSEA AT BASKETBALL

Winchester High with two wins in as many starts will meet with the certain Chelsea High School in the local gymnasium Tuesday afternoon, with the first game called at 3:30.

The program rendered included a "Welcome" recitation, given by the youngest pupil (6 years old) followed by songs, pianoforte solos, duets and trios. After the 80 minute long program, pupils and guests enjoyed social time while refreshments were served.

720 ARRESTS FOR YEAR

Pictures made public at the police department Wednesday show that 720 arrests were made in Winchester during the past year, or more than twice as many as were recorded during 1923. These hundred and four were made in 1923 or not as many as the motor arrests alone total for 1924. Three hundred and seventy-seven arrests were made during the past year for motor violations with 42 of them for reckless or drunken driving. All other arrests for various causes total 333. A year ago the arrests for causes other than violations of the motor vehicle laws were 92. During the past year 173 arrests were made for drunkenness as opposed to 108 the year previous.

CLASS PLAY

The cast of characters in the Junior-Senior play have been working hard every day since the organization under Miss Chapman's direction. "Thank You" the three act play on which the pupils are working is highly entertaining, having made a hit in New York, where it had a phenomenal run of two years. It also enjoyed a long run in Boston so that the pupils are sure to remember what a delightful play it is.

Don't forget the date, Saturday, Jan. 17.

BUILDING PERMITS GRANTED

The Building Commissioner has granted permits for the week ending Dec. 31, as follows: Mary E. Smith, 20 Winthrop street, alteration of barn in garage at same address.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN BLANK PERMANENT RESIDENT DIES SUDDENLY

A host of Winchester people learned with deep regret on Sunday of the sudden death of Mr. Benjamin Franklin Blank of Highland avenue. Mr. Blank passed away after an illness of but five days. He was taken ill during the night on Tuesday with an attack of pleurisy, developing into pneumonia within a short time. Every effort was made by his physician and specialists to combat the disease, but without avail.

Mr. Blank was born in Norwood and was the son of Joseph and Elizabeth (Waldner) Blank. He came to this town with his parents when 10 years of age and attended the Winchester schools. Upon leaving school he entered the employ of Philip Waldner in his father's factory, remaining there until about 35 years ago, when he and his two brothers, John S. and Philip J. Blank, opened a factory of their own on Lake street. This factory was burned, and the brothers then located in Everett and subsequently in Stoneham and again in Winchester.

The partnership was dissolved a number of years ago, Mr. Blank and his brother John continuing in the latter business with a shop in Stoneham. This shop had been practically closed for two years past.

Mr. Blank was 66 years of age. He was a well-known member and past director of the Calumet Club, a former member of the Old Fellows. He married Miss Grace Manning of this town in 1888, who survives him, together with three daughters, Mrs. William Hudson, Mrs. W. H. Shearman and Miss Gretchen Blank. He also leaves one brother, John S. Blank, Sr., and two grandchildren.

The funeral services were held at the residence on Highland avenue, on Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Howard J. Chidley of the First Congregational Church. During the service, Mr. Blank was eulogized by Rev. Helen Edelson Barr. The pall bearers were Messrs. George Dwyer, Edward W. Berry, Wesley Blank and John S. Blank. Burial was made in the local cemetery. The interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

WINCHESTER GIRL WON CONTEST PRIZE

Miss Phyllis Dalrymple, daughter of C. and Mrs. A. H. Dalrymple of Cambridge street and a pupil in the Winslow Grammar School, has received a prize for her essay, "The Home Lighter," in a contest of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of this city.

The prize was a check from the company for $25, and was contested for by most of the Winchester girls. Miss Dalrymple is 11 years old and is a pupil in the seventh grade of the local grammar school. She has been a member of the Junior League since last year, and has been very active in the various lighting systems in use in the city. She is also a member of the Junior League and has been very active in the various lighting systems in use in the city. She is also a member of the Junior League and has been very active in the various lighting systems in use in the city.

M. C. W. G.

Winchester Branch, Massachusetts Catholic Women's Guild, will be represented at the Christmas festival at the Home for Destitute Catholic children on Sunday last.

The profusion of beautiful gifts and toys, given the children by the present, was highly commended on by all present, and the work done by the Guild was highly praised by State Chaplain Monsignor Ambrose Roche and other distinguished speakers.

The next regular meeting of the Winchester Branch will be on Thursday evening, Jan. 8, in the Parish Hall. The committee in charge which are deserving of much commendation for a pleasant and unusual entertainment included: Misses Ruth Gates, Dorothy Johnson, Dorothy Friend and Alice Bigley.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

CROSS WORD PUZZLE ON PAGE 7

NOEL BYRON LUTTB

Noel Byron Lutt, for the past 19 years a resident of Winchester, died suddenly Monday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William H. Gilpatrick, on Bacon street. He was 75 years of age and had been in good health, his death coming as a distinct shock to the members of his family as well as to his friends.

Mr. Lutt was born in New York, in 1849, the son of Noel Byron and Harriet (Todd) Lutt. He received his education there and much of his early life was spent in that district. He was interested in military affairs and at the time of the Spanish-American war was commissioned a captain in the State Militia. He was also in the training of Maine troops at Augusta, Me. He was noted as one of the crack sharpshooters of the state.

In 1878 Mr. Lutt married Jennie Draper of Canandaigua, N. Y., and 10 years later removed with his family to Clyde, Kans., where he made his home for another decade. Twenty-six years ago he returned east, coming to Winchester in 1905. Following the death of his wife, he had a long illness, but he was able to make a journey with his daughter, Mrs. William H. Gilpatrick, on Bacon street.

As a young man Mr. Lutt was employed in the manufacturing of shoes. He was well known in Winchester having been active in the Calumet Club of this town, and at different times of the staid and music committees of the church.

He was a Mason and was a member of the Calumet Club of this town, and of the Kiwanis Club of Boston. Mr. Lutt was a widower, and is survived by three sisters: Mrs. William H. Gilpatrick, Mrs. Frank W. Jones of Winchester, and Miss Elsie Clark Nutt of Portland, Me.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William H. Gilpatrick, on Bacon street, conducted by the Rev. George Hale Reed, minister of the Winchester Unitarian Church. The casket bore a simple inscription: "Noel Byron Lutt, 1849-1924." Mr. C. H. Jewett will give a eulogy on "Sir Ernest Shackleton's Test." The public is invited.

Miss Edith Lewis, general clerk at the Town Hall, spent the past week-end at Hampton Falls, N. H.

THE MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION CORNER

Since 1907, when the Mothers' Association took its present form, there have been many changes in the town—many other societies have been formed—much more of organization in the churches and much more of social demand.

The Mothers' Association itself has branched out like the fingers of a hand, by the forming of chapters in the schools. In spite of all these things the Association has kept a membership that seldom falls below 300.

The present organization, dating back for 18 years has, in addition to the chief officers, a Board of Managers consisting of two members from each church, and two teachers from the Teachers' Club. Monthly meetings, and, as many home meetings, have been kept up for the ten months of each year.

In view of these changes in the town, and the multiplicity of demands on mothers, there is a movement on foot to concentrate and strengthen the work of the Mothers' Association. At the Annual meeting on Jan. 21 (3d Wednesday) these proposed changes will be voted on, by a full meeting (it is hoped) of the Association. The new list of officers prepared by the nominating committee will also be elected.

N. E. M. is a mother who, in these changes, will be patronized in the Star before that date, so that all may come prepared to decide upon our future course.

The original intent of the Mothers' Association was mutual help in the problems of home, even more than school. The need of such help is even greater now than then. The Mothers of small children of pre-school age should be interested, not only in home problems but also in the school life that comes so soon after babyhood.

It is hoped there may be such help not only in the central meetings, but in the district chapters, and that our Association with the teachers may continue most friendly, without being burdensome to them.

All mothers and teachers are cordially invited to join the Association.

Notices
Mr. Quinn, our School Superintendent, requests the donation of rags for weaving rag rugs, in classes at Lincoln School—also for magazines that are quite profusely illustrated. These offerings, may be sent to the Superintendent's office at any time.

Mrs. Parker has in her household a very enthusiastic knitter, who speedily turns all the wool and yarn she can get of any size or color, into squares, that are made up by the Fortnightly committee into warm afghan for wounded soldiers in hospitals.

Please send to 408 Main street all you can spare—even little bits are worked in.

Home and Home Training
The importance of home training as a supplement to the public schools was recently emphasized by a Milwaukee educator, addressing a parent-teacher meeting.

Parent-teacher associations are the visible symbol of the desirable co-operation of the home and the school.

The speaker took occasion to criticize the home, and to point out the sole responsibility for education. He went so far as to say that education is not all a primary responsibility of the State, nor of any social agency, but of the parents.

If home training is an indispensable element of education, it follows that we must have homes capable of providing such training. Any scheme of socialization designed to weaken family ties and rob the family of its natural unity will necessarily throw additional burdens on the State. There can be no home training without a healthy home life. [Milwaukee Sentinel.]

There has never yet been a man in this town who led a life of ease. [Roosevelt.]

Boy Saw the Moral
The teacher was trying to impress on the children how important had been the discovery of the law of gravitation.

"Sir Isaac Newton was sitting on the ground and looking at the tree. An apple fell on his head, and from that he discovered gravitation. Just think, children," she added, "that some day you'll be a scientist!"

While driving his Chevrolet touring car down the high street hill at 9:30 a. m. on the day after Christmas Max Miller of 40 Sylvan street, East Hampton had his school trip interrupted and indefinitely postponed by the breaking of the left rear wheel on his car.

WILSON—ATKINS

Popular Choir Master Weds Cape Cod Girl

At a quite home wedding at the home of the bride's cousin, Mrs. Harry E. Carter, 24 Brooks street, West Medford, Miss Gladys Perry Atkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Z. Atkins of Chatham, and Mr. J. Albert Wilson of Braintree avenue, Somerville, were married on Saturday evening.

The ceremony, performed at 8 o'clock by the Rev. J. Gordon Carey, rector of the Church of Our Saviour at Roslindale, and brother-in-law of the groom was attended only by the immediate relatives of the couple.

The residence was decorated for the ceremony with Christmas colors, evergreen and holly berries. The bride wore a wedding dress of white georgette and lace, and carried a bouquet of sweet peas and roses. The only attendant was little Evelyn Gibbs Hawes, cousin of the bride, who acted as flower girl. She carried a basket of sweethearts.

Mrs. Wilson is well known to many Winchester friends as the niece of Mr. Daniel W. Hawes of Stevens street. She is an accomplished musician and has been the organist at the First Congregational Church at Chatham. Mr. Wilson, who for the past 16 years has been organist and choir-master at the Church of the Epiphany, is a Harvard man and is supervisor of music in the Reading schools. He is a well known teacher of voice and piano.

The couple are spending their honeymoon in the South. They will make their home in the residence recently purchased by Mr. Wilson at 16 Barnard road, West Medford.

COUPES BUMP ON WASHINGTON STREET

Last Saturday morning shortly after 11 o'clock while Dr. W. Davis, of North Cambridge was driving his Ford coupe north on Washington street he was bumped by a Buick coupe owned and operated by Frank E. Gallagher of Lebanon street who was going south into Washington street from Cross street. Davis' car was somewhat injured by the collision and as Gallagher failed to stop after the accident he reported the matter to the Winchester Police who later took Gallagher into custody at his home.

In the Woburn Court Monday morning Davis failed to identify Gallagher who had his case put on file.

WINCHESTER PUBLIC SCHOOL NOTES

All the public schools will open on Monday, Jan. 5, for the winter term.

The children of the Washington School met in an assembly to sing carols, Wednesday, Dec. 24. They marched to Room 6 to the music of a stereo record, "O Come, All Ye Faithful." The following informal program arranged by the children was given:

Cantata "Silent Night" School
Scripture Reading: Luke 2:1-12
Carol: "O Come, All Ye Faithful"
Carol: "O Come, All Ye Faithful"

Albert Hale and Paul Welburn of the sixth grade are making a map of New York City and its surroundings on the blackboard.

The fifth and sixth grades have made Christmas boxes which they filled with nuts, candy, books, games and toys sent to the Children's Hospital in Boston.

Aram Mouradian has drawn a picture of the Wise Men following the Star of the East on the blackboard.

Members of the third and fourth grades have made two Christmas card scrapbooks for the Children's Hospital in Boston.

Miss Holbrook's classes gave a Christmas play, "The Broken Pitcher," last Friday. Christmas songs were also sung.

The children in Miss Brown's grades which purchased and decorated a Christmas tree was given away on Christmas Eve.

Members of Grade 4 gave a play for the school Friday afternoon, "San Francisco Special Gift." It proved to be a lovely doll for a lovely little girl who wished to make her friends happy.

The Junior meeting of the Junior Red Cross was held on Thursday, Dec. 18. The meeting was called to order at 2:30 in the afternoon. The program was opened with the singing of "America" and the flag salute. The secretary read the reports of the last two meetings.

There was an announcement that Frederick Sanborn formerly of this school had presented the school with a year's subscription to "The National Geographic Magazine." The children expect to enjoy the gift all through the coming year.

The rest of the program follows:

"It may almost be regarded as a corollary," he continues, "that, under conditions of a diet in vitamin-bearing products, the body itself will become a source of vitamins in these physiologically potent factors. For several types of vitamins evidence is now available that this is actually the case. It has been found by Steenblock, Sell and Nelson that the liver is an important source of fat soluble vitamins, the varying in its content of these substances with the ration fed. When the diet of the animal becomes poor in vitamins A, however, the liver becomes correspondingly depleted. The depletion of the liver is not a permanent one, when the animal is deprived of an adequate supply of this factor has been demonstrated by Osborne and Mendel."

PRIZE ESSAY CONTEST

The following essay, written by James Cullen of the Winchester High School, received first prize in the contest held last Spring by Winchester Post, American Legion. The essay was written on the moving picture shown under the auspices of the Legion, "The Man Without a Country."

An Essay on "The Man Without a Country"

(James Cullen)

"The Man Without a Country" is just the kind of a motion picture to show before the American people, especially the children. Its lessons are both patriotic and educational. It instills into the heart of each and everyone who sees it an intense love of that "land of the free" which we claim as ours. It stirs the souls of all the sparks of patriotism that are necessary to the continuation of this country as an "example to all nations" of the success of a free and independent republic. It shows the evils of factionism, which Washington warns us against in his famous farewell address in which he cites as an example where an ambitious leader of one faction, urged on by political ambition, might place himself at the head of the government, and, sooner or later, might establish a "formal and permanent despotism on the ruins of public liberty."

How poignant were our feelings when we saw the cold-blooded Burr, smiling down at Hamilton who was writhing in agony from the mortal wound dealt him by his revengeful opponent. How pathetic were the actions of the grief-stricken family of Hamilton upon being told of the tragedy.

How we pitied the hero, Philip Nolan, when first we saw him as an innocent young man led on by the wily, intriguing Burr to engage in the conspiracy that was to destroy our beloved country, then, as an exile, as "the man without a country," when we saw him, gazing, with eager longing eyes, on the flag of that nation which now meant so much to him, and which he could never see or hear of more.

And, later, when we saw him on his deathbed, as he was being told the news of the country, with which, for over fifty years he had no more communication than the "man in the moon" with our earth.

Little we realize the benefits we enjoy as members of this glorious republic of ours. Just such a picture as "The Man Without a Country" is necessary to make us realize this fact. We thank the American Legion for this worthwhile opportunity, which they have granted us, to bring to our minds these wonderful advantages.

Expectations Vary

On Growing Old

When we become old, we want to get off the streets. We always sympathize with the old men who have nothing to do, who are not wanted anywhere and who have no place to go. When we become old and useless, we want a place of our own to go to, a place that is absolutely our own and which we can manage as we please. We hope it will be a little place where we can potter around with fruits and flowers and vegetables and chickens, and keep busy. We don't want to give people the opportunity to show neglect nor idle time in which to see visions of the grim monster, old men who loiter about the streets, it seems to us, make a mistake.—Arkansas Times Cat.

Game of Croquet Old

There are no authentic data regarding the origin of the game of croquet, which was a favorite of kings some 200 years ago. Some writers say that it was evolved from the game pallamalle, which was played in Languedoc as early as the Thirteenth century.

Egotism

Fastidiousness is only another word for egotism; and all men who know not where to look for truth save in the narrow wall of self find their own image at the bottom and mistake it for what they are seeking.—Lawell.

Populous Ants' Nests

Lord Ashbury once estimated that a single ant's nest might contain as many as 40,000 individual insects. Recent researches have shown that these figures were too high; yet the actual facts are astonishing enough.

Rev. John Wallace Suter of Boston, pastor of the Epiphany Church of this town, was the officiating clergyman at the wedding in St. Paul's Cathedral in Boston last Saturday. The groom is a nephew of Dr. Suter.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wheeler, proprietors of the Metropolitan Garage, are selling out their business at 632 Main street. They will be missed by their many friends and customers which they have made for the past few years, both being obliging and accommodating at all times. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler are planning a trip out west in the spring by automobile which it is hoped they will enjoy and hope in the near future will return to Winchester.

Vessel Construction
Marvel of Ingenuity

An achievement like that of the ocean liner which met and survived a gale in which the waves ran 100 feet from trough to crest, represents for mankind an almost incredible triumph of genius, says the New York Herald-Tribune. The unimaginable fury of seas which could break over a bridge 65 feet from the water-line, which could rip away rails and timbers, flood the rooms on the upper decks by coming down upon them from above, throw a man through a bulkhead and set the whole ship awash, would seem to be a thing which no human construction could possibly live through.

As a matter of fact, every modern steamship is a miracle, and almost all of them are successful ones. The loss of a small vessel in the open sea is of astonishing rare occurrence, and property owners need not any Atlantic passenger liner will have been destroyed in a late time with the ocean going. A ship is attacked in two ways.

She must, first, stand the terrible pounding and crash of the water and of her own waves, and she must be able to recover her balance no matter how long or violent the roll. Vessels have been rolled under in storm, sometimes through human carelessness, sometimes through the shifting of the cargo—often it is of rarest occurrence. More often they founder through the weakness of the hull construction, their seams are opened or their backs broken. But the sailor responds to new ships; it seems never to happen to good ones.

"Prisons" May Yet Be Maintained in Open

Prison in the open air seems a contradiction in itself, for the very word "prison" calls up the idea of incarceration in locked and walled-up buildings.

However, there is such a thing, and it is in Holland that very successful experiments have been made with outdoor prisons.

Sixty persons were drafted to the town of Vollenhove, to serve their term there. Their task was to convert moor-land into cultivated land, and they showed themselves very industrious in the undertaking. They are divided into gangs, each containing ten persons, but are not supervised or watched by any sort of warder or official; these prisoners may live in common and advance their social sense, unsubjected to supervision.

The foreman of each gang is, however, not a prisoner, but a workman who joins voluntarily. It would not be difficult to escape under such conditions, but no one has hitherto attempted to do so. The environment is much more favorable than in an ordinary prison, and the Dutch government is considering setting up several centers of this sort.

Chinese Trait

Among the Chinese the predominant idea of dress always has been splendor of material and decoration.

Pistols That Figured in Affairs of Honor

Appropos of the Nomad's duelling stories, a correspondent, says the Boston Transcript, sends the following: "Dear Nomad: This regarding the duel between Hamilton and Burr may be of interest to you."

"Some years ago, in passing through Geneva, N. Y., I was guest of Mr. Richard Church, an old family friend. In talking on things of historic interest, Mr. Church paused and, stooping down, reached under the sofa and revealed to my expectant gaze a mahogany box. On opening the box, he showed me the original flintlock pistols used in the Hamilton-Burr duel.

Mr. Church handed me that these same flintlocks had been used also in two other duels—the Wilkes Burr duel and the Church-Burr duel. Mr. Richard Church was a descendant of the opponent (Church) of Burr in the Church-Burr duel. Mr. Church showed me that one of the flintlocks was broken and informed me this break had occurred while he was a lad in shooting while at play. Mr. Church has passed away and I do not know the present whereabouts of these historic flintlocks. Perhaps they fell to his daughter, who in the time of my visit was the wife of Rev. Dr. Hart of St. Mark's church, Rochester, N. Y. Mrs. Hart's mother was one of the Schuylers, and was christened Angelica Schuyler Church. Perhaps some reader can give data as to the present owner of the flintlock. DAMON."

That the duelling pistols used in the Burr-Hamilton affair should also have served in two other encounters in which Burr was concerned is a pretty good indication that Burr kept himself supplied with weapons. But in the Church affair his pistols seem to have gone to his antagonist. The veritable weapon with which Burr killed Hamilton must be a valuable possession for a collector.

That Dropped Aspirate

In Latin and the languages, such as French, derived from it, the "h" is not pronounced, its omission being due to a slightly different throat formation in different races. For centuries after the Norman conquest Latin and Norman French were the official tongues of England, and the aspirate, therefore, was never sounded.

With the gradual rise of English as a national language, the "h" crept into fashion, though even today one may occasionally find an old-fashioned clergyman who clings to the ancient tradition and speaks with conservative correctness of an "humble nun." In the main, however, the dropping of the "h" was left to the less-educated classes, particularly those in London, which, as the court and official center, had, of course, been more affected by the French nonaspiration than the more truly English north country.—Saville Banner.

Origin of Silk Culture

Although silk culture originated in China and the very name China finds its birth in a term meaning "silk people," the United States looks to Japan for most of this raw material. American mills are weaving nearly 50,000,000 pounds of raw silk annually, of which about 50 per cent comes from Japanese mulberry orchards, says the Detroit News. The ugly little silk worm is treated with great respect in the Orient, for it brings to the far eastern peoples more than $300,000,000 from the United States alone.

How Wood Is Bent

The forest service says that in bending the stem process is best. Wood that is used for this purpose is usually hickory and ash. A straight piece of the wood is steamed thoroughly in hot steam, then bent over any kind of shape to suit the purpose and clamped down until it is dried.

WATCH NIGHT SERVICE

A very pretty custom of the Cornerstone Church is to hold a birthday party on New Year's Eve to which everyone is invited.

The party this year on New Year's Eve was very well attended and about 30 or more persons stayed through the evening to watch the old year out. There was a splendid entertainment commencing at 8 p. m. furnished by the Misses Nettleton and West Roxbury assisted by a young men's orchestra from West Medford.

Following the entertainment, was the installation of the new officers for the year 1925 of the Cornerstone Church which was very interesting, then followed a catered supper and social until 11:30 p. m.

The last half hour up to midnight was the New Year's religious service which ended with the ringing of the church bell at 12 p. m. welcoming in the new year 1925.

ANOTHER SKATING CARNIVAL

A hockey game between the recent alumni of Harvard and Dartmouth will be an additional attraction to the fancy skating of the National Champions, Mrs. Theresa Wolf Blanchard and Mrs. Nat Niles and the Junior Champion, our towns girl, Mabel Vinson at the Arena at 8 o'clock on Thursday, Jan. 15. Tickets may be had at the Arena, Herrick's and Wright & Ditson's.

WOMAN'S LEAGUE GENTLEMEN'S NIGHT

The annual "Gentlemen's Night" of the Woman's League of the First Baptist Church will be held Thursday evening Jan. 15, at 8 o'clock in the church auditorium.

This promise to be an unusually interesting meeting as Dr. J. M. Tibbets, New England representative of the National Reform Association will speak, taking for his subject, "America's Greatest Peril."

There will be special music, refreshments will be served and a social hour enjoyed.

All adult members of the church and congregation with their friends are most cordially invited to attend.

WINTON CLUB CABARET

The Winton Club Cabaret will be given on Saturday evening, Jan. 31, at 8 p. m.

Written application for tickets must be made either through a member of the club, or to Mrs. George N. Proctor, 37 Cabot street by 6 p. m. Saturday, Jan. 17.

Tickets for seats at the tables will be $2.50 apiece as usual. This year, however, all seats on the floor will be reserved, and assigned in order of drawing. A limited number of balcony tickets at $1 each may be obtained. Orders must be accompanied by check.

A daughter, Virginia Morton, was born on Jan. 1, to Mr. and Mrs. James E. Henry, in Pasadena, Cal.

DONOGHEY—FLAVIN

A wedding of much interest to many Winchester residents was that of Miss Eleanor Flavin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Flavin of 259 Webster street, East Boston, to Arthur L. Donoghue, of 15 Water street which was solemnized on New Year's Day at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The ceremony was performed in the parochial church by the Rev. John J. Donoghue, son of the bridegroom. The bride wore a wedding gown of white satin, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and bridal roses. Miss Linnie Flavin, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her gown was of orchid tulle. Robert V. Donoghue, brother of the groom, was best man, was held at the home of the bride's parents. The young couple were assisted in receiving by their parents Mrs. Annie Donoghue, and Mr. and Mrs. John Flavin.

The bride is one of the most popular young ladies of the Jefferson neighborhood of East Boston while Mr. Donoghue has many friends among the young people of this town. He is employed as a letter carrier attached to the Stoneham Station.

After a wedding trip to New York Mr. and Mrs. Donoghue will make their home in East Boston.

The annual meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held with Mrs. George H. Hamilton next Friday, Jan. 16, at 3 p. m.

LIGHTS ON THE RINK TONIGHT

The Town Skating Rink Will be Lighted for the First Time Tonight if the Ice is Hard Enough

Interest in the success of the Town Skating Rink has made it possible for the Park Board to continue the development on Palmer street. In addition to a large rink for general skating there are two hockey rinks which have been turned over to the School Department for the afternoons and are administered under the direction of Mr. Dresser, physical director. James Fitch of Oxford street, who played hockey on the Choate School skater, has been obtained as custodian of the rink and as coach of hockey. The boys have been playing under his direction and have been gaining their first experience at the regular game, played with goals of the standard dimensions in a rink with board sides.

The principle on which hockey is being run at the rink is that every boy should have as much chance as possible to get into the game. There is no idea of having a team for out-of-town games this year.

It is hoped that the financial support of the rink will be sufficient to keep the hockey rinks working under competent direction until the ice breaks up in March.

Once a week, on Monday afternoons Mrs. Leah Croger Muller, of the Boston Arena, has fancy skating classes at Palmer street. Those who receive her instruction pay for it, just as they would pay a professional at a club. Mrs. Muller has two sections of six each and has the time for another section should one be formed.

Miss Katherine Pike, of Church street, tennis teacher at Miss Lee's School in Boston, has taken up fancy skating professionally under Mrs. Muller. Miss Pike's days of teaching in Winchester are Wednesdays and Saturdays. She also has some time every morning.

The skating committee has been so far able to meet its obligations as they fell due and to plan with confidence for the rest of the winter. The committee believes that the rink, well administered, is what Winchester should have and wants.

The work of wiring for night skating is as yet temporary. It is hoped that the committee will have the money to make the wiring permanent.

Mr. Herbert W. Kelley, 3 Willow street, is Treasurer of the Skating Committee and glad to receive contributions for its work. About $500 in all is needed to do the work well. Of this about $200 is sight or has already been received. Roughly speaking half of the expenditures will be for permanent improvements and the other half for administration, which must be good so that everyone may have a fair chance. The Park Board will ask the Town for the upkeep of the rink during the season of 1925-6, but the money for this season must come from public subscriptions.

The subscribers gain no special privilege, except the sense of having helped in giving happiness to all the skaters of the Town.

WILLIAM H. MAYNARD

William H. Maynard, for more than 25 years a resident of Winchester, died suddenly at his home on Church street last Sunday afternoon in his 44th year. Mr. Maynard had not complained of any illness, and his death was wholly unexpected.

He was born in Sudbury Nov. 16, 1880, the son of Leonard and Mary (Divison) Maynard. His father was for a number of years the agent of the Assabet Mills in the town of Maynard which had been founded by Mr. Maynard's grandfather, Amory Maynard from whom the town took its name.

After attending the public schools in Sudbury Mr. Maynard entered the Assabet Mills and spent there all of his active business life, being for several years the superintendent of one of its largest departments. When the Assabet Mills were taken over by the American Woolen Company in 1918, Mr. Maynard retired and took up his residence in Winchester. While in Maynard he was a member of Charles A. Welch Lodge, A. F. & A. M., and of Trinity Commandery, K. T. of Hudson.

During his residence in Winchester he had been connected with the First Congregational Church, and had taken an interest in several local charitable enterprises. He was a widower and had no immediate family.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the late residence on Church street, conducted by the Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church. The services were held in the presence of the following: Messrs. Preston Pond, Franklin Barnes, Harlan Ray, and James Johnston, all of whom were members of the church. The interment was in the family tomb at Mt. Auburn Cemetery.

THIBEAULT—LARUE

Mr. and Mrs. Emile N. LaRue of 46 Magnolia street, Arlington, have announced the marriage of their daughter Mildred to Alfred J. Thibault, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Thibault of 27 Water street, Winchester. The groom is well known in town through his connection with Converse Place and is a member of the Winchester Lodge of Elks. Mr. and Mrs. Thibault will make their home for the winter in Arlington.

Mr. and Mrs. James V. Barbo of Oak street have announced the engagement of their daughter Julia Barbo to Salvatore Augustus Barbo. No date has been set for the wedding.

FIREMAN PULLED TWO FROM POND

While playing on the town dump at the foot of Holland street yesterday at 11:30 in the morning little "Dunnie" and "Johnny" were playing on the dump. John Styles of Holland street, who had been playing on the dump, got too near the edge of a pile of ashes and either slipped or fell into the water. While the water was not deep, the child's head was unable to get out, and was slowly settling back into the pond when his cries attracted Mrs. Thomas McPartland of Holland street, who at once went to his assistance. Grasping the little boy by the hand she attempted to pull him up onto the dump. She could not do so, and the soft ashes giving way beneath her until she was in great danger of sliding into the water herself. Mrs. McPartland managed to keep her hold on the child but was becoming exhausted with her efforts when she was able to call the attention of Fireman "Jack" Flaherty to her plight. Flaherty was on his way home to lunch accompanied by Thomas Connolly of Clark street, and he ran to the pond. Mr. Flaherty's assistance was able to pull both the woman and child from the pond, though the lack of a foot hold in the soft ashes made the work difficult. "Big Jack" took the little boy to his home where latest reports are to the effect that the child is all right. From his wedding, Mrs. McPartland, though tired by her exertions, is also none the worse for her adventure. It is safe to say that had it not been for her prompt efforts in his behalf the little boy might have been drowned. Messrs. Flaherty and Connolly are also deserving of much praise for their quick work.

WINCHESTER POLICE HAVE NEW GUNS

Chief William R. McIntosh of the Winchester Police has equipped the members of his department with new revolvers throughout, discarding the several older types of weapons which have been in use by the patrolmen. The new revolvers arrived yesterday and are the 38-caliber Colt's Police Positive model, a beautiful gun and one that has been proven very effective.

BRIDGE WHIST EXPERTS TO ENTERTAIN AT CALUMET CLUB

This next Friday night, Jan. 16, at the Calumet Club Mr. Nate Kelley, one of the best whist players in the town, will entertain with a team of other well-known Boston players including Messrs. Howe, Bonney and Babbitt will play 36 boards of duplicate bridge whist with a team of Calumet Club players. All bridge whist players are invited to attend. After the match Mr. Kelley will discuss the hands and show wherein the hands were won and lost.

GRIMES—NELSON

Miss Edith Teresa Nelson daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Nelson of Cedar street and Hugh J. Grimes of Thetford, were united in marriage at St. Mary's Rectory Wednesday evening by the Rev. Fr. Joseph A. Quigley. Both the bride and groom are well known in Winchester. Mr. Grimes being a popular member of the Winchester Highway Department.

SCHOOL OF POLITICS AT RADCLIFFE

Winchester is very near Radcliffe and many citizens, men as well as women, will avail themselves of the exceptionally convenient opportunity to hear men and women internationally prominent speakers on international problems at the "School of Politics at Foreign Affairs" next week at Radcliffe. The meetings held through the cooperation of the Winchester and Massachusetts League of Women Voters will be at Agassiz House on Jan. 14, 15, and 16, three sessions each day.

Among the 24 speakers are George C. Watson, professor of International Law at Harvard; John P. Johnson, Commissioner of Immigration of the port of Boston; Elmer Franklin, associate director of International Migration Service; Frank W. Taussig, professor of economics, Harvard; and Alfred N. Whitehead, senator of University of London, and newly come to Harvard as professor of philosophy.

Dr. Alice Hamilton, only woman professor in Harvard Medical School, and just back from an extended trip through Russia will speak on "Health."

Mrs. John Moorhead, recently returned from conference at Geneva, will tell of the "Work of the Opium Commission in 1924."

Tickets for the sessions of the school are 75 cents; for the course, $2. All attending are invited by Dean Brown to tea at Agassiz House, following the afternoon session. Mrs. A. Lawrence Lowell will entertain at tea at her home Thursday afternoon, and President Ada Comstock will extend an invitation to tea at her house on Friday afternoon.

THE JUNIOR-SENIOR PLAY

"Thank You," a comedy in three acts, by Wm. L. Smith and Tom Cushing, tells the story of a poor minister who gets $900 a year from donations in the form of presents from his parishioners. For such he has to say "Thank You." His niece comes from Paris and starts something in the parish, which makes her uncle a respected preacher instead of a drudge, and turns him from a "thank you" man into a man of independence. It is a sure-fire comedy with clean fun, clever situations and good character drawing. It was produced by John Golden at the Longacre Theatre, New York where it enjoyed a long run. Don't forget the date, Saturday evening, Jan. 17.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. MARY O'CONNOR

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary O'Connor, for 69 years a resident of Winchester, took place last Saturday morning with a solemn high mass at the parish church, St. Mary's, at 10 o'clock. Rev. Fr. Joseph M. Fitzgibbon was celebrant with Rev. Fr. Perival J. Quill of St. Patrick's Church, St. Thomas, as co-celebrant. Rev. Fr. Nathaniel J. Merritt, pastor of St. Mary's, sub-deacon. Mrs. J. Roy McGrath sang "Je Dieu" at the offertory, and "De profundis" from the mass. The bearers included Messrs. John Lynch, James McCraven, and Joseph E. O'Connor of Winchester, James H. O'Connor of Canton, William Rooney of Woburn and J. Joseph Foley of Cambridge. There were many beautiful floral tributes. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery, Montvale.

ALICE F. SUMMIS SOCIETY

The next meeting of the Alice F. Summis Society will be held at Mel's Hall, Wednesday, Jan. 11, at 8 p. m. There will be dancing and refreshments as usual.

THE MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION CORNER

After the meeting of this week, the Board of the Mothers' Association will be prepared to publish in next week's Star the further particulars of proposed changes in the by-laws of the Association. Watch for the Star of the 16th Annual meeting to be held on third Wednesday, Jan. 21, at High School Assembly Hall, 3:30 p. m.

In an address to parents of one of our Father's Night, the following definition of school was given: "School is a place where the power is increased to think worth while thoughts about worth while things." This would forbid the toleration of snobbery, even among what the Boston Herald has styled:

Snobs in Public Schools.

A criticism made of private schools is that they are more or less "snobish," or rather that too much snobbery is sometimes found in them. They may be right in some cases, but what is surprising is that this very spirit of snobbery appears to exist in public schools.

Statements have been made that the material property of scholars in these schools is classified among the scholars; that whether a girl or boy is well clothed or ill, is driven to school in a limousine, appears to have those things which money can buy that all these things are taken into account on the scholar's conduct or discipline. If these representations be according to fact, they show a state of things for which the school authorities cannot be blamed, but which the public must shoulder. Children suffer beyond any conception of their elders from causes like this, and sometimes these sufferings leave marks on character that are never effaced. A child that has in this snobbery and snobishness the benefit of schooling and may receive an impression of severity in general that is quite wrong. It is obvious that the fundamental remedy for such a condition is the enlightened understanding by parents of their political duties, duties never separated from their social obligations.

When we conceive of a state of affairs where children are permitted or even sometimes encouraged to impress on other children their superiority in material possessions, we see about as vulgar a school of opinion as could be conceived, but it is an opinion for which the responsibility rests not on the foolish children, but on their more foolish parents.—(Boston Herald.)

You may think him a hoax, you come and see.

A few who speak with you.

A few who speak with you.

But a man is speaking for you.

You father will see you really think you and the town and the state will be better off.

Judge Jean Norris Blames Lack of Religious Training—Most Cases Come From Middle Class

"New York City has as little commercialized vice today as has any of the best governed cities of the world," declared Judge Jean Norris, city magistrate, in a New York City speaking at the Old South Meeting House (from "The Family and the Girl Problem").

Twenty-two thousand families came into the family court last year asking for advice," declared Judge Norris. "Of this number 65 per cent were second-class, while $1,252,461 was paid from the court in alimony."

"Disrupted families are the cause of so many incorrigible girls today," added the magistrate. "If I were asked this question eight years ago I might have said drink and economic stress. There are, however, many other causes. Some of these are lack of control and consideration for others, religious difficulties, and more especially lack of religious training in the early youth. This latter is one of the most serious for the lack of respect for parents and law and other factors in life."

Some of the questions from the floor and answers made by the judge following this meeting were as follows:

Q.—Do most of the cases of vice come from the class of the poorer class?

A.—No. Most of the cases come from the middle class.

FOURTEENTH NIGHTS

The meeting on Monday, Jan. 12, will be a musical afternoon in charge of an organization of Boston Symphony Orchestra Players, called "The Musical Symphony Musicians."

MIXED BOWLING

Annual Culmet Tournament Will Start Next Tuesday

The annual mixed bowling tournament will open at the Culmet Club for this season next Tuesday night, when six of the 16 teams entered will have their first meeting. From then until the second week in April the teams will meet on two and three nights each week. This year's tournament will have 16 teams of eight bowlers each; a total of 128 bowlers.

The tournament will be governed by the usual rules. Two strings will constitute a match and the usual rating will be made at the close of the 5th and 10th matches. No substitutes for absentees will be allowed in this tournament.

There will be seven prizes, three team prizes and four individual. At the close of the tournament there will be a dinner, to be furnished by the eight lowest teams. The entries include many of the old bowlers as well as a number of new rollers. The majority of the ladies engaged are experts on the alleys and well equal to rolling even with the men, and as the bowling is carefully computed, the matches should be very close.

The tournament will be in charge of the bowling committee of the club—James P. Hogan, chairman, William Adriance, Marshall K. Barry, Henry W. Hildreth and Harry I. Pilkington.

WINCHESTER LOSERS TO CHELSEA

Winchester High School lost its first league basketball game of the season to Chelsea High, 27-20, in the high school gym Tuesday afternoon.

Chelsea was too good for the local boys. Its team was an experienced outfit of smooth working veterans, showing a nice passing game and having a couple of real sharpshooters at long range in Clark and Eric. These boys accounted for 19 points between them and it is safe to say that half of their goals were made on long shots from behind the center line. In particular Clark was doing the half of the game, and just about saved the visitors their winning edge. Chelsea played their men back, even though their center was getting the jump most of the time, and seemed perfectly willing to take their chances with long shots at the net. Their policy worked out well but many of their goals were heavily freighted with horse shoes.

It seemed that everything went through for them which is right in line with the old saw to the effect that the winning team always rests on the laurels. On the other hand couldn't seem to do anything right, and throughout the game was unable to get started. Even allowing that this was due in large part to the fact that Chelsea had a very effective defense, it was nevertheless apparent that the locals were away before the game that they showed against Wellesley and the Alumni.

It was one of those off days that come to every team, and it is unfortunate that it had to come when Coach Roberts' boys were hooking up with one of the strongest clubs on the circuit.

The half ended with Chelsea three up on an 18-12 count. The second period saw Winchester showing a much better defense against the visitors who were nearly able to nose out the locals 9-8. During the last quarter Coach Roberts substituted McAnley for Melley and sent in Kendrick for Bell, but the changes made little difference. With but a few minutes left to play Captain Taney had to leave the game for exceeding the number of personal fouls allowed by the rules, his place at right forward being filled by the return of Melley to the fray. Both Fine and Perkins of Chelsea were put out of the game for personal fouls.

Between the halves the Chelsea second team defeated the Winchester seconds, 33-13. The scores:

"BEYOND THE NORTHERN LIGHTS"

Large Audience Hears Captain MacMillan at Town Hall

A capacity audience greeted the Winchester appearance in the Town Hall last Saturday evening of the noted Arctic explorer, Captain MacMillan, and thoroughly enjoyed his celebrated lecture, "Beyond the Northern Lights," illustrated with some of the most picturesque and depicting life as he found it in the frozen North.

A large crowd had been assured from the earliest announcement of the lecture, yet even its most enthusiastic proponents would hardly have predicted that every reserved seat in the house would have been sold several days previous to Saturday, and that most of the rush seats would have gone before noon of that day. By 8 o'clock in the evening we doubt whether there were a dozen vacant seats in the hall, and Captain MacMillan's lecture was an enthusiastic reception when he made his appearance on the platform.

He was welcomed and introduced to his audience by the Rev. Leonard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church, though he really needed no introduction to many in the hall who were eagerly anxious to hear him again. Possibly some of his youthful hearers had expected the lecturer would be garbed in the picturesque attire worn in his Arctic travels and were consequently a bit disappointed when he appeared in conventional evening dress.

Captain MacMillan is a good voice and an informal manner which is wholly pleasing. Never throughout his talk does one get the impression that he is merely fulfilling a contract. He prefaced his lecture last Saturday with an interesting and graphic account of the hazards of Arctic exploration, describing the erection by his men of the National Geographic Society's bronze tablet which was placed upon a huge boulder, the story of what had once been a camp where several members of one ill fated expedition had starved to death, giving their lives to science. He touched upon the possibilities for extending our knowledge of the unexplored Arctic now that the lighter-than-air craft such as the Shenandoah has been proved practicable, claiming that by means of this type of airship new fields can be opened up and discoveries of immeasurable benefit to science made which under the methods previously employed would be impossible to achieve. Finally he spoke of the radio and what it has meant to the explorer, both scientifically and as a means of recreation.

Eight thousand feet of motion pictures were displayed, tracing the course of the lecture, and it would indeed be hard to imagine finer pictures. All were brimful of human interest, transporting one as they did to that strange land at the top of the world where the sun shines at midnight and the only traffic regulations are those laid down by the snow and ice.

Every picture had something about it to hold the interest of the observer and it would be difficult to select the most popular. To the writer the ones depicting a group of Norwegians, the so-called uncovers of the sea, and the taming of a baby Nuxuk and his apparent liking for his captors were particularly fine. Captain MacMillan himself expressed a preference for one of an Eskimo boatman doing rolls in ice water in his paper thin boat or kayak. There could be no doubting those which pleased the crowd.

Some chubby little Eskimo puppies, and a close-up of a newly born pup, both of which were greeted with enthusiastic applause.

Captain MacMillan closed his talk with the announcement that he would soon start again for the Arctic at the head of an expedition and did so expressed the hope that he might again have the privilege of addressing another Winchester audience.

His lecture was particularly interesting and was used to advertise his lecture in Winchester. Those posters which were placed upon the balconies of the town hall last Saturday were the work of Messrs. Sanford Lowe, Earl Hall, Lawrence Small and Elliott S. Lanes, all students at the Boston Art Museum. Another poster which aroused much favorable comment was that produced by Aaron MacMillan, a high grade school boy in the local schools. Now at the first four named at the close of his lecture Captain MacMillan congratulated the young men and expressed the hope that the MacMillan Company would purchase their posters to use as advertising in connection with his lecture tours.

The lecture, from the evening were in charge of Mr. James Nowell as head usher, and included Messrs. Carlisle W. Burton, Wayne B. Thompson, F. W. Reynolds, Mr. E. B. Swenson, Mr. Kenneth Caldwell were in charge of tickets. Preceding the lecture orchestral selections were played by the Lincoln Players' Club conducted by Mr. Walter L. Rice.

The committee was headed by Miss Margaret Elder as chairman and included Mrs. F. S. Scherer, Mr. Maurice F. Brown, Mrs. James Nowell, and Mrs. H. J. Chidley. While no announcement has been made as yet it is hoped that the lecture will realize a substantial sum which will be added to the Parish House Building Fund of the First Congregational Church.

THE MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION CORNER

The Executive Board of the Winchester Mothers' Association recommended that the following changes in Articles 3 and 4 of the By-Laws be voted upon by the members at the Annual Meeting, Jan. 21, 1925:

Article III—Officers.
The officers shall be a president, a vice-president, a secretary and a treasurer, to be elected annually. The Executive Board shall consist of these four officers, and Chapter heads selected by their respective Chapters; a program chairman, a library chairman, a social chairman, a social chairman and a home department chairman; those to be appointed by the president.

Article IV—Meetings.
Regular meetings of the Association shall be held three times a year. The first shall be in September, a Fathers' Night, which shall include a program and the discussion of the Superintendent of Schools and a reception to the teachers.

The second meeting shall be the annual meeting in January, when the officers shall be elected; the dues paid, and an entertainment given.

The third shall be the garden party in June.

Other meetings may be held when desired, either central or in Chapter Halls.

The Executive Board shall precede the regular meetings by one week.

Please call out this for reference and come prepared to vote. A full meeting is requested. There will be music by the Music Garden and a Social Hour.

Dues.
If our small annual fee of 25 cents can be promptly paid at the Annual meeting, it will be a favor to the Treasury.

Just a Simple Story.
The Rev. William L. Quinn, until recently Roman Catholic, Churchman at St. Mary's, where he had spent many years in close contact with convicts, tells a story which is a pointed sermon to parents. We repeat it, briefly.

A wealthy New York woman invited Father Quinn to her home to meet some other persons who, she herself, were, she told him, determined to help convicts back to normal civic existence. A young banker, a prominent young attorney, a prosperous business man, and a gentleman of means and leisure, were among the guests.

Father Quinn told the would-be benefactors that the gulf between them and convicts was too wide to be spanned. Priests and missionaries would result, and the convicts would hold either ridicule or fear for the helping hand stretched out to them. It was a brutal message, he admits.

Mr. Quinn, though, was the witness of a wealthy woman, Mr. Quinn had seen her hastily dismount from her car, who had come to the room to talk with him. She had hurriedly sent them off to a waiting room, and with their permission she had called in a nurse to attend to them. The nurse, however, had not been able to find them.

When the nurse told her she should not have been so certain that they were convicts, she had been told that they were not. He said that they were not. He said that they were not. He said that they were not.

The well-meaning woman was so shocked and surprised by what Father Quinn had said in the presence of her guests that she had been told that they were not.

She had been told that they were not. She had been told that they were not. She had been told that they were not.

She had been told that they were not. She had been told that they were not. She had been told that they were not.

WEST SIDE RESIDENCE ENTERED

A particularly daring piece of second-story work was successfully completed at the residence of Mr. C. Edwin Jennings on Church street Tuesday evening some time between the hours of 7:30 and 8:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Jennings were absent from home at the time, but two sons, Messrs. Winslow and Irving were in the house, together with the maid. A ship to arouse the suspicions of any of them was heard, but when one of the young men had come to the second floor of the house he found that one of the windows was open and that the fire was burning.

A young man, who had been told that the fire was not a fire, but a fire, was told that the fire was not a fire, but a fire.

MILK FOR THE WHOLE WORLD

A very charming and instructive health play, entitled "Milk for the Whole World," was given last week by a large group of children from the Lincoln School.

These children have been rehearsing for a time under the direction of Miss Mabel Swell, from the New England Food and Dairy Council, Boston. Mr. Wilson from Boston acted as piano accompanist. The splendid results recognized by all who were fortunate enough to witness this play, are a great credit to Miss Swell's ability and efforts.

The play centered around two Americans, "Mary" and "John" who were discussing what benefits they had derived from drinking milk. During their discussion they met "the Doctor" who, in turn, told them that milk was the best food for the body and that it was the only food that could supply the children of this country with milk. The Doctor went on to tell the boys and girls that the children of all countries are not as fortunate and do not have this same advantage, consequently, as in the case of the Japanese, they are a weak and undernourished people.

Groups of children appear in native costume of Japan, Iceland, Arabia, Holland and Italy. Each group, in turn, recites, sings, and dances the native dance of the country which they represent.

Miss Swell has visited these various countries and has secured the children that every detail in the costumes is absolutely authentic, which fact, made it all very realistic.

It was very interesting to see the amount of talent displayed by the children. Matthew Murray sang a very pretty soprano solo and Doris Lawson, a girl of twelve, danced with a delightful and delicate dance. The bright colored costumes of the Japanese were most impressive.

The clatter of the wooden shoes of the Dutch attracted the audience very much. The long black robes of the Arabs added dignity to the group. The white robes, lined with red, of the Chinese, and the white robes of the Japanese, gave a very pretty effect to the group. The group of children, dressed in the native costume of the various countries, were very well trained and gave a very good performance. The children of the various countries were very well trained and gave a very good performance.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

There is one advantage in keeping your mouth shut. Some one will give you credit for knowing something.Never give up your purpose, just because you find the road blocked; that is, in the end, the road that will lead you to success.When you rise in the morning greet the sun with a smile, and your day's work will be hal-dome.There is always two sides to every question. Get both, decide with accuracy.Yesterday a cloud of sorrow fell across the way; and it may rain tomorrow, but, gee its great today.

WHAT ABOUT THE RED FLAN-NELS?

The 19th century mother would turn over in the grave at the thought of the young people of today wearing the same underwear winter and summer. And yet this is not a harmful practice. We are living in overheated houses and offices. Heavy woolen underwear would cause perspiration which would be held in its pores and cause chills on going out.
Light underwear in winter is perfectly suitable for the labor worker.
It is recommended that heavy woolen outer garments are necessary out of doors. Another important point to remember is that whatever style of underwear is chosen at the beginning of cold weather should be worn until the end of winter.
Shifting back and forth from thick underwear is the cause of a strain on the body.

DOES IT WORK?

A practical and daily question.
When a machine is working well,
it saves a dividend because it supplies
a demand and satisfies a human need.
It is serviceable. Just so long as this machine fulfills these primary conditions it is returning service to the "running" order, but the moment it ceases to work well, because of the general progress of mankind becomes useless, outgrown and cast aside.
Because of this, because of the more highly developed machines can only meet the increasing demands. Modern machines are few and simple, but numerous and complex and compelling, so that the old machine is a spent force.

What we truly need in this world
we find in the world of science, education and religion. Historic theories of science, elaborate programs of education, and old time beliefs of religion, each has had a short or long time of duration, according to the failure or success to work well.
When unable to work well, they are discarded or later, they become a spent force, no longer capable of adapting themselves to meet the present demand of mental progress.

To repeat, if a scientific principle works well humanity keeps it and constantly uses it, if it ceases to produce adequate results it is discarded. And educational programs are short lived, they are not permanent, for astounding changes are going on every year in the field of education. Who is the educated person in these years, and what is more, woman, a few years hence? A thorough retraining process is going on in every department of activity.
Present indications are that this effing, eliminating process will continue.

Religion also has had its ardent and loyal supporters to set theories and forms of belief during the centuries. They have worked seasonably well and men have clung tenaciously to them, but their service has ceased to be of any use to me.
This is the pragmatic test which is being universally used. If a theory or belief works well keep it, if it ceases, but if it ceases to work well discard it for it has spent its force.
The old order, change yielding place to a new order, is a natural process, and it is a good custom to call a spade a spade.

Mrs. Lawrence H. Holden of Church street and 34 S. C. Dodson of Thompson street were drawn by the Salem last Monday evening as Traverse Jurors for the Superior Criminal Court in East Cambridge.

PLEASE ask yourself, and answer your question honestly, "How much did I spend unnecessarily last year that I could have now insured comfort for my family and self in additional Life Insurance and other conservative

EMBLEM CLUB NOTES

Initiation of new members was held at the club meeting last Wednesday evening, the ritualistic work being performed by our own staff.
This brings the membership roll up to about 80, and it is hoped before the year is over to bring it up to 100.
Mr. T. H. Fallon, Treasurer of Winchester Lodge of Elks, read a final report of the Carnival held last September. It was most gratifying to all present to learn that the sum credited to the Emblem Club made up a generous portion of the entire proceeds. Incidentally, nothing was omitted from Mr. Fallon's report of complimentary praise for the earnest work of the ladies.

Lunch was served by the following committee: Mrs. Mabel Price, chairman; Mrs. Mary Jacoby, Mrs.
Lillian Ledwith, Mrs. Abbie Mc-Donough and Mrs. Lilla Green. Mrs.
Clara Morrison entertained with songs and Miss Cleary with violin solos. Both received much applause.
They were accompanied on the piano
by Mrs. Anna W. Lechman, chairman of the Entertainment committee. Mrs.
Fallon, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Marion H. Gilman, gave several instrumental selections and played for dancing for the social hour which invariably follows every business session of the club.

On Wednesday evening, Jan. 28, in Lycium Hall, Mrs. Lilla Green, chairman of the Entertainment committee, will host a most interesting party for the benefit of home affairs. As Mrs.
Green is one of our most popular members, and as she has been given charge of the party by Marion H. Gilman, whose plans are not yet ready for publication.

Initiation is scheduled for the first meeting of February and an evening of dancing is expected. A more elaborate lunch is being planned. President of the club, Mrs. Mabel Price, will be assisted by Mrs. Mary Jacoby, Mrs. Lillian Ledwith, Mrs. Abbie Mc-Donough and Mrs. Lilla Green.

THE CALL OF OUTDOORS

"The Call of Outdoors" will be the subject of an illustrated talk on camping, hunting and fishing to be given under the auspices of the Mass. Club of the First Congregational Church by Mr. John B. Howard on Thursday evening, Jan. 22 at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Howard, a well known lecturer in a capacity, has been Vice and Rear Commanders of the American Association, and a record holder of several National and English records of endurance. As a lumberman he has been several miles in the trail craft and is amply qualified to speak with authority on hunting and fishing in the woods and in the rivers and lakes of Maine and Canada. His talk will contain information on the planning of trips into the woods, the various means of transportation and methods of carrying outfits as well as on various types of camps, shelters, camp fires, cooking routines, etc.

Mr. Howard will show the sport to make the old time "The "Hunt" time long to step into his boat and be off while the tenderfoot will be inspired to try his hand at following a canoe up the White River toward a Moose and a Birch Bark horn.

WINCHESTER PUBLIC SCHOOLS

School News

It's a long, long time we've waited for the new, new, new school.
But now it's here, and we're so glad to see it. We're so glad to see it. We're so glad to see it.
We're so glad to see it. We're so glad to see it. We're so glad to see it. We're so glad to see it. We're so glad to see it. We're so glad to see it. We're so glad to see it.

The above words were written by Kenneth West, the sixth grade of the Mystic school, and were sung to the tune of "There's a Long, Long Trail" by the sixth grade at the first assembly of the Mystic School on Friday.

John Houston, a member of the fifth grade has returned to school after several weeks of absence. He was called away from school for last week amounted to $142.

Children from the Lincoln School gave a very interesting little play in the new assembly hall illustrating the value of milk to growing children.

The Wadleigh Grammar School basketball team defeated the team of the Western Junior High of Somerville Wednesday afternoon at Somerville 19 to 13.

FINE ELECTRICAL EXPOSITION
SHOW TO OPEN AT WIN-CHESTER, JAN. 19Exposition of Interest and Value Fostered by Edison Light of Boston and Local Firms Free to Public

The Winchester Electrical Exposition will open at the Town Hall on Monday, Jan. 19 at 7:30 p. m., and a beautiful display of electrical goods brilliantly illuminated, with good stagnant music to welcome the crowd.
Edison Light of Boston has associated itself with local electrical dealers and contractors in an effort to bring to Winchester the best electrical display ever held here.

There will be many new and fascinating electric devices for the home and workshop. One feature which is of particular interest to women, will be the daily demonstration of Modern Methods Kitchen. This kitchen is equipped with an electric range, electric refrigerator, kitchen cabinet, sanitary table, a mixer and chopper, ironing board, washing machine, iron and clothes dryer. Many other time and labor saving devices will be on exhibition with a competent demonstration to explain their uses.

Aside from the electrical display booth, the Edison Company will maintain an illuminating engineer at the show to assist any who may be interested in better home illumination.

A special attraction will be radio broadcasting from the show, and splendid music furnished by a six piece orchestra on afternoons and evenings.

This exposition beginning Monday evening, Jan. 19, will continue every day throughout the week from 2 p.
m. to 10 p. m. We are sure the people of Winchester will find at this show good entertainment and something of value.

WTAT, The Edison Company's portable transmitter will do actual broadcasting from the show. This station recently created a great deal of interest at Mechanics Hall radio show, and those who have not seen a station doing actual broadcasting, should not miss this opportunity.

This electrical exposition is free to all.

This electrical exposition has been given to six towns on the Edison territory this season, and has created a great deal of comment and enthusiasm at the various showings. The aim of the show is to acquaint the public in general with the utility and service of electricity and to give them a knowledge of the over increasing number of electrical appliances used in home and industry.

Mr. J. J. Cullen, a student by William F. Warren and Warren & Cullen of Boston, light, have supervision of the exposition, insuring an orderly and attractive show and entertainment.

FOREIGNLY NOTES

The regular meeting of the nightly held Monday, Jan. 12 gave the members and their friends an opportunity to enjoy a very delightful musical program given by the Mabel Symphony and led by Frederick Malm who is by way of being the Dean of the first violins of the Symphony Orchestra. His conducting was characterized by in-conventional, but it achieved good results and the men were artists, each in his separate sphere.

The program consisted of the four delightful "Indian Love Lyrics" by Amy Woodforde Ffenden, their extraordinary of the East. These songs, "The Song of the Clouds,"
"The Song of the Wind," "The Song of the Rain," and "The Song of the Sun," played by Mr. Cullen in spite of the show being a true musical
and vocal performance.

The third number, "A Musical Interlude," by Mr. Cullen, was a very beautiful and original piece of music, played by Mr. Cullen in spite of the show being a true musical
and vocal performance.

The fourth number, "A Musical Interlude," by Mr. Cullen, was a very beautiful and original piece of music, played by Mr. Cullen in spite of the show being a true musical
and vocal performance.

The fifth number, "A Musical Interlude," by Mr. Cullen, was a very beautiful and original piece of music, played by Mr. Cullen in spite
of the show being a true musical

The eighth number, "A Musical Interlude," by Mr. Cullen, was a very beautiful and original piece of music, played by Mr. Cullen in spite of the show being a true musical
and vocal performance.

The ninth number, "A Musical Interlude," by Mr. Cullen, was a very beautiful and original piece of music, played by Mr. Cullen in spite of the show being a true musical
and vocal performance.

The tenth number, "A Musical Interlude," by Mr. Cullen, was a very beautiful and original piece of music, played by Mr. Cullen in spite of the show being a true musical
and vocal performance.

The eleventh number, "A Musical Interlude," by Mr. Cullen, was a very beautiful and original piece of music, played by Mr. Cullen in spite of the show being a true musical
and vocal performance.

The twelfth number, "A Musical Interlude," by Mr. Cullen, was a very beautiful and original piece of music, played by Mr. Cullen in spite of the show being a true musical
and vocal performance.

The 10th of the Federation recommends for our consideration will be presented by first-class speakers, and of note on their subject. There will also be a question period after each speaker. This part of the program is in the hands of our own staff, chairman, Mrs. Robert Cullen. Mrs. Cul-

C. D. OF A. NOTES

The whist, which was conducted on Tuesday afternoon, was a splendid success, socially and financially. In spite of the inclement weather a very large group of women was on hand to enjoy the whist and patronize the food, towel and apron sale. As a result of this party a goodly sum was raised which will increase the scope of work which has been planned for this year by the committee on edu-

VISITING NURSE ASSOCIATION BENEFITS

Under the will of the late William H. Mason the Visiting Nurse Association was left $10,000 for the establishment of a free hospital in memory of his wife, Mrs.
Elizabeth Maynard. Twenty-four organizations, many in Boston, received $100 each, these others received $500 and another $1000. Organizations to promote child welfare and reform societies received the largest bequests. The will was filed Tuesday and the estate was valued at half a million.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Several residents of the town reported to the police this week that a rather suspicious looking peddler had called at their homes offering some unprecedented values in sheeting and other white goods. The local department looked the man up, and warned him to get out of town.

Superintendent Quinn of the Winchester School Department has announced that there is no foundation for the rumor going in sheeting and other white goods. The rumor had been made in the town's teaching staff.
Mr. Quinn stated that no teacher's name had ever been under discussion.

Mr. John B. Howard, a former Congressman and well known canoe rader of the Medford Boat Club, is to be the speaker at the meeting of the Congregational Men's Club next Thursday evening, Jan. 22. He speaks upon the subject, "The Call of Outdoors."
The program will be a most interesting one, showing many fine pictures taken in the Canadian woods.

Mrs. Edward Flooding of Pond street has returned home from a visit to New York City. She and Mr. Flooding have as their guest Mr. John Guilford of Long Island, N. Y.

The Kane case has been received many complaints this week about children constantly on congested streets in various parts of the town. Most of the complaints have been for the serious injury or loss of life which is sure to follow a collision between an automobile and a kiddie on a swift moving road.

Christmas greetings from Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Crowley of Symmes
Mass. have been being longed for by Winchester friends this week. The Crowleys spent the holidays in Calcutta. They return to Winchester next summer.

The education committee was docked to come up in the Superior Court at East Cambridge Monday afternoon was again postponed. We didn't learn the reason this time.

While on her way to her home on Tremont street from the 5:30 p. m.
train Wednesday evening Miss Margaret Flynn was set upon by two German police dogs on Washington street near St. Mary's Church. Although not injured by the animals, Miss Flynn was badly frightened and reported the matter to the Winchester police who located the owners of the dogs, and laid the case before them.

Wednesday evening at 7:20 the local fire department received a call from a girl on Washington street that her pet cat had climbed a tree, and was unable to get down. Fireman Kimball and Callahan answered the call and rescued the kitty who true to form ran to the highest limb of the tree as soon as efforts were made to get her. Her owner was determined to get her pet again.

Mr. George F. Arnold, Winchester Chamber of Commerce.

I have your letter of Jan. 2, relating to obtaining an appropriation for the new post office at Winchester.
I don't very much that a public build-

VOL XLIV NO. 28

WINCHESTER, MASS., FRIDAY, JANUARY 23, 1925

PRICE SEVEN CENTS

TO THE 6000 CITIZENS WHO HAVE NOT YET SUBSCRIBED TO THE WAR MEMORIAL.

January 19, 1925

May we call your attention to the splendid support some 1600 of your fellow citizens have given this committee in its endeavor to carry out the vote of the town passed at the last annual town meeting. This vote was so nearly unanimous at a town meeting so largely attended, that we feel we are entitled to the support of all public-spirited citizens in our endeavor to have erected in this town a memorial to our citizen soldiers that would be worthy of them and of what we sometimes boastfully style ourselves—the finest town north of Boston.

From the tables given below you will see what has been done and if you do as well as those who have already subscribed, we shall be able to complete the task assigned to us without a deficit and with 1500 still left who do not subscribe at all, which seems to us to be a liberal allowance for those who ought not to be asked to subscribe and for those who for one reason or another do not wish to subscribe.

That there may be no misunderstanding of our plans, we wish to state positively that we shall not ask the town to vote anything by taxation to complete this work, for two reasons, either of which would be sufficient: (1) the town voted once not to be taxed for this purpose; and (2) it would be unjust to ask those who have already liberally contributed to make up for those who have not contributed at all.

We have arranged the contributors for 1924 by classes in one table and in another we show the number needed in each class to complete this patriotic duty. Will you not kindly decide, without further solicitation on our part, in which class you wish to enlist and forward your subscriptions at once to the treasurer, Robert E. Fay, 36 Park Avenue, either in cash or by pledge to be paid at some time convenient for you on or before October 1st, 1925?

It is our purpose to keep the expenses of this campaign down to the lowest possible figure. Up to the present time they are less than $150, entirely for stationery, stamps, and the necessary cards for the proper records needed by the treasurer. It is our hope that the interest received from the banks where the subscriptions are put on deposit, before the funds are needed under the contract with the sculptor, will at least equal the total expense necessary for the work of this committee. So please send in your subscriptions early and thus help pay the expenses.

WINCHESTER WAR MEMORIAL COMMITTEE

MASS MEETING

The mass meeting of the Florence Crittenton League is being held this year in the parlors of the Hotel Vendome, on the afternoon of Monday, Jan. 26, at 8 p. m. Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, national president of the Boston League, will preside and introduce the two speakers, Miss Henrietta Addison, the executive secretary of the Big Sister Association of Philadelphia, and Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, national president of the National Florence Crittenton League, whose offices are in Washington, D. C. Tea will be served after the meeting and four prominent Boston women will pour, Mrs. George R. Feering, Mrs. Robert F. Herrick, Mrs. Guy Currier, and Mrs. Marion L. Higgins, all of whom are directors of the league and active workers.

Mrs. Carl Swan, a mezzo soprano, will open the meeting with a group of songs.

Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, national president, has been associated with Florence Crittenton for nearly 40 years and was closely associated with Mr. Crittenton before his death. She not only thoroughly understands the work of the National organizations, but for many years has been affiliated with all agencies working with girls and with many other organizations. In 1913 she was sent on the United States Commission to study the girl problem in Europe and in the same year as a member of International Conference for the abolition of White Slave traffic in London. She is an ex-president of the National Council of Women and in 1919 was sent on the International Council for women meeting in Bern, Switzerland. She is a past Regent of the D. A. R. of Virginia and has recently been made an honorary member of Phi Beta Kappa Society.

All members and friends of the Winchester circle are cordially invited to attend this interesting mass meeting.

TAXI AND FORD BUMP

A Yellow Cab owned by the Somerville Taxi Company and operated by Fred J. Oliver of 325 Broadway, Somerville, figured in a collision with a Ford sedan owned and operated by Frank J. White of 6 Glenwood avenue on Main street at Sheridan circle at 11:55 p. m. Wednesday. The cab was headed north and the sedan going south along Main street at the time of the accident. With White in the sedan were William Flynn and Joseph Haggerty, both of Winchester. The two machines were somewhat damaged. No one was reported injured.

ACTORS ALL

STILLMAN P. WILLIAMS

Senior-Junior Class Play Pleases

The Senior and Junior Classes of the Winchester High School presented "Thank You," a three-act comedy by Winchell Smith and Tom Cushing, at the Town Hall last Saturday evening. A good sized audience seemed well pleased with the work of the young actors.

There can be no denying the popularity of the annual "Class Play." It has long been one of the events of Winchester's winter season. Some especially fine productions have been enjoyed in past years, and last Saturday's effort was fully up to the average.

"Thank You" calls for some rather clever work on the part of its cast. It is not a play abounding in action, like last year's "Believe Me Xantippe." It depends almost entirely for success upon the cleverness of its lines, and a less fortunate cast might well have found its efforts dragging with a production of this nature. The two and one-half hours to run off.

MASQUERADE WHIST

Miss N. E. M. Sullivan anticipated entertaining her whist club in the usual manner when it became her turn to play hostess on last Monday evening. Imagine her surprise upon answering the doorbell, to see a strange collection of foreign ladies and gentlemen, sheiks, shepherds, mummies and black-faced comedians, all come prepared to entertain their regular hostess in the most approved old-time manner.

Led by their troubadour band of six pieces, the party entered and took possession of the house. An evening of gaiety and mirth then ensued to the delight of the appreciative hostess and her family. The fact that the whist club went to all this trouble to make this particular night such a pronounced success is just one further proof of the great affection that all the members feel for Miss Sullivan.

Among the members that deserve especial mention as adding greatly to the success of the entertainment were: Mrs. Lilla Green, Hawaiian entertainer, whose native costume and native songs gave all present a vivid picture of life on those interesting islands; Mrs. Bernice Gorman in her very finished "Vamp" act; Mrs. Gertrude Horn, dressed as a Page, and second to none in her well-received Cakewalk; and Mrs. Emma Cullen, who attired as a lady of 1861 rendered a most effective solo of the War Days.

After whist and the serving of refreshments all present voted Miss Sullivan's whist evening the "best ever."

WINTON CLUB CABARET SATURDAY

The Winton Club Cabaret takes place on Saturday evening, Jan. 31. The doors open at 7:30 p. m. The entertainment starts promptly at 8 p. m. After that time no one is to be ushered to their seats except between the scenes. All floor tickets have been sold. There are still a few balcony tickets left. Each order for these accompanied by checks will be filled by Mrs. G. N. Proctor, 37 Cabot street.

Miss Stacey of Chestnut street entertained 12 guests at a dinner and dance at her home Thursday. The decorations were sweet peas and pinks. She received some very nice gifts.

Resident of Winchester, Graduate of Harvard '97 and Identified With Many Business Interests

Stillman P. Williams died of pneumonia at his home Sunday, after a brief illness. He was born in Boston in 1874, graduated from the Roxbury Latin School in 1893, and from Harvard College in 1897. He was a son of the late Robert B. Williams of Roxbury.

In 1906 he married Miss Frances Ropes of Salem, who survives him with four children, Constance, Robert B., Stillman P. Jr., and Louise K. Williams. He also leaves a mother, Mrs. Robert B. Williams, three sisters, Miss Mary E., Miss Ellen M., and Miss Susan Williams of Roxbury, and two brothers, Horace D. H. Williams of Milton and Holden P. Williams of Wellesley Hills.

Mr. Williams was a director in the Commercial Wharf Company, the Granite Railway Company and one of the proprietors of Boston Pier or the Long Wharf. He was a trustee of the Winchester Savings Bank, vice president of the Winchester Home for Aged People, and a member of the Winchester Unitarian Church, a former member of the School Board, and trustee for a number of estates.

He was a member of the Harvard Club of Boston, the Harvard Union, the Appalachian Mountain Club and the Winchester Country Club.

Mr. Williams never forgot his school associations. Instances of his loyalty to the Roxbury Latin School were many. He was a generous giver of time and money to its needs, and at the time of his death was actively at work in a campaign for providing a new building and an additional endowment for the school to which he was so deeply attached.

Mr. Williams' natural modesty of oftentimes concealed from all except his most intimate friends a sympathetic and generous spirit which showed itself in a truly rare degree in all his undertakings and interests. Those who knew him best will miss his loyal friendship, and those who knew him less well will miss his wise counsel in the public service to which he was often called.

The funeral was held at the residence of Highland avenue on Tuesday afternoon. Rev. George Hale Reed minister of the Winchester Unitarian Society conducted the service.

DR. MARIANNA TAYLOR TO SPEAK

Will Lecture Before Wyman Chapter of Mothers' Association

The speaker for the February meeting of the Wyman Chapter of the Mothers' Association is Dr. Marianna Taylor of the Boston Psychopathic Hospital. Dr. Taylor has been associated with the hospital for three years. Two years ago she made a thorough and detailed survey through all kinds of clinics in the Metropolitan District to determine what are the most common mental and emotional abnormalities among children. Something of the results of her study and of her experience in correcting these disturbances of mind she will tell at the Wyman Chapter meeting under the topic, "Everyday Problems in the Mental Hygiene of Childhood." The meeting, which is to begin with a short musical program, is scheduled for Feb. 3, at 3:30 p. m., in Wyman Assembly Hall. It is an open meeting, as is usual with the Wyman Chapter. Everyone interested is cordially invited to be present.

BABY BOY STRANGLED WHILE TAKING NAP

The 13 months old baby son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Milne of Pickering street died sometime before noon Wednesday from being strangled by a strap stretched across the bassinet in which he had been put by his mother for a nap. The little boy had been playing about his home during the morning and had been put to bed at about 10 o'clock, a strap being arranged across his little crib as usual to prevent his getting out. At noontime Mrs. Milne who had heard no previous disturbance went upstairs and found her baby unconscious. Apparently he had attempted to get out of his bassinet and in some way had become entangled in the strap which tightened about his neck and strangled him.

Dr. Joyce of Woburn was sent for at once while Chief Charles R. McCauley and officer Dever of the Woburn Police rushed to the Milne house with the police pulmonologist. All efforts, however, to resuscitate the little boy failed.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at the home of the child's parents at 2 p. m. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery, Montvale.

WINCHESTER GIRLS PLAY TODAY

The Winchester High School girls' basketball team will open its regular schedule this afternoon in the local gymnasium where they will oppose Waterbury. Winchester has split evenly in two practice battles thus far, defeating Everett at Everett and losing to Reading at home. The latter game served to show Coach Brissella Wheeler and his team that they and the locals will present a much stronger front against Waterbury as a result of its work this week. Game will start at 3:30 p. m.

BROCKTON TAKES WINCHESTER

Winchester High 12 to 10, Brockton in a league basketball game, 20 to 12, at the local gym last Friday evening. The visitors who are at present leading the Intercollegiate Basketball League after taking the championship last year, brought up a crack quintet of basket shooters, and led by their star all-around athlete, "Red" Creighton, proved much too good for the local boys. Last Friday's contest marked the first taken from Winchester by Brockton on the local floor in three seasons.

Creighton was the big nose for the visitors and he surely ranks with the best in the schoolboy game. He was all over the floor, scoring 10 points on four goals and five free ones. Chisholm, left forward, also tossed in four goals from the floor, but Creighton's hands were not enough to have beaten Winchester.

The local sharpshooters were unable to get very close to the Brockton team, and were forced to depend on their long shots which unfortunately just wouldn't bounce in. Tansey and Rolli both tossed some close ones at the boys but it wasn't their night. When Tansey goes through a game without scoring a floor goal Winchester is going to lose. Make a memo of that fact for future reference, and that's just what happened to the star captain of the locals last Friday. But Melly got the only goal from the floor for Winchester, and was high scorer with seven points. Both he and Tansey were put out of the game for personal fouls, and several of Brockton's players suffered a similar fate. The visitors' replacements, however, in no way weakened their team's effectiveness.

The first half was close all the way with Brockton edging the locals by two baskets at 10 to 6. The second half however was a different story, the visitors running up 20 points with Winchester able to score only another half-dozen. The boys have no alibi to offer. They were simply beaten by a better club, and by one which stands an excellent chance to again annex league honors.

Between the halves Brockton's second team overhauled the Winchester second 26 to 2.

An assembly of unusual interest was held in the High School hall Tuesday morning when the Winchester High School Dramatic Society presented a stage curtain to the school. The curtain, which is of handsome dark blue velvet with tan lining, has just been installed by the Hoyt Company at a cost of between $400 and $500.

Virginia Farnham, president of the society, was in charge of the program. She first presented Mr. Quinn, who gave an inspiring talk on the development of personality and of sympathetic understanding of others. Hollbrook, Lowell, and Harold Brown, and forth in an entertaining manner the chief facts with regard to the history of the society and the purchase of the curtain. After selections by the High School orchestra Miss Farnham formally presented the curtain to the school. In her speech she emphasized the splendid spirit of co-operation which the society had shown in all its activities and which had made possible its success. Mrs. Grinn, secretary of the school, pointed out the increased value of the curtain, representing, as it does, student effort and loyalty.

The Winchester High School Dramatic Society was organized two years and a half ago, and is under the faculty supervision of Mrs. Marion N. Weeks. From the first it has had as one of its aims the purchase of a stage curtain. Through its three public performances, "The Voyage of Dr. Perrichon," "Twelfth Night," and "The Importance of Being Earnest," the necessary sum has been raised, and the society has taken upon itself to contribute the amount before the end of the school year.

READING DEFEATS WINCHESTER

Reading High girls proved too good for Winchester at basketball Monday afternoon in the local gymnasium taking an interesting game from the locals, 22 to 10. The visitors showed superior passing game, and had in their left forward, E. Fowler, a real crack shot. This player came within one point of equalling Winchester's record, but the visitors were unable to work out a defense that could hold her safely. Winchester put up a good game, and with a little more work on passing will give a good account of itself. "Slip" Stillman, left forward, was high scorer for the home club with five goals from the floor and three free ones. The game was a terrific one, arranged to give the local girls a test before their first regular engagement, which comes next Wednesday evening.

ELECTRICAL EXPOSITION ENDS SATURDAY EVENING

The electrical exposition given under the auspices of Edison Light and local firms will close its week's run in the Town Hall at 10 p. m. Saturday. Exhibits have been given daily from 2 to 10 p. m. and will continue until that time. The show has been very well attended, with the exception of Tuesday evening when the inclement weather kept most of the town's folks in their homes. The management is expecting its largest crowds on Friday and Saturday, and urges every one to avail himself of the opportunity still open to visit the show.

The layout of the hall is attractive, and the decorations will with a trip down town to see. Particularly beautiful is the colored electrical panel in the center of the floor, the first thing to strike the eye upon entering the hall. Each evening a musical program is given by "Chick" Storey's Bostonian Orchestra and the Duo-Art piano.

The object of these shows as stated by the management, and it might be said that there have been 25 of them since 1923, is to bring to the attention of the public the latest features in electrical labor saving devices and to stimulate business in the suburbs of Boston. The next exhibit will be at the Brightline Club, Allston, on Saturday.

Exhibiting at the local show are the Landryette Sales Service, L. G. Newton of Woburn, Electric Light, Washington Co., Brighton, Frank Ferdinand, The Stenect Due Art Firm, Edison Light of Boston, W. G. Stratton of Woburn, A. Anderson of Woburn, E. C. Sanderson of Winchester, L. C. O'Neil of Woburn, Edison Ship display-demonstration of violet ray, Modern Methods Kitchen of Mass. Electric, Lahan & Erickson of Arlington, Teleph. Woburn Club Co. of Ashland, G. E. Motors and Radiant & Gramham of Boston.

Unfortunately it was impossible to bring the local broadcasting station WJAT to Winchester as advertised. This station has always been a favorite of the exhibitors, and the management regrets its inability to have it here. The set has been loaned to the local station, and will be on the air after the show.

Decorations for the show are by A. J. Hazlett of Cambridge, and the wiring by E. C. Sanderson of this town.

Mr. J. J. Callahan, assistant to the general superintendent of the Edison Light of Boston, is in general charge of the Winchester exhibit with Mr. Frank E. Randall, well-known district manager for Edison Light in town.

Monday morning's fire was at the residence of E. F. Frayser at 104 North Richmond street. It was the result of an overheated oven, and although there was considerable damage, in the house the damage was not too great.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

The real character and proportions of a man cannot be concealed.
If you do or say something which injures a man, your act will affect many men.
When we lose control of our passions, our passions will control us.
If a bad habit gets hold of you, conquer it today, you can get rid of it easier than you can tomorrow.
No man can squander smiles. Every smile by you will make some other fellow smile.
An evil acquaintance will make a good man bad, and influence the bad to worse.

Perhaps one of the most unique services ever held in a church was that which took place at the First Congregational Church last Sunday morning when 25 fishermen, friends of Mr. Chidley, attended the church service in a body, as a reunion, and token of respect to a dear comrade, Frank Wendall Gray, of Exeter, N. H. Mr. Gray, who was a member of the church, also provided the decorations for the pulpit, consisting of 25 dozen carnations and exclamation points, from Mr. Chidley. Mr. Gray supplied and arranged this group of men was not together under the direction of Mr. Charles A. Lane, whose father, Mr. John A. Lane, of Maine, has become an annual feature in Mr. Chidley made special reference in his sermon to the life of one of the most famous fishermen, and also paid a beautiful tribute to Mr. Gray. Altogether it was a most impressive and inspiring service. This is the second year when such a service has been held, and the group, year by year, grows larger. We doubt whether there is another church in the country which conducts such a service and is so well known to the community as the church in which it is held and the entire town.

Once more our Town appears to be right at the point of the world. The Herald may be any criterion and the protest of the Roxbury Civic League, worthy of consideration! There has arisen a feeling of regarding the word "memorial" and without doubt we shall soon have a more definite understanding of its meaning and proper use in the perpetuation of the memory of our World War heroes. Some people are evidently beginning to question the fitness and propriety of erecting a utilitarian project a memorial. Winchester's choice does not come under the term "memorial," for we are erecting a "memorial" in every form of the word. The Herald's editorial of Wednesday morning follows:

THE WORD "MEMORIAL"

We sympathize strongly with the Roxbury Civic League in its protest against incorporating the word "Memorial" into the name of the new building of the Roxbury High School on the Williams estate. Such edifices are utilitarian and have no sense. The city would have to erect them anyway. Is it not in these circumstances a doubtful compliment to the boys of the Roxbury High School who gave their lives in the World War, to perpetuate their memory in so inexpensive a way?

We look with a deal of suspicion on the utilitarian memorial. When we cross the bridge thus designated from Portsmouth and Kittery, we wonder why the city of the states concerned would have built that structure had they not intended it as a memorial to the boys of the Roxbury High School who gave their lives in the World War, to perpetuate their memory in so inexpensive a way?

There is a satisfaction in this world, the purely idealistic memorial like that to Abraham Lincoln on the banks of the Potomac. It can have no other conceivable use than to do honor to his memory, unless perhaps, incidentally, to keep alive a perception of the beauty which was of the Greeks.

This seems more genuinely a memorial than would be a new subway under Capital Hill, if the time ever came when circumstances forced such a construction.—[Herald]

GREY PERSONALITIES

A great life leads has just passed away. Whatever the individual contribution may be, pro or con, about this leader and his method of serving the cause of labor, there is no doubt that he was a great personality, exercising a wonderful influence over a large army of working people. History repeats itself. It is the old story of the centuries, that whenever should be reiterated until results are obtained.

We quote "A woman's stock in trade of woe and sorrow is only about eight hundred; but oh! what a turnover."

The words ADEQUATE INSURANCE FOR A FAMILY PROTECTION

conditions are favorable for a vigorous leader to take the reins and move forward, the right man appears, and after a thorough organization he loyally carries out his duties. He trains his disciples and followers to pursue the same course and prepare others to bear the torch and advance until the great ideas and purposes are finally achieved. Possessing intelligence, will-power and drive these leaders advance over amazing difficulties, and are willing to leave their ease, for better or worse, to future historians.

The mills of God grind slowly but they grind exceedingly small. Truth is an accurate arbiter. Gross vanishes, gold remains. So with an idea or a purpose, the false idea, the weak purpose soon vanishes, while the fact and stern reality abide. The glory of man is seen in his honest search for a false vision and a timeless reality. The center and power of a great movement beneficial to humanity is a commanding personality, in fact every enterprise is a triumph to some enthusiastic, perhaps a labor leader or captain of industry, an educator or scientist, an editor or literary genius, a statesman or philosopher, a lawyer or preacher. Scattered along the centuries of time are great souls, true prophets of the mind and the new order of things. The names of the most noted scholars of England, while a student at Eton, was a lazy youth, but one day on the campus he formed an acquaintance with a girl named, and that changed him, and saved him from worse things. Great are ideas but personalities are greater, and the supreme Personality is our Lord and Savior whose radiant glory has created a Christian civilization.

A REVIEW OF THE SCHOOL BUILDING DEVELOPMENTS 1919-1925

As many people whose children are now attending the new school in Winchester are not familiar with the situation when the discussions which have taken form at last in these new buildings began, it may be of interest at this time to review briefly the succession of events.

The building of the schoolhouses is a tangible expression of one part of the discussion. The other part of the discussion is the less tangible question as to how the school should be organized, the educational policy of our Town's educational system. Both discussions went on at the same time and it may properly be said that the settlement which crystallized itself in the replacement of old buildings by new was, to a considerable extent, a development of the settlement of the popular mind on our educational problem as a whole.

During the last year of the war, when a tidal wave of change came to our men and women had time to think of something besides what was happening over seas. The school building discussions began to take place in Town as to the relative excellence of our school situation as compared with other schools in the State. The conditions were similar to our own.

At first, as I have said, the discussions did not particularly concern the building of the school. The Superintendent of Schools, at that time, Mr. John R. Fahey, in his report for 1918, referred to the Town in 1919, as it referred to the physical defects of our elementary school buildings, particularly their being small and not well distributed, necessitating the shifting of pupils from school to school. He called attention also to the fact that with the exception of the Walden School all the buildings were of wood, built as follows: the Prince in 1865; the Wyman in 1866; the Chapin in 1875, enlarged in 1885; the Gifford in 1889; the Gifford in 1890; the Wyman in 1893; the Washington in 1895; the Mystic in 1907; and pointed out the need for a new school building to keep in repair, costly to heat, difficult to ventilate, with a high degree of danger from fire, inferior lighting and bad sanitation. The school building had been built from time to time as the community grew and under such circumstances could naturally bear no primary reliance on the school. It was suggested that it might be worth while to consider replacing the buildings with modern structures on a comprehensive plan.

The educational problem rather, however, I again repeat, was the motion picture. The school building, the three before the action which was the first incident in the chain of events which has led up to this completion of the four-building program, for one of our citizens, Mr. Frederic S. Snyder, in his desire to set something in motion to see what, if anything, really was the nature of the problem, telegraphed from Washington, where he was then doing war work with Mr. Lloyd Garrison, a letter to the Building Committee suggesting that a committee be appointed to get the facts. The chairman of the Finance Committee at that time, Mr. William L. Parsons, offered them, at the March meeting in 1919; a motion which at a subsequent session was amended by a motion from Mr. Snyder, and from these motions resulted the appointment of the Committee of Fifteen which under the vote was to consist of both men and women living in the Town to consider the advisability of having an educational survey of the public school system of the Town made with a view to improving the same "or of taking any other action with respect to the public schools."

The committee organized with Mr. Maurice F. Brown, chairman and Berta G. Thompson, secretary. There were some changes in the committee from time to time and first and last it consisted of the following:

The Committee of Fifteen considered the criticisms directed against the schools, suggestions for their improvement and the advisability of having a technical survey of the schools. Their report was very interesting, being based on various questionnaires to parents and teachers. As a result of their work the United States Bureau of Education made a survey of the Winchester Schools published in a pamphlet of nearly 200 pages. They went exhaustively into all factors of the educational situation and in the course of their report spoke of the buildings in connection with the buildings themselves. They made various recommendations regarding a new building program, stressing particularly the advisability of a Junior High School. They said "All of the elementary school buildings are small, old and entirely without modern school facilities. There is not an auditorium in any of these schools. In spite of the fact that Winchester is wealthy, it has provided no adequate playgrounds for its children. In other words, the schoolhouses of Winchester are still the little red schoolhouses of olden days with 'C' in the way of equipment for the children's education." The government survey was not published until 1921, but advance sheets of the investigation were available for the school committee and the information made known to interested citizens considerably earlier than the actual publication of the survey.

In March, 1920, following the work of the Committee of Fifteen another committee had been appointed consisting of seven: Mr. Maurice F. Brown, chairman, Mr. Higgins, Mr. Root, Mr. Preston Root, from the Planning Board, and the three members of the School Committee. Mr. Henry S. Chandler, Mr. Robert F. Gifford and Mr. Stillman P. Williams. This committee was at work during the time when the preparation of the Government survey for publication was in process. It had the advantage of seeing that part of the survey which dealt with buildings and to give careful consideration to the survey's findings.

The Committee of Seven, headed by Mr. Brown, offered a motion for the creation of a new Junior High School building in Bannock. This motion was passed by a vote of 216 to 182, but as a two-thirds vote was required for passage, the motion was lost. A committee of nine, to report at a later Town meeting. This committee consisted of Mr. R. E. M. Chidley, who resigned and was replaced by Mr. Robert E. Fay, Mr. Joseph E. Ryan, Mr. George C. Cott, Mr. James J. Fitzgerald, Mr. Daniel H. Walker, together with two members of the Board of Selectmen and two members of the School Committee. This committee was definitely assigned to study the Junior High School problem.

At the same time, however, the realization by the Town that only one school building, the Gifford, had a fire escape, led to the appointment of a special committee on fire protection. This committee consisted of Messrs. Albert M. Chandler, chairman; David H. Chandler, George H. Hayward, Nathaniel M. Nichols and Edward E. Watt. This committee was organized in April, 1921, and held its first meeting in June, 1921, which led up to a special Town meeting on June 25, at which $27,000 was appropriated for the fire escape.

At that same June special meeting a vote was passed to appoint a committee of seven voters, two of whom were to be from the Junior High School, to study the question of fire protection. The Town prior to the next Annual Town Meeting a comprehensive school building program with specific recommendations as to new buildings, location for the same, the disposition of the present buildings and sites and all other matters relating to the school. This committee was appointed consisted of Messrs. Marcus B. May, James W. Blackman, Richard M. Scholten, Mr. Frederic S. Snyder, Mr. Faith S. Frederic and Mrs. Myra I. Higgins. Messrs. Blackman, Derby and Snyder were unable to attend the committee elected in their places Messrs. Albert M. Chandler, James Nowell and Ralph T. Hale.

Following the School Building Program Committee, studied the situation, held many public hearings, so that the question of new school buildings was thoroughly discussed, and the Town was agitated at the same time. They made their report in March, 1922, and later a supplementary report. At the session of the 1922 Annual Town Meeting the Town voted to appropriate $25,000 for a new building program, consisting of four new schools in the Wyman, Chapin, Rumford and Mystic Gifford districts. The School Building Committee was organized in July, 1922, with Mr. James S. Allen, chairman; Harry C. Sanborn, secretary; Edward H. Kenneron, Albert M. Chandler, Mr. Frederic S. Snyder, Mr. Stella R. Root. At the end of the summer Mr. Chandler resigned and Mr. Frederic S. Snyder and Mr. Root resigned from the School Building Committee which elected in has placed Mr. Ralph T. Hale, Mrs. Root served on the committee during the greater part of its five year tenure when her term as a member of the School Committee came to an end and in March, 1924, the School Committee elected her to the place on the Building Committee. Mr. Maurice C. Thompson.

The Wyman School was started in November, 1922, by the contractor, James Nicholson Company, the first of its kind having been occupied in the preparation and approval of the plan of the building. Messrs. K. L. Hale, Hopkins and Greeley. The winter of 1922 and 1923 was a particularly severe one and not very much money was made in the structure until the spring of 1923 when the building rapidly took shape.

In the meantime, plans had been under consideration for a new school in the Rumford district, the architects being Charles G. Loring and Kitchin, Parsons and Taylor, respectively. It became advisable to recommend a change of site for the new Chapel which was voted at the Annual Town Meeting of 1923. This change of site reduced the actual cost of the land to about $19,000 instead of the estimated cost of $36,000 and the sum of over $25,000, therefore, by available for construction, though this was not the primary reason for the change in the site. With the question of site reduced to the building of the new name the Lincoln School thus settled, the committee proceeded to the completion of plans for both the Lincoln and the Rumford schools.

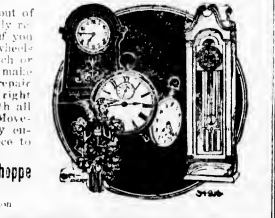

In June, 1924, the committee voted to choose an architect and proceed with plans for the Mystic School. The firm of Kitchin, Parsons and Taylor was selected and the plans were considered during the summer and autumn of 1924.

In the meantime, in January, 1924, the committee found that although the building of the Lincoln School had been originally allotted to the Mystic School, it was not sufficient to justify their signing a contract with the architect. The committee, with the rise of building costs the erection of the building at the figure originally estimated for it would have meant the unwelcome sharing of its facilities in several directions. The policy of the Committee throughout was to carry out the recommendations of the School Building Program Committee and to hold the sum of money given in the Program Committee's estimate for each school entire, separate from the money set aside for any other school—in other words, not to borrow from one school's appropriation to help out on the completion of another; but in the case of any school, it should be found that the sum appropriated was not sufficient, to go to the Town frankly and say, rather than to cut down on the building. Furthermore, as no definite appropriation was made for the construction and equipment of playgrounds and as large playgrounds necessarily involve special treatment and expert judgment, the Committee did not feel it wise to borrow from building money for the general grading of playgrounds.

The Committee has done some grading, April 1, 1925, was the low point in building costs, over a period of years and with the railroad and coal strikes in 1922, material prices advanced to a point where the building of the Wyman School was signed within six or seven months after the vote was passed, the cost was $57,000, but the actual cost of the building was $42,000, or a 25 per cent saving.

The original estimate included furniture, but the committee has decided to have the furniture purchased by the school. We have made use of existing furniture, refurnishing it and repairing it. This has saved a good many thousands of dollars in the building of the school. We have also made use of blackboards from the old buildings, and of course we picked up $25,000 by the saving on the site of the Lincoln School. The Lincoln School, however, contains one more progress classroom than was contemplated. This committee is now considering entering Americanization work, which was not contemplated. It contains shower baths, as does the school building, which were not contemplated, and all of the schools have various additional features which were not originally planned.

The situation which confronted us on the Mystic School made immediate action advisable. At a special Town Meeting in January, 1924, therefore, the Town voted an additional $15,000 and the contract was then signed with Mr. Alexander who began work early in April as soon as the ground was in shape to be dealt with. The erection of the school has proceeded rapidly and the Committee formerly accepted the building from the contractor in December, 1924, and turned it over to the School Committee, so that it has been occupied since the beginning of the new calendar year, Jan. 5, 1925.

The cost of the Mystic School was approximately $17,000 for the land and $102,500 for all above the land, a total of $119,500. The school was originally contemplated was to consist of a kindergarten, six standard classrooms, an auditorium and teachers' and principal's offices. As it happened, the location of the building on the lot which was finally decided upon after several other land sites were considered made possible the addition of a seventh classroom of practically no additional expense. In other words, this classroom, so to speak, appeared on the plans because if you have four rooms, you must necessarily have something under them and it was less complicated to have four rooms than three, to say nothing of being less expensive.

Figures of the costs of the other buildings have already been given on previous occasions. The aggregate cost of the land for the four sites was $65,000. The cost of the four buildings, including construction, equipment, architects' fees, grading, and all other expense amounted to $487,000. The four buildings are done and the Committee feels that its work is over. It is glad to be able to say that after the final bills for the Mystic School come in during the next month or two, there will be a small balance left out of the appropriated amount of $555,000.

WHEREAS certain instruments purporting to be the last will and testament and the will of said deceased have been presented to said Court for probate, and it is the duty of said Court to determine whether the same should be admitted to probate.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks, in the Winchester Star a newspaper published in Winchester the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court, and by mailing postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, GEORGE F. LAWTON, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this twentieth day of January, in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five.

C. D. OF A. NOTES

The lecture which was given on Thursday evening of last week at the William J. Noonan School was the second success. The lecturer, Rev. William M. Stinson, S. J., impressed all who heard him as one who had made a deep and careful study of his subject, and one who was able to impress all present with the seriousness of his nature. The pictures, all copies of old masters, were especially interesting, the lovely soft colors, blending harmoniously in their old world settings. School have more beautiful pictures have been seen on a screen. The effect of the whole picture and the accompanying lecture may be well summed up in the words of one of our guests: "No one could attend this lecture and not come away the better for it."

Following the lecture our honorary member, Miss Mary Richards, in a charming manner that is all her own, gave us a delightful resume of her recent trip to England, France, Switzerland and Germany. Especially interesting was her account of her experiences in Rome and the many old landmarks and historical scenes that she visited. And her vividly descriptive account of her party's audience with the Holy Father made one almost feel that he were present.

We are looking forward to another talk by Miss Richards at one of our meetings in the near future.

All members who are planning to attend the Thure Party which is scheduled to take place during the middle of February should send their names to the Lecturer, Mrs. McDonald. Transportation to and from the theatre will be furnished by the Court.

The sympathy of the entire Court is extended to Sister Katharine Milne who this week suffered the loss of a darling baby son.

Deacon Charles E. Sweet is ill at his home on Hillside avenue.
Mr. Kenneth E. Caldwell of Wildwood street was drawn at last Monday's meeting of the Board of Selectmen to serve as a traverse juror in the Superior Criminal Court at East Cambridge.

Yesterday in the Superior Court at East Cambridge James W. O'Connor of this town was sentenced to serve three months and ten days in the Superior Criminal Court at East Cambridge.

After pleading guilty to three charges arising out of an accident that occurred on the 15th of last September resulting in painful and serious injuries being suffered by Miss Mary McArdle of 807 Main street when she was knocked down by Main street on Elmwood avenue by an automobile alleged to have been driven by O'Connor. He was charged with failure to make himself known after injuring a person with a motor vehicle upon the highway, driving so as to endanger the lives of the public, and operating after his license to operate had been revoked. O'Connor was originally found guilty in the District Court at Woburn, Sept. 22, but appealed the case.

The sentence was the same in both courts. Miss Marjorie Daley and Miss Hattie Carter of this town leave Friday night for New London, Conn., where they will view the eclipse.

Messrs. Preston E. Corey of Cliff street and Elmer R. Glidden of Wildwood terrace have been drawn to serve as traverse jurors in the Superior Civil Court at East Cambridge.

Mrs. Dexter Blake has returned to her home from the hospital much improved in health.

Another cold snap struck this section last night, this morning being one of the coldest of the winter, with reported temperature of seven below.

A high gale accompanying the frigid conditions made out-of-door travel very disagreeable.

Unitarian Sunday School will give an entertainment Saturday, Jan. 31 at 3 p. m. and at 8 p. m. Moving Picture (a) "The Magic Chalk" (b) "T. C. Clark." Admission afternoon 25 cents, evening 50 cents.

EMBLEM CLUB AFFAIRS

At last the Emblem Club is to have a whist party that the members can call their own, and it will be held on the regular meeting night of the Club, Wednesday evening, Jan. 28, in Lyceum Hall. Mrs. Emma M. Cullen, one of the club's most popular members, will have charge of the affair and be assisted by the following: Mrs. Marion H. Gilman, Mrs. Anne E. Poole, Mrs. William H. Gilman, Mrs. B. Green, Mrs. Emily Scholl, Mrs. Bernice German, Mrs. Katherine Fallon, Mrs. Nellie Moffett, Mrs. Mary Little, Miss Alice Davidson, Mrs. Anne Vay, Mrs. Susan Quigley. The president of the Club, Mrs. Davidson, is ex-officio a member of all committees.

The whists in aid of the Elks' Carnival won't go to popularity on account of the profusion of beautiful and valuable prizes awarded at each, and this whist will be conducted on the same liberal scale. Through the efforts of Mrs. Green, a $25.00 gold piece has been donated.

Mrs. Cullen has received a hand-made scarf and embroidered pillow slips, and many other desirable articles have been promised. As an added attraction, jazz music and dancing may be enjoyed during the evening, and as the committee has a host of friends among the Elks a record attendance is expected.

At the last meeting of the Club President Allie E. Davidson strongly urged the members to send in the names of sick or ailing members, as a little attention paid to these afflictions is deeply appreciated. Mrs. Katherine T. MacDonald, chairman of the committee, reported sending flowers and cards to our sick and convalescent members, and Mrs. Lilla B. Green kindly offered to supply cards of sympathy.

As visitors are expected, chairman of entertainment, Mrs. Anna W. Lechman is planning a more elaborate program for our next regular meeting, Feb. 11. A reception to new members and visitors will take place after the business session, and a full attendance is requested.

NELLIE M. DUNKLEE

Nellie M. Dunklee, formerly a well known resident of Winchester died suddenly Tuesday morning at the Emerson Hospital, Jamaica Plain where she had been a patient for several years. Her death was most unexpected, and on Monday evening she was in a chorus choir at a revival meeting in Tremont Temple, Boston.

Upon getting back from the meeting she complained of not feeling well, she complained of being ill. She got up as usual and passed away soon after, her death being attributed to heart failure. She was 65 years old.

Miss Dunklee was born in Malden, the daughter of Galusha C. and Nancy J. (Johnson) Dunklee. For many years she lived with her parents in Winchester making her home for a time on Mt. Vernon street. She was a member of the First Baptist Church of this town. The owner of a beautiful alto voice she was well known throughout this district as a church singer and music teacher.

Upon the death of her father in 1905 Miss Dunklee left Winchester and of late years had been serving as Matron at the Emerson Hospital.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the First Baptist Church conducted by the Rev. C. W. H. West. Interment was in Wildwood cemetery.

WELL KNOWN POLICE OFFICER IN CRITICAL CONDITION

Patrolman John A. Melough of the Boston Police Department, attached to Station 13, Jamaica Plain, is critically ill, following an operation for gastric ulcers, in the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Patrolman Melough is a former well known Winchester boy, his family still making their home in town of Winchester, Mass.

Melough was a very fine officer for five years, he has been attached to Station 13, doing day motorcycle duty on Jamaica way. He is a popular of the station and has been recommended for bravery and fidelity to his duty.

Officer Melough was removed to the hospital last week Wednesday where he underwent an operation. Following the operation several hemorrhages so weakened him that a blood transfusion was deemed necessary and Monday afternoon of this week his wife gave a birth of her blood in an effort to prolong his life. A

That same evening, at roll call, the Police Captain of Station 13 announced that another blood transfusion would probably be necessary and 11 officers offered themselves for the test at the hospital. Wednesday morning, the tall, dark, middle-aged Graham of the Jamaica Plain Station submitted himself for the second transfusion in the fight to keep his blood flowing.

Following a restless night Wednesday Officer Melough passed a somewhat better day yesterday and late reports last night indicated that his blood has slightly improved. He is still on the danger list.

TECHNIC LIENSING

Tennis instruction in the fundamental strokes will be offered to the boys and girls of Winchester this winter and spring. The High School gymnasium has been reserved for a certain number of hours for this purpose and the teachers will be professionals headed by Mr. Harry Cowles.

The classes will begin at the end of February and continue until the end of the spring term. The instruction last year given in the winter was valuable in giving Winchester children a fine game as was proved by the records made in team matches and open tour tournaments.

Those persons interested in the lessons should make their names known to the teachers on the list which Mr. W. S. Rowe

THE MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION CORNER

The annual meeting of the Mothers' Association was held on Jan. 21, a good number being present. Delightful music was given by members of the "Music Garden," and a recitation of Joyce Kilmer's "Wild House" and "A Tree" by Mrs. Woodley.

Eleven meetings and nine board meetings reported, besides two special meetings of the board. Storying in February, attendance very small. In March Mrs. W. Eugene Wells gave a great treat in stories of grand-mother's day, recited in old fashioned costume, assisted by Mrs. Dursey and Carol Abbott, also dressed in old fashion. In April Mrs. Nash of Brookline gave a very helpful talk on recitations for little children. In June the annual garden party was held at Mrs. Parker's.

At the first fall meeting in September, Mr. Quinn, Mr. Grady, Mr. Cresswell, Miss Pratt, and Miss Savage gave brief and interesting outlines of their special work in the schools.

An extra meeting was held in October, in Layton Hall, by courtesy of Mr. Sanderson, presenting a Christmas tree for the Indian School in Kentucky.

The regular October meeting was addressed by Rev. John W. Sate, Jr. on "Children and Ideals," one telling thought being that children are more influenced by serious actions and words in the home; they take for granted, rather than their episodic acts to distrust. He recommended a book called "A Child, His Nature and His Needs," by O'Shea—Editor.

The Fathers' and Teachers' Night occurred in November. Prof. Towne of Lowell spoke on "Americanism—As It Is, and As It May Be." The Lincoln Placers furnished very acceptable music, and a very successful hour followed in the gymnasium.

The December meeting was called Children's Day. By a small sale, $21.17 was netted. The singing of carols by the assembled school children under the direction of Mrs. Loftus and Mrs. McNally. Songs by Mrs. Gilpatrick, and the presentation of the State Committee on Health, made a successful afternoon.

The treasurer reported a balance of $67 in the treasury. Mrs. Higgins told of the activities of several chapters. The new plan was presented, discussed, and unanimously accepted. The following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. Harrison Parker; Vice President, Mrs. Fletcher D. Parker; Secretary, Mrs. L. A. Crowell, and Treasurer, Mrs. Harry Sanborn.

A social board meeting will be held for Wednesday, Feb. 11, at Mrs. Parker's, by which time chairmen of committees and heads of chapters will have been notified and expected to be present.

The Wyman Chapter is advertising in another column, an open meeting in Wyman Hall on Tuesday, Feb. 3, and hopes for a large attendance.

The return of library books (now out), to Mrs. Parker is requested, as the library is to be rearranged and divided among the chapters.

COASTING ACCIDENT IN HIGH- LANDS

Little Genevieve Orr, three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Orr of 22 Park street, Stonham was taken to the Winchester Hospital last Sunday afternoon when a double-runner crashed into the sled on which she was being drawn by her mother along East street in the Highlands district.

The accident occurred between 1:30 and 2 o'clock, the evening party coming from the direction of "Mt. Misery."

Mrs. Orr was upset by the crash and her daughter hurled from the sled. Both were injured, the little girl severely. She was removed to the hospital.

At the hospital it was found that Genevieve was suffering from a fracture of the thigh and cuts about the face. Mrs. Orr received a sprained ankle and a severe shaking.

Two sons, Donald aged seven, and Bernard, aged nine, who were with Mrs. Orr and Genevieve at the time of the accident were unharmed.

Lieut. Harold of the Winchester Police was notified of the trouble by Mrs. Orr and later in the evening three members of the coasting party, Harold McElaney and Winslow McElaney of Baldwin street and Russell Kendrick of Holton street went to the local station house and reported the accident.

Unitarian Sunday School will give an entertainment Saturday, Jan. 31 at 3 p. m. and at 8 p. m. Moving Picture (a) "The Magic Clock," (b) "Tricked," Admission after 20 cents, evening 50 cents. Moving pictures and dancing.

WADLEIGH PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

Members of this association have had the opportunity to hear two most interesting speakers at the last two meetings. In December, Mrs. Edward M. Barney of Lynn spoke on "Reading of Children" and in January, Mr. Clarence E. Parth spoke on "Vocational Education."

The next meeting, on Feb. 12 will be devoted to "Home Study." Five teachers will speak on this topic applied to their special subjects. Members will be given an opportunity to express their ideas on the matter. The program has been carefully prepared and should be one of great interest and profit to teachers and parents.

The Association recently voted to give $75 to the Scholarship Fund established last June.

M. C. W. G.

Many members of Winchester Branch, M. C. W. G. are planning to attend the testimonial dinner to be given in honor of Past State Regent, Mrs. Mary P. Handschumaker at the Hotel Victoria on Saturday evening, Jan. 31 at 7:30 o'clock.

Among the invited guests are his Eminence Cardinal O'Connell; State Chaplain Rev. Monsignor Roche; Assistant State Chaplain Rev. Dr. Irving Gifford; Rev. George P. O'Connor, Director of the Catholic Charitable Bureau and Brother Fabian of the Working Boys' Home.

A fine musical program has been arranged and community singing with State Secretary Mrs. Lena Dooly as song leader will add to the pleasure of the occasion. The affair being informal, an opportunity will be given members of the different Guilds to become better acquainted.

YOUNG GIRLS' CLUB

The first meeting of the recently formed Young Girls' Club, instituted for Religious, Social and Charitable purposes by Father Fitzgibbons, was held in St. Mary's School hall Tuesday night.

Miss Mary Boyle, president, was in the chair and conducted what was voted a profitable and spirited meeting.

Miss Boyle with her assisting officers, six: Miss Ruth Mathews, vice president; Miss Mollie Poland, secretary; and Miss Mary Cullen, treasurer promised the 25 Charter members present a full year of pleasurable activities and charitable endeavors in keeping with the desired plans of Father Fitzgibbons, their Director.

The list of Charter members follows:

Mary Boyle	Evelyn O'Connell
Ruth Mathews	Mollie Poland
Mary Norton	Anna Oliver
Edith McLaughlin	Mary Long
Mildred Barrett	Edith Harold
Ruth Poland	Christina Haggerty
Christina Haggerty	David McKenzie
Edith Harold	Robert Leonard
Winifred Mayo	Robert Leonard
Katherine Leonard	Mary Stone
Mollie Poland	Katherine Leonard
Mary Holland	Katherine Leonard

The names of 19 applicants, all beyond the High School age, will be acted upon at the next meeting for admission into the Club.

ANNUAL MEETING

The Annual meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was well attended and reports from the various officers showed the Society in good working order. The following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. George H. Hamilton; Secretary, Mrs. Frank W. Elliott; Treasurer, Mrs. Eugene M. Elliott; Vice President, Mrs. Daniel Bennett; Mrs. George H. Whittemore, Mrs. Newton Smith, Mrs. Fannie A. Smith, Mrs. J. Welburn, Mrs. George F. Arnold, Mrs. John W. Smith.

Mrs. Hamilton gave an interesting report of the National Jubilee Convention which she had attended in Chicago in November. This report showed much good accomplished during the past 50 years with a greater educational and legislative work still remaining to be done in our greater task ahead of doing our part to bring to pass the better observance and enforcement of all laws.

Seventy-four members were present and seventy-four members have been added to the national membership during the past year.

TOOK DOCTOR'S LAG

Dr. P. W. Shepley, well known local physician, had his medical kit stolen from his car which was parked in front of the Winchester National Bank last Friday evening. The doctor was attending a meeting in the bank during the evening and did not return to his machine until after 10:30. Then he discovered his loss, and got in touch with the Winchester Police. The car was later recovered, having been found on the rear platform of a train by a B. & N. conductor.

TRUCKS BUMP ON CAR TRACKS

At 1:15 o'clock Tuesday morning a Pierce Arrow truck, owned by Margaret Desmond of Somerville and operated by Harold Conlon of Charlestown was in collision with a Maxwell truck owned by Arthur A. Hild of Woburn and operated by Elmer S. Hall of the same city.

The accident occurred on Main street, the larger truck being headed north and striking the smaller which had stopped to allow its driver to adjust his chains. Both vehicles were in the car tracks, and were somewhat damaged by the crash. Neither of the drivers were injured.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

They tell me of a man who was so wretched that he refused to sleep on a feather pillow, for fear it would tickle him and make him laugh.

The man who has a wise vision of a cheerful disposition, gives courage, cheer and inspiration to others.

The only reward necessary for something which we have done, is that it be well done.

Keep your head above the mist, where the sun shine and breezes blow, and enjoy your self.

If you have a warm heart and a cool head, you have the right temperature, don't change it.

THE PERFECT 32

"There are 32 reasons why states should care for their teeth," says the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, "and each one is a tooth." We seldom find a "perfect 32," because tooth decay is the most common of all diseases. How shall we prevent tooth decay? First, by taking care of the prospective mother, so that the new baby will be supplied with the best possible milk teeth. This means that the mother should drink milk, eat green vegetables, fruits, coarse-grained breads and cereals, and should have plenty of water; eat ample sleep and rest so that her general health will be up to the standard.

The diet of the child is important in the building of strong teeth. The foods which are necessary have been mentioned above. In addition it is essential to limit the amount of candy eaten by the child. Natural sweeteners such as figs and dates, a source of the teeth.

Daily care of the teeth, especially brushing after meals, is absolutely necessary for a "perfect 32." Finally we can add the importance of regular visits to the dentist, so that the cavities can be filled when small.

A CONVINCING DOCUMENT

Mr. Lewis Parkhurst has issued 10,000 copies of a pamphlet addressed to the business men of Massachusetts, and treating of the Massachusetts State Prison at Charlestown in a manner which carries conviction. He says that the annual maintenance of the institution is to be obtained through modern equipment would pay the interest on its cost, and in a reasonable time liquidate the principal. He submits an altogether admirable legislative measure.

He would not throw the question into the legislature, but would let a commission of five to be appointed by the Governor, on the job of building the necessary structure at a cost of $10,000,000, after which they would sell the old prison, and subject to the approval of the Governor and council. This is enough to make any man in very much money at first. Their total expenses need not be over $500,000. This, as Mr. Parkhurst shows, is more in the nature of an investment than an expenditure.

There is nothing of malleable in this project. Its author does not mean to have the state prison become a fashionable boarding house. But he does seek conditions of such decency that the men can come out of it with their better instincts unpermeated, than with an attitude of hate toward society and their fellow-men. The need of the change is self-evident. The present prison is a disgrace to the city.

Particularly in this point that something should be done just now, because the Legislature has before it as an alternative proposal the expenditure of almost as much money in the construction at Charlestown. Surely we ought to do one thing or the other. That one thing, they are fully convinced, is the program which Mr. Parkhurst recommends with renewed vigor. [Boston Herald, Jan. 20, 1925.]

THE GREAT DEBATE

Fifty peoples in the family of nations are in the midst of it. They are speaking and acting, keeping the human race at a mental and moral agitation. They are in the open highway, moving under a far away purpose to a goal close at hand. The greatest debate of the century is on. Shall we have a heathen god or Jesus the Prince of Peace rule the world? Shall war or peace be the ruling spirit in the family of nations?

WINCHESTER MAN APPOINTED GOVERNOR OF AMERICAN SAMOA

In accordance with recent orders of the Navy Department, Captain Henry E. Bryan, U. S. N., retired, of Kennerly road, has been appointed Governor of American Samoa and Commandant of the United States Naval Station on the island of Tutuila in the American Samoa group. His commission, signed by President Calvin Coolidge was received last week and he reported for duty Friday, Jan. 23. He plans to leave Winchester on Feb. 24, accompanied by his family, and will embark with Mrs. Bryan and his two young daughters at San Francisco for Pago Pago, Samoa, early in March. The trip of 4160 miles will take under ordinary conditions, 13 days. A son, now a student in the Winchester High School will be left to finish his education in Washington, D. C.

Capt. Bryan is well known in naval circles. During the World War, following Admiral Symmes departure to European waters, he was first temporary, and then Commandant of the 2nd Naval District with headquarters at Newport, R. I. On March 3, 1918 he became commanding officer of the Leeward Islands, and made seven trips across the Atlantic in her, one to Liverpool, and the other six to Brest. In Sept. 1918 he was promoted to the grade of temporary Rear Admiral, and sent to Brazil as senior member of the Naval Commission of Brazil, arriving at Rio de Janeiro Nov. 3 of the same year. In August, 1920 he was detached from that duty and returned to the United States where he was placed in command of a special service squadron with headquarters in the Panama Canal zone. In July, 1921, he became Commandant of the 1st Naval District with headquarters at the Naval Station, New Orleans, and Jan. 1, 1922 he was placed on the retired list with the permanent rank of Captain, having reached the age limit. He was graduated from the Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1887.

The Samoan group of Islands to which he goes is in the Southern Pacific extending from 13 degrees, 26 minutes south to 14 degrees, 22 minutes south in longitude 169 degrees, 29 minutes west to 172 degrees, 48 minutes west. The islands are 4100 miles from San Francisco, and 2570 miles from Sydney. The group is divided into Eastern and Western Samoa, the former being known as American Samoa and the latter under the American flag. This group is made up of the islands east of longitude 171 degrees west of Greenwich, and consists of Tutuila, Aua, Kone (one habitable) and the Manua group (Tutuila, Olosega, and Ofu). Tutuila is the principal island of American Samoa.

It is located in the Pacific Ocean, United States Naval Station is situated. The harbor of Pago Pago is known as the best among the South Sea Isles, and the governor's house, which will be the home of Captain Bryan during his term of office (which is from 18 months to two years), is in the little town which takes its name from this exceptionally deep bay. The islands of Western Samoa, Upolu and Savaii with Apolonia and Matua belong to Great Britain which came into possession of them after the World War. They formerly belonged to Germany.

All the Samoan Islands are of volcanic formation and mountainous. The island of Tutuila, the largest of the American group, is of irregular shape, is miles long and from 4 to 5 miles wide in the widest section, with an estimated area of 402 square miles. It has an exceedingly rugged aspect with a mountain range extending very nearly throughout its entire length.

Pago Pago bay has its entrance to the southward and nearly bisects the island. A mile from the harbor mouth it turns sharply to the west giving the harbor somewhat the shape of a foot. The U. S. Naval Station is at the tip of this foot facing north and is entirely sheltered that ships rest quietly at anchor in the heaviest gales. The village of Pago Pago, the most important of the island is at the extreme tip of the foot which is the town of the foot.

The climate of Samoa is tropical with a rainy season from December to March. Census figures of 1920 show a population in the American Samoa group. The natives are Polynesians, considered the finest strain of the South Sea Islanders. They are of a prominent copper color, of slender build, and are very intelligent. All are Christian. The London Missionary Society having established a mission on one of the islands in 1830 from which Christianity spread throughout the group.

Cocoa made from coconut shell is practically the only article of export from Samoa and figures show that in excess of $154,000 worth was exported in 1920 with imports totalling more than $255,000, chiefly from the U. S., being received at the group during the year.

The educational facilities for native children are remarkable. There are 77 schools with an attendance of 2014 scholars, of which 1601 are boys and 1307 girls. There are no schools for white children. A third class post office is situated at the Naval Station.

The Samoan Islands were first heard of in 1722 when they were visited by the Dutch "Triton" expedition under Roggeveen. The first scientific investigations of the group were made in 1829 by an American expedition, commanded by Lieut. Charles Wilkes, U. S. N. In 1872 an agreement was entered into between Capt. Richard W. Meade, commanding the U. S. S. Narragansett, and Mita, the highest chieftain of Tutuila, by which the U. S. was granted the exclusive privilege of establishing a Naval Station of immense strategic value on Pago Pago Harbor. This agreement, made on Capt. Meade's own responsibility, was concluded in a treaty and formal declaration of relations in 1878, and ratified a year later. The same year treaties were entered into by Samoa and both Germany and England. Then followed a period of unrest culminating in civil war in 1893. In 1899 a commission with representatives of the U. S., Germany, Britain and Germany, met and as a result of the operations of this commission Tutuila and the islands east of longitude 171 degrees came into

The group was first known as Naval Station Tutuila, but of late years the Naval Department has adopted the name, American Samoa. Originally the head of the Naval Station at Pago Pago, was known as the Commandant of the island, but since 1905 he has been given a commission as Governor, signed by the President of the United States, and his authority in civil matters is derived therefrom. Capt. Bryan will be the 17th head of the Naval Station at Tutuila.

C. D. OF A. NOTES

All the good friends of the Court have set aside next Thursday evening as a very special engagement date, for on that evening we will run the last but what of our winter season. The proceeds of this party will help our charitable committee to keep up its good work and will enable it to meet additional demands without any considerable straining of the Court's finances. Donations or prizes for this party may be sent to the Grand Regent, Mrs. Anna C. Vago, Arthur Street. Many very lovely prizes have already been donated and it goes without saying that the usual fine supply of prizes will be on hand that always delights the patrons of the C. D. of A.

Sister, Alfred M. Tuttle and Mary E. McGrath were the subjects in the banquet of Stoneham Council, N. C., when that thriving organization celebrated the 25th anniversary of its institution. Among the social plans within the Court which have developed with the winter season are two new social clubs, one which the junior members conduct on Monday evening and which meet with Sister Jonathan on Monday evening of the week, and the other which club which will be conducted by the trustee and which will consist of a series of six small house parties to be given to be donated to the charitable committee.

Grand Regent Annie E. Vago was the hostess at the annual reception to the Court on Wednesday evening. After a brief business session, at which Sister Katharine O'Connor was re-elected chairman for the fifth consecutive year and the looks of the Court were found to be in splendidly successful condition, a social hour was enjoyed, our popular Grand Regent serving a most attractive salad supper.

All plans for the February theatre party are complete except for the actual choice of a date for the party. This much-looked-forward-to affair has fair to be the high light of the Court's winter season. From present indications it will be a case of "all present" when the roll is called.

P. G. R. Allen L. Martin is in receipt of a letter from Fr. Nevin, Kingston, Jamaica, B. W. I., thanking the good ladies, to whose efforts the success of the Christmas party is due. As a result of this what the sum of $100 was sent to the Mission at Jamaica. This small sum looks very large to the faithful workers in the far off mission field.

There will be a very important special meeting of the Court next Sunday afternoon in Lyceum Hall at 3 o'clock. The sympathy of the Court is extended to Sister Katharine McDonald of Main street, whose sister died this week at Nantucket.

DR. BLAISDELL, A CANDIDATE FOR SELECTMAN

The nomination papers of Dr. J. Harper Blaisdell for Selectman and for the medical member of the Board of Health to succeed himself are being circulated about town this week.

Dr. Blaisdell, who needs little introduction to the voters because of his activity in town affairs, came to Winchester at an early age. He was educated in our public schools, graduating from the High School in 1903. Following his graduation from Dartmouth College in 1907, he entered the Harvard Medical School and received his doctor's degree in 1911.

On entering the practice of medicine he has devoted himself exclusively to the specialty of skin diseases and radium therapy with offices in Boston. He has been connected with the skin department of the Massachusetts General Hospital in various capacities for many years, now holding the position of assistant dermatologist. He is also a member of the teaching staff of the dermatologist department of the Harvard Medical School.

Dr. Blaisdell was made a member of the Finance Committee in 1921 and held the position of chairman during his last two years of service. During this period the committee successfully carried out a policy of conservative economy, over $150,000 being saved to the taxpayers through a judicious cutting of the subsidized budgets. Last March he was elected a member of the Board of Health, to fill out the unexpired term of the previous medical member, Dr. Mott A. Cummings.

He attends the First Congregational Church and is president of the Men's Club of that church this year. He is a member of the William Furness Lodge and is associated also with a number of medical and social organizations.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF MISS RUTH McALL

Mrs. Samuel Walker McCall of Winchester announces the engagement of her daughter, Ruth, to Dr. Louis Shattlesworth. Miss McCall is one of the three daughters of the late Dr. McCall of Massachusetts. She attended Mrs. Somers' School in Washington, is a graduate of Smith College, and has been for several years a student at the Cambridge School of Domestic Architecture and Landscape Architecture. She is one of the owners of a book shop in New York. Her sisters are Mrs. Henry James Gray Radloff (Katherine) a bride of last August, and Mrs. Alfred Hebbard (Margaret), of New London, Conn. Her brothers are Mr. Sumner T. McCall of Evanston, Ill., and Mr. Hal McCall of Reimsdorf, Ore. Dr. Shattlesworth is a native of Switzerland and a graduate of the University of Heidelberg. He is a lawyer by profession and formerly judge of Canton Aarau. At the outbreak of the war, Dr. Shattlesworth, who had long been a student of international questions, came to America as special correspondent for the Neue Zürcher Zeitung, the leading liberal paper of Switzerland, in which capacity he attended the Washington Arms Conference. During the years 1917 and 1918, he was attached as advisor to the Swiss Legation at Washington and, afterwards, to the political department at Bern.

"THE LOST BATTALION"

Col. Whittlesey, "Go-to-hell-with-us," the boys called him, together with his officers and men re-enacted the scenes in order to correctly record all the details of this famous incident. From the enrolling scene on Boston Common to the actual battle scenes in Flanders Field this picture will hold you enraptured and bring back to the memory of our buddies the days of not so long ago.

The American Legion is very desirous of having everyone possible see this picture and have therefore placed the price of admission down to thirty-five cents and in order to keep the Town Hall clear for adults for the evening, have arranged a special matinee for the children at 2 p. m. when all children 14 years or under will be admitted for 10c.

No seats reserved. We advise that you come early in order to get the best seats. Appropriate music.

WINCHESTER "KNIGHTS" WORK HARD ON SHOW

Plans for the coming mock trial and concert which the Winchester Council, Knights of Columbus will stage in the Town Hall on the evening of Feb. 24, are nearly complete and the local "Cases" are leaving no stone unturned in their efforts to produce one of the best entertainments in the history of the council. The fact that Charles J. Harrold, well known local coach, is handling the production is sufficient guarantee that everything will be high class. The mock trial idea is a distinct departure from the minstrel show type of entertainment which the Knights have sponsored for the past several years. The following members are numbered in the cast which includes some of the best talent in the ranks of the council: Terrence Cullen, Thomas Farrell, Charles O'Connell, Harry Ferrell, Daniel Glendon, George Sullivan, James Smith, Frank Dineen, Edgar Creamer, Patrick Andrews, John Creamer, Adolphe LaPorte, James Mawn, Robert H. Sullivan, Edward Cullen, Arthur Day, Lawrence Monahan, Edmund Grogan, Philip Savage and William McKee.

PROF. PASSANO WRITES NEW STEIN SONG

Prof. L. Magruder Passano of the Mathematics Department of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology has been awarded the $200 prize in the Institute's annual competition for a Tech Alma Mater song to succeed the famous "Stein Song" which has lost its old-time color, if not its popularity, since the advent of prohibition.

This composition is entitled "The Courts of M. I. T." and the words deal exclusively with the Charles River, the institution, and its surroundings.

Professor Passano has been an instructor in mathematics at Tech for 32 years, joining the faculty immediately after receiving his A. B. degree from Johns Hopkins University. He is popular with the students and is well known at the Institute for his loyalty to his old corn-cob pipe. He has written many songs and poems, his first song being printed when he was a junior in college. In 1908 his song, "Technology" was printed in the Technology Review. Professor Passano is well-known in Winchester, having formerly made his home here on Bacon street for several years.

The committee which awarded him the prize is composed of Prof. H. G. Pearson, Prof. A. G. Robbins, Dr. A. W. Rowe, Austin Cole Jr., '25, Bowman McKinnon '25, D. A. Henderson '25, and H. C. Hoar '25.

The prize winning song follows:

The Courts of M. I. T.
The bridge over the river,
And the sunlight on the grass,
And the shadows come and pass;
And it's always fair weather,
When good fellows set together
With the twinkle in their eyes
In the arms of M. I. T.
You know the fair weather,
When good fellows set together
With the twinkle in their eyes
In the arms of M. I. T.

The evening's blazing glory
Fills the heavens in the west;
The stars are out in the sky,
Flinging flames on Beacon's crest.
When night falls on the river
With the twinkling lights astir,
And the air is all as hazy
With the glow of ice and snow,
Still it's always fair weather,
In the arms of M. I. T.

And the crowned dome, watching over
The great court in the sleep,
Saw departed leaders hover
And faithful vigil keep.
For it's always fair weather,
When good fellows set together
With the twinkle in their eyes
In the arms of M. I. T.

When the long years have departed
And our wars and passions cease,
We'll be dead, but not disheartened,
We'll come marching back again.
For it's always fair weather,
When good fellows set together
With the twinkle in their eyes
In the arms of M. I. T.

Then rally, Tech men, rally
To Alma Mater's call;
For our mother needs us all
For it's always fair weather,
When good fellows set together
With the twinkle in their eyes
In the arms of M. I. T.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

It isn't any use trying to stop people from thinking, but it is often a real job to get them started.
A good definition of diplomacy is a man who remembers a woman's birthday, but forgets her age.
Every man should aim above morality, he not simply good, but be good for something.
A man can be rich, just in proportion to the things he can afford to let alone.
You may know a man who in your opinion is nothing short of a jackass, but it isn't safe to talk behind his back.

GET THE DRINKING HABIT AT HOME

Your fountain of youth is plain everyday water from the kitchen faucet, not fancy soda from the drug store pump. Fancy soda spoils the stomach and ruins the digestion. Fresh water sharpens the appetite and helps digestion. You should crack eight glasses of water every day including two upon rising and one just before going to bed. As a regular habit this is guaranteed to help:
1. Prevent constipation.
2. Clear the complexion.
3. Improve the appetite.
Get this drinking habit and watch the improvement.

EDUCATION

Anyone who scoffs at education has not learned what the real meaning of America is. No country in the world has such an outburst of pride as the United States. But education may stop at the school-room door when it ought to be found on the playground, in the home and wherever more mature persons have care or direction of those who are still in the formative period of course, education in history, arithmetic, civics or Latin is accepted as necessary. But if any family whose youngsters need training in little points of etiquette should be sent a text-book in that subject they might feel somewhat resentful. Yet without question, points of etiquette are a necessary part of education and any parent who willfully neglects giving that information to the children is not yet 100 per cent American.
Education in morals, not loose ones, but good right ones, is the keystone of the arch of an educated person. And it is questionable if people expect these who need moral training to pick it up anywhere. There are too many queer kinds of moral ideas floating around waiting to be picked up to make such a process safe for any young person. We must learn how to discern, make judgments, be helpful and attractive, and then firmly but kindly insist on help in morals in order to rear an educated American.

"TIL SHE SAYS 'I'S"

With Four Marx Brothers—Opening at the Majestic, Boston, Feb. 9
"Til She Says 'I's" (the musical comedy with a record of 40 weeks at the Casino, New York, moves for a brief visit at the Majestic Theatre, Boston, Monday night, Feb. 9)
"Til She Says 'I's" was conceived in a spirit of fun. Its key-note is laughter and its quartet of comedians, in the persons of the Marx brothers, promises this in abundance. Add to this a musical background of distinct novelty and beauty—because these Marx brothers are as expert musicians as they are funny actors—the wide success of the show is not to be wondered at.
For plot the authors have taken the Cinderella theme and altered it. A very rich, tired of the monotony of life, is in search of a thrill. To her comes a doctor, a lawyer, a beggarman and a thief, and each offers her a novel inducement to win her heart. She is taken into the dens of Chatterbox where marvelous sleights of hand and acrobatic stunts are exhibited. The girl, who is whisked off to the South Sea Islands to Russia, China, Zulu land, Japan and other picturesque places, where the tails of the moment are piled on view to entertain her; but she will have none of them. It is not until she appears that she succumbs to the charms of a searched-for thrill. Popular matinees will be given Wednesday and Saturdays.

Chats With YOUR Gas Man

Just what will a thousand cubic feet of gas do? This question was put to an engineer the other day and he gave the following answers:
Bake fifty one-pound loaves of bread in the home.
Broil seventy three-pound steaks.
Boil enough water for shaving for 1,000 days.
Prepare about 135 single meals in a restaurant.
Light two cigars a day for 500 years.
Japan 3,500 talcum powder cans.
Boil 135 gallons of water.
Roast enough coffee to last a person drinking two cups a day for 70 years.
Bake 500 bricks.

Cross Word puzzle games at Wilson's.

Cambridge street near the Winchester Club was the scene of an automobile accident Tuesday afternoon when a Ford coupe owned and operated by William F. Eggo of Pierbush Avenue, Billerica, was in collision with a Pierce Arrow sedan owned and operated by Joe Downs of Arlington road, Winchester. Mr. Downs was proceeding toward Arlington road and was unable to get his car out of the way in time to avoid the Ford. Both cars were damaged, but no one was hurt.

Mr. Arthur S. Hollins of Maxwell road while attending a social at the Unitarian church last evening had his overcoat stolen from the cloak room of the building.

"BEGGAR ON HORSEBACK"

Winthrop Ames' Notable Fantasy Comes to Wilbur Theatre, Boston, After Year in New York

Unquestionably the coming engagement of "Beggar on Horseback" at the Wilbur Theatre on Monday evening, Feb. 9, will be the dramatic event of the present theatrical season in Boston. It has taken more than a year for this glorious fantasy by George S. Kaufman and Marc Connelly to reach the home of its producer, Winthrop Ames, and in that time it has been seen in but six cities, where capacity audiences greeted it.

Childhood has "Alice in Wonderland" and it was Mr. Ames who gave big business "Beggar on Horseback." And what fun the authors have had apportioning every day American life. They have ridiculed jazz, our jury system, cabarets, efficiency experts, the courts, newspapers, vulgarity, the new-rich, golf, radio, art, dancing, dining out, the commercialism of art and numerous other things.

In the midst of all this hurly-burly a most glorious pantomime is injected into the action of the riotously uproarious comedy, just to show that there still exists beauty, imagination, poetry, sentiment and music. It is fairlike in its delicate conception and possesses all of the fascination which enhances a thing of beauty and charm. It is a gem of wit and wit and makes two pianos as witty as Whistler and Wilde.

New York production and cast—save two minor roles—to the Wilbur so that local playgoers will see the comedy exactly as presented during its eight months in Gotham and four months in Chicago. The company of nearly fifty persons is headed by Roland Young.

One Idea of Genius

Genius is a mild form of insanity that causes a man to toil incessantly without knowing what he will get for his labors.

Winchester, Massachusetts, Feb. 2, 1925. TO THE BOARD OF SELECTMEN OF THE TOWN OF WINCHESTER: The undersigned respectfully petition for a license to 40 gallons in the public garage, 10 gallons in motor vehicles while in public garage, which is located on the land in said Winchester situated on Park street and numbered 4, between the lot owned by John A. Larkway, 210 Main street, Winchester, Mass., Jacob Cohen, 202 Main street, Winchester, Mass., Colonial Filling Station, Inc., Everett, Mass., J. A. Larkway, Treasurer, Town of Winchester, in Board of Selectmen, Feb. 2, 1925.

On the foregoing petition it is hereby ORDERED, That notice be given by the petitioner to all persons interested in said license, to be given on Monday the 23rd day of February 1925, at 4 o'clock P. M. in the Selectmen's Room in the Town Hall Building, consider the expediency of granting the license of said petition when any person objecting thereto may appear and be heard, and notice be given of notice thereon, once in each week for two successive weeks in the Winchester Star, the first publication to be at least fourteen days before such hearing and by mailing copies of the same at least fourteen days before said hearing, by prepaid registered mail, every notice of record of each parcel of land abutting on said parcel of land.

Siberia Huge Gold Mine

Gold-ore to give $100,000,000 to 100,000 people—lies unmined in Siberia, waiting to be taken out of the ground, says the New York Herald.

Six Billion dollars is the total value. This is the estimate of American mining engineers who have been looking the country over. And yet this gold is only a shadow of Siberia's greater natural resources—famous and famous soil that grows everything from tobacco and cotton to grapes and watermelons.

The Winchester Buick Company has been taken over by Mr. W. Scott Simonds of Bruce road, who assumed proprietorship in the first of the month. He will continue to handle the well-known and popular Buick cars. Mr. Fred Wellington, formerly in charge of the company's office here, has severed his connections with the firm, and Mr. Edson Laingway and Mr. Erskine Kelley, who has been with the firm for several years, will be associated with Mr. Simonds.

The Kimball & Earl Co. is making extensive alterations and repairs in two stores in the Norris block on Main street near the river. This firm recently came out with the Winchester agency for the Hudson and Essex cars and they will occupy the new quarters in the Norris block as soon as they are ready. By combining two of the stores and enlarging the show space, one of the best automobile show rooms in town will be created. Both cars which the firm carry are popular and they have already a number of satisfied customers on their list. Mr. Willis O. Blaisdell is associated with the firm in handling the line.

Raymond A. Smart is reported as having sold his lot of land on Euclid avenue, comprising 8750 square feet to Thomas J. Waters who will erect a dwelling there. The land has a tax value of $450.
Local basketball followers were generally pleased when Chelsea High School defeated Brockton High at Brockton last Friday night, thereby knocking the shoe city outfit from the pinnacle of the Suburban League. Love of the underdog coupled with the general realization of the tremendous advantage which Brockton enjoys over the other schools in the league in the matter of material is responsible for the feeling. The Brockton supporters did not take kindly to their upset, and a riot occurred in the street near the Armory where the game was played.

"Art" French, son of Mr. Arthur E. French of Highland Avenue, and Captain of the Worcester Academy track team won the 40 yard dash and took second place in the shot-put in the dual meet between his team and Haverford school at the Boston Y. ## TWO ACCIDENTS SATURDAY

The slippery going of last Saturday is believed to be responsible for two motor mishaps which occurred during the late afternoon and early evening. The first took place on the main road, Highland Avenue near the Highland School. A Geo. coupe owned and operated by A. G. Barr of Chelmsford was heading south on Highland Avenue, and in the act of turning out to pass a machine which was parked at the side of the road, when it met a Studebaker sedan traveling north, owned and operated by William Hargrove of Main Street. As the three cars came to the intersection, the Studebaker skidded on the icy road and came together, causing damage to both cars, but resulting in injury to neither driver.

The second accident occurred at 8:30 P. M. on Washington street near the corner when a Packard sedan owned and operated by George Kerrigan of Governor's Avenue was in collision with a Chevrolet sedan driven by John Laughran of Lebanon street. Neither car was much damaged and no one was injured.

At 10:35 Sunday morning a Nash touring car owned and operated by Maude McLellan of High street, West Medford skidded while traveling north on Main street at Symmes corner, and struck fire alarm box 27, knocking the box from the pole and breaking the latter off at the base. Northbound traffic was stopped by Lillian Frazer also of High street. Medford was injured, but the machine was slightly damaged. There was however a job for the local fire department and the repair crew of the local Fire Department.

Followers of the local high school basketball team were surprised to learn that B. C. High had taken the far-famed Arlington not quite into camp between the halves of the Boston College boys basketball Saturday evening in Boston. The Old Gold and Maroon youngsters won the game by a score of 10 to 8 on the night following a point trimming effort. Winchester Coach Henricus must have left his winning "system" out on Springfield.

Mrs. Mary L. Winn of Elmwood Avenue has been attending the Baptist Conference in Boston this week.

MID-WINTER WEATHER

Weather conditions in this vicinity again broke all records during the past week. This time the situation was reversed from that earlier this week. The air was cold and the cold spell which might reasonably be expected, temperature at water and land level might have accompanied the early snow was experienced. Opening last Friday, that day, Saturday, Sunday and Monday were warm, sunny and clear. The temperature was in the upper 40s and the wind was light. Underfoot conditions were moist to say the least, the fine overhead skies and sun were very welcome after the lengthy winter.

The glass was up above 60 during the middle of the days, and the streets carried many rivers of swift running water. The rain was not only a travel. Even the lightest clothing was a discomfort, and overcoats were worn only from a sense of duty and as a preservative from cold.

The ice on the streets was slow in melting the summer heat, being well under way. The weather of the week for which set in Tuesday, the streets began to clear, and the fog continuing up to yesterday, there was little left of the winter weather.

The fog was probably the densest this section has experienced in recent years. The fog at this time was so thick that it was difficult to see across the streets. All travel was delayed, and conditions were most disagreeable. On Tuesday, the fog lifted and a fair, fairly heavy rain during the night washing off still more of the snow and ice. The fog continued yesterday, but the rain, and the cold temperature last night brought a return to more reasonable conditions.

WINCHESTER CASES IN SUPERIOR COURT

Wednesday morning the Winchester Police Department had two appeals cases come up for settlement in the Superior Court at East Cambridge. James L. Russell of Cliftonville arrested the 9th of last September by Officer Edward O'Connell, and fined $100 for driving a motor car at Worcester on the charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor had the decision of the lower court affirmed. John Morrissey of Woburn on an appeal case of drunkenness for which he was fined $10 in the Woburn Court last November, was upheld by the hard hearted Judge at East Cambridge.

Another local case which caused much interest in the District Court at Woburn came up for settlement after a week's continuance. Nathan Leader of Woburn, arrested Saturday evening, Jan. 21, on the charge of being in charge of a committee of ladies which included Mrs. John C. Kerrison, Miss Dorothy Kerrison, Mrs. Arthur W. Pitman.

KNIGHT OF COLUMBUS SHOW

The K. of C. have been conducting their rehearsals under the direction of the local lodge, and a number of the show will surpass anything that they have had in entertainment thus far. Too much cannot be said of the cast. The show is in two parts. Part one is to be a Mock Trial and is being rehearsed by the winter's officers. The curtain goes up until the finish. Part two is a concert and singing by local talent, and a lot of everything in it for both young and old. Dancing will follow.

CHAPIN SCHOOL WRECKED

Following a tip received yesterday that the old Chapin School on Swanston street was being used for the storage of liquor by bootleggers, the police made a raid, and all that they found to find any liquor, they did find that the school was a complete wreck, the windows being smashed, the boards ripped up and doors wide open.

SUCCESSFUL ROLL CALL

Winchester as Usual Cordially Supports the Red Cross

Complete reports of the 1925 Roll Call have now been received from all the towns in the county. The results are most gratifying to Winchester. In a year when many towns fully committed to the Red Cross, Winchester has maintained its high record of support of Red Cross.

Donations were less for 1924, $12,820; for 1925, $8,850. This, however, was satisfactory to the Board, because at present the need is not so great for financial donations as for universal membership and in membership this year Winchester is very strong. The number of members in the numbers then totalling 2095, and for this year, 2070.

Such cordial support indicates not only the thoroughness and high quality of the work done by all who took part in last November's drive, but it further bespeaks the fundamental trust placed by the American people in the purposes and methods of the American Red Cross. There is within the heart of all of us a passionate appreciation of the beauty of service for others. It is this that Red Cross touches, and people are glad in the opportunity to widespread organization given them in having their small gifts transformed into such great power of aid to suffering humanity.

FIREMAN'S BALL TO BE BETTER THAN EVER

Plans for the annual entertainment and dance of the Winchester Fireman's Relief Association, to be held in the Town Hall on the evening of Friday, Feb. 20, are rapidly nearing completion, and from all indications this year's "Fireman's Ball," always one of the winter season's social events, is going to be bigger and better than ever. Several hustling committees are working hard on the arrangements, and the committee that these attending will spend a pleasant evening. Seven big acts of vaudeville have been booked as a starter, and the Cornish Orchestra, one of the best around Boston, has been engaged to furnish music for the dancing. Tickets have gone as well as ever, which is the same thing, announcing the customary big crowd will be on hand again this year. The proceeds from the sale of tickets will go to the treasury of the local relief association, and all Winchesterites should be glad of the opportunity to help along the work which this organization is doing.

The plans for the entertainment and dance are under the general supervision of the Winchester Association, including Pres. John McCarron, Vice Pres. Deputy Chief John Gorman, Sec., E. G. Beaton and the following committees: The following committees have the affair in charge.

Mr. Edward Fitzgerald, James Doyle and Harry Brown.
Printing, Mr. McKinnis, E. B. Beaton, and Harry Brown.
Entertainment, Deputy Chief Beaton, and Harry Brown.
Reception Committee, Hugh Smith, George Gents, George Gents, Ray Henscom, and Alice McKinnis.

JOHN A. MELAUGH

Despite every effort of medical science to prolong his life, including several blood transfusions from his wife and brother as well as from patients at the local station, Motorcycle Officer John A. Melaugh of the Boston Police Department, attached to Station 13, Jamaica Plain, died at 10:30 P. M. on Wednesday morning in the Massachusetts General Hospital after a plucky fight against gastric ulcers. He suffered several internal hemorrhages, and underwent three operations within a short time. More than a dozen patients at the hospital were called upon to donate blood to him.

John A. Melaugh was born in Winchester, Mass., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Melaugh. He received his early education in the Winchester schools and as a young man was employed for several years by the local firm of Kelley and Hawes. Before leaving town he was conscripted into the United States Army for a time. He joined the Boston Police force in 1919, and proved a capable and courageous officer, figuring in rescues of persons from drowning, and in the stopping of several runaway horses. He was one of the most popular officers at Station 13, and a number of patients of Bates and Melaugh whose activities in regulating traffic along the Jamaica Plain road were known to them much commended.

Officer Melaugh was married, and made his home at 408 Center street in Plain. He is survived by his wife and three children, his father and mother, one brother, Francis, and seven sisters. Mrs. Thomas Carroll, Mrs. Mary Carroll, Mrs. Thomas Doherty, Mrs. Albert Bower, Mrs. Samuel Rich, Mrs. Philip Kelly, and Mrs. Mary Kelly.

Funeral services were held this morning at 9 o'clock in Saint Joseph's Church, Jamaica Plain. Interment will be made in the cemetery at Roxbury.

WOMEN WILL HOLD MOCK TOWN MEETING, FEB. 25

That all men will be excluded from the balconies, is the rumor being circulated in regard to the Women's First Annual Mock Town Meeting to be held at the Winchester Town Hall, Wednesday, Feb. 25. Men will not be permitted to enter the hall.

The Finance Committee, School Committee, Park Board, Board of Health—in short, not even as Constables. And yet, the women, through their organization, keep the tax rate up to normal, and settle all Town problems in one afternoon. It is even rumored that they will extend the regular Town Warrant and include such questions as "Shall Cats be Licensed?", an article supported by conservation enthusiasts who are eager to protect the birds and sleeping citizens. Because of the unwillingness on the part of the women to publish their plans at the present time, the following committees have the affair in charge.

DOES RELIGIOUS EDUCATION PAY?

"Of the 20,000,000 homes in our country, less than one-half are reached by the religious faith of our people. The people are affiliated with the churches and 58,000,000 are not; 45 per cent openly endorse religion by church membership, 55 per cent are nominal members. Of the young people in our land only one in every four is enrolled in a Sunday School; 25,000,000 young people never attend church, and 15,000,000 are not enrolled in a Sunday School."

The criminologists tell us with brutal frankness the results of irreligion and immorality. They tell us that in 15 years ago the average age of the criminal was 41 years; today it is less than 20 years. They tell us that in 15 years ago the average age of the criminal was 41 years; today it is less than 20 years. They tell us that in 15 years ago the average age of the criminal was 41 years; today it is less than 20 years.

Moreover, the conditions in our public schools are equally alarming. Here are the results of honesty tests applied to the children of the country. In the so-called "True-False" test, the great majority of the children agreed that if a storekeeper gives you too much change, it is right to keep it, because he would probably do the same if you paid him too much. In the "Furchasing Test," 64 per cent of the children failed to return a dime that the storekeeper had paid them over their proper change. In the "Examination Test" the average test was 50 per cent.

Following Mr. Foote's address tea was served in the church parlor by a committee of which Mrs. Laura Tirrell was chairman. Mrs. George H. Reed sang delightfully a group of three songs.

MEETING OF THE LADIES' FRIENDLY SOCIETY

Mr. Henry Wilder Foote, executive secretary for the Centenary Celebration of the American Unitarian Association, which will be held May 15-16, 1925, at the meeting of the Ladies' Friendly Society on Tuesday, Feb. 10, Mr. Foote has recently returned from a tour of the United States with many leaders of liberal thought. He spoke enthusiastically of the work being done by Unitarians in Europe, Budapest, Prague, and urged that Unitarians in America continue to lend their support morally, as well as financially, to the movement. He also urged a movement of great power and influence, which is the aftermath of the "non-churching" average was 56.8 per cent.

MUSICAL COMPANY, NEW ENGLAND PLAYERS

OUR OWN NEW ENGLAND

"Our Own New England," a most unique entertainment, comes to the Winchester Town Hall next Tuesday night, Feb. 17. With an organization of exceptional artists, special scenic and costume effects, highest grade music, and an original play, "Three Maids and a Man," this event promises to be one of the leading programs of the season.

The entertainment opens with a review of New England history by picturesque costumed and music, from 1620 to the present. Then follows a discussion of the part Winchester has played in the progress of New England, with fundamental facts of Winchester history. This is followed by an interlude of operatic and concert musical numbers with voice, violin and piano, songs, duets and ensembles.

Finally comes the play, which is a fantasy-drama on present day New England life, with particular reference to the popular and west to New Englanders. This play has attracted wide interest where given this season.

Included in the program, is the singing by the artists and by the artists of the original song, "New England, Dear New England," composed and written by H. D. Miller of the company.

The entertainment is produced under the direction of Arthur H. Currier and Herbert B. Miller. Mr. Currier, who is a resident of Winchester, will be remembered for his radio New England, and his editorial work in the Boston Herald. Mr. Miller for two years was the nationally known H. D. Miller, and his company, "The New England Players," was formerly on tour in the "Gentleman from France" and is a brilliant accompanist and soloist. The company is directed by F. Chester and Mr. Currier, for 15 years one of the most popular entertainers on the Lyceum and Chautauque circuits.

Tickets may be secured by immediate application to Mr. Robert E. Fay, 26 Park Avenue, Winchester, at Frank H. Knight's Drug Store, Winchester, from Saturday to Tuesday at 2 p. m., after which time will be box-office sale at the Town Hall.

THE LOST BATTLE

There was a large audience present at the Town Hall on Saturday evening to witness the showing of the famous film drama, "The Lost Battalion." The picture was given under the direction of the Winchester American Legion, the proceeds being used for the memorial room at the legion house on Washington street. The picture was most interesting and inspiring, and an addition feature of the evening, not enjoyed elsewhere in its showing, was an address by the life of the late Charles Whittlesey, hero of the incident around which the film was created, by his cousin, Mr. John J. Whittlesey of Lawrence, Mass. He gave a graphic and complete sketch of the life and incidents concerning his cousin's part in the war and the historical features which he refused to surrender to the Germans in the face of overwhelming odds.

A substantial sum was raised from the entertainment by the Legion.

STATE PRISON BILL

House Bill 222, presented by the Hon. Lewis Parkhurst, which provides a practical, economical remedy for the crying scandal of our present Charlestown prison, will have a hearing on Wednesday, Feb. 18, at 10:30 at the State House.

"The Prison World" in its leading editorial in the current issue, says: "Massachusetts has a flaming prison scandal which demands the immediate attention of every citizen of the Commonwealth. That scandal is the present State Prison in Charlestown. The management of the prison, but the prison itself. It is our best advertised and our most ignored disgrace. Repeatedly it has been called to the attention of the public; citizens have been taught to blush for its existence; cries have been raised for its abandonment; and now it is ever doing about it. We still have it in our mind to shame us and to reproach us with our neglect and our indifference."

DR. WILLIAM T. HOLLAND

Dr. William T. Holland, a former well known resident of Winchester, passed away Tuesday noon at his home, 1841 Center street, West Roxbury, after an illness of two days with pneumonia. He was 75 years old and had been in poor health for the past nine months.

William Timothy Holland was born in Winchester, the son of Patrick and Catherine (Murphy) Holland. He was graduated from the Winchester School and from Tufts Medical School, Class of 1890. He was president of his class and a member of the Kappa Kappa Medical Fraternity.

Following his graduation Dr. Holland practised his profession first in Brookline, and later in West Roxbury where he had been located for the past 15 years. In 1899 he married Miss Lillian Green of Roxbury, and had celebrated his 25th wedding anniversary last June.

He was among the first physicians to volunteer during the World War and served as a First Lieutenant in the Medical Corps stationed at Camp Dix. Upon his return to private life he was a member of the staff at the Parker Hill Hospital for two years. He was chairman of the public health committee of the West Roxbury Citizens' Association, a member of the West Roxbury Post, 167, American Legion, the Military Order of the World War, John J. Williams Council, K. of C., and was a supporter of St. Vincent de Paul's Society, and other charitable organizations.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Lillian Holland, a daughter, Helen G. Holland, a graduate of Radcliffe College, U. S. Army, and a son, Paul, a student at Harvard; five sisters, Catherine A. Mary, and Julia F. Holland of Winchester; Mrs. Anna T. O'Sullivan of Winchester, and Mrs. Edward Harrington of Charlestown, and one daughter, a remnant A. Holland of Charlestown.

Funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at the West Roxbury Church of Christ, 167, A. L. Interment was in the vault at Forest Hills Cemetery.

HARRY GOOD WILL MOVE STABLE

Harry Good will move his riding stable next week. For many years his quarters on North Main street have been the centre of activities for all horse men in the town, and he has housed many famous horses. His own string of 24 thoroughbreds contains many names well known on the turf.

Mr. Good is moving to South Main street just over the Medford line. He is to occupy the big red and white shanty, which is the site of the old Oak Grove Cemetery on Franklin Avenue. He feels that this location will be just as convenient for his patrons, and it has many advantages and conveniences.

In his new quarters he will have spacious dressing rooms, lockers for horses, and three stalls for horses, and the stable will have a big ring, and the bridge path to the Fells runs right in front of the door.

Mr. Good expects to move his stable the first of next week.

ENDORSE MR. SOMES

We, the undersigned, endorse the candidacy of David A. Somes for the office of tax collector. He has been a resident of Winchester for many years, and he is a man of high character, well qualified by training, experience and temperament to efficiently perform the duties of that office.

ST. MARY'S DRAMATIC CIRCLE

Now that all the boys and girls of St. Mary's Parish, ranging in age from 12 to 25 years, have been banded together into four distinct and thriving organizations by their Reverend Director, Father Fitzgibbon, a fifth society embracing these afore-mentioned four clubs and known as St. Mary's Dramatic Circle opened its season of activities last Saturday in the School Hall. All members with ability were "tried out" for "parts" in the three act comedy "Thirty Days," which will be staged in the Town Hall March 15th. Mr. Charles J. Harrold, as in past years, will act as coach of the Dramatic Circle's productions.

The general committee appointed by Father Fitzgibbon to handle the business end of the play comprises the following members:

Chairman, William Meele, Jr.; George Kileyno, John Cassidy, Joseph Matthews, Vincent Ambrose and Frank Leonard of the Knights of the Mystic Garland; Miss Mary Boyle, Miss Ruth Dolan, Miss Ellen Harrold, Miss Mary Norton and Miss Christina Hargerty of the Faibles Club; Theresa Dolan, James Cullen, Joseph Quigley, Clarence Chamberlain and John Dooley of St. Mary's Catholic Society; and Miss Loretta, Helen McKee, Anna Cox, Alice Bennett and Betty Halligan of St. Mary's High School girls.

Prominent among the aspirants for characters in "Thirty Days" are mentioned Ruth E. McLaughlin, Dorel McKenzie, Ernestine Eason, Marie Lauer, Anne Foley, Kathleen Valley, Antoinette Morrena, John Darcy, Vincent Ambrose, Norman Harrold, Frank McCauley, Bernard Cullen, Wm. Meele, Harold Johnson, Thomas Dolan, Edward Danahy, Clarence Chamberlain, Wm. Callahan, John Dolan, John Cassidy and James Fitzgerald.

FIRE DEPARTMENT HAD THREE MONDAY

The Winchester Fire Department answered three calls Monday from various sections of the town. The first was a telephone call from the residence of Mr. George Leborne on Wedgewood Avenue where a gas heater exploded in the cellar. The Chief's car responded and found the only damage was that done the heater which suffered the loss of its door.

The second alarm a fire at the residence of Doctor H. H. Pentz on Main street. The combination responded and found the trouble to be caused by an oil heater, a surplus of oil having become ignited in the ash pit and caused the house to be filled with smoke.

The last run was the result of a telephone call at 4:26 P. M. calling the Chief's car to the residence of Mr. Robert M. Stone on Glen Road where the family had smelled smoke for which they were unable to account. Chief McGurkey failed to find anything wrong.

WINTHROP OUTCLASSED WINCHESTER

Winthrop High School defeated Winchester in a league basketball game in the high school gym Tuesday afternoon, the score being 33-24. The locals started away like winners but were on the short end of a 16-12 count at half time. The game in comparison to the Boston College High contest was slow, and the local boys were away below the form displayed last Friday night. Winthrop's floor work, especially in the second half, was greatly superior to Winchester's and this fact coupled with the effectiveness with which the visitors kept Tansey covered just about decided the issue. Captain Wile of Winthrop was easily the star of the afternoon, and try as they would Coach Roberts' boys could not work out a defense capable of holding him safely. His shooting was very accurate, though several of his long shots were decidedly of the lucky variety. All in all he looked like the best forward to visit the local floor this season. "Wop" Rolli did some nice shooting for the locals, and was the star of the game for the losers. Winchester kept fighting to the end, but it clearly was not their day. The battling got rather rugged during the final moments with Halley and Hazel of Winthrop showing a disposition to "rough it," the latter taking Melly as his particular target. The big boy kept his temper in a respectable manner, and shot his three foot three in one shape. Between the halves the Winchester seconds defeated the Winthrop seconds 27-24. The score: WINCHESTER: Tansey, 12; Wile, 10; Rolli, 5; Dolan, 3; Harrold, 2; Cullen, 2; Meele, 1; Johnson, 1; Lawson, 1. WINTHROP: Rolli, 12; Wile, 10; Tansey, 8; Dolan, 3; Harrold, 2; Cullen, 2; Meele, 1; Johnson, 1; Lawson, 1.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The W. H. S. Star Club, formed this year, has made a good start. At each weekly meeting a lecture is given by one of the members on some consolation. In this way the club has become somewhat acquainted with the heavens. In the Fall the members went to Harvard Observatory where they had a chance to see Mars and the "Nebula of Andromeda" through the telescope. Last month the members went to the Boston University Observatory where they saw the full moon through the telescope. Professor Brigham of the same college also gave them an interesting talk on the moon.

Friday, January 23rd, Freeman Miller, president of the club gave an illustrated lecture in the assembly hall on the eclipses of the sun. Saturday morning several members of the club went down to Westley and saw the total eclipse with its marvelous corona.

A RADIO CLEARING STATION

The suggestion has been made to the Star that it open a "clearing house" for radio reception, and a group of interested radio fans have urged its adoption. Were it possible, the Editor would gladly comply. Such an adjunct would unquestionably prove a boon to those listeners who are willing to hear a program without broadcasting the fact to all others that they have a set which they do not know how to use. Apparently the idea is to have all Winchester "senders" list weekly with the STAR the stations which they intend to mutilate nightly. The publication of this list will then give all who radio fans an opportunity to choose their programs from such stations as are left.

Unquestionably the idea is a good one. To those who have enough sense and good taste to turn their sets properly, or have enough guts matter to know how, or who are willing to let their neighbors have an evening's enjoyment, the clearing house would be the finest thing radio has yet produced. The others could have a glorious time fighting it out among themselves.

The idea would of course include the ever increasing group of would-be senders—those who hold their key but are especially invited to join the list. If such a clearing house could be worked out, the STAR would gladly undertake the task, but unfortunately there appears to be little prospect of its realization. The only remedy today is to give the "old set" away and let the "squakers" have their fun, if it is such, until such time as the new radio course in the first grade of the public schools becomes an established and authorized course.

CAR DID NOT STOP

Last Sunday evening an unknown young man who said his home was in Woburn was knocked down by an automobile as he was crossing Main street near Russell Road. The man, which was headed North failed to stop after the accident, and was out of sight before anyone was able to get its number or any other means of identification. The young man was not so badly hurt as to prevent his proceeding on his way, though he complained of an injury to his right leg. The Winchester Police were notified but have little in connection with the case on which to work.

A whist party will be held in Lyceum Hall, Feb. 18 at 8 o'clock under the direction of the M. C. O. F., Win. Curt 225. Tickets 35 cents. Dancing after the whist.

WINCHESTER PATROLMAN SAVED ZOG

Monday noon the Winchester Police received a telephone call informing them that two dogs had broken through the ice on the Aberjona river near Bacon street. Officer John H. Noonan who was just getting through his morning trick of directing traffic in the square, hastened along the parkway, and came upon the dogs in the river near the foot of Lloyd street. Several pedestrians and passing motorists had collected on the bank by the time the policeman arrived. One of the animals had already been drowned, and the other was well exhausted from his struggles to get out onto firm ice. He was about ready to lose his grip, and slip into deep water despite the efforts of the policeman to reach him with a board. Attempts to break the ice around him had proved futile, and Officer Noonan resolutely cut waded into the icy water until he was able to reach the rapidly weakening animal. His efforts caused him to sink waist deep into the icy water and much of the stream, and he was anything but ratty appearing when he arrived at shore with his grateful chum. The dog, a collie wearing a collar but without name, was cared for by interested members of the crowd while Officer Noonan, after being warmly commended, hastily withdrew for a quick change into dry clothes. He is strongly of the opinion that the summer time is the best season of the year for indulgence in aquatic sports.

"SIMON CALLED PETER"

A story that stay-at-homes will not believe, and particularly those who smug respectability and conventional religion has been put to such fiery trial as set forth in the story, is that of "Simon Called Peter," which comes to the Plymouth Theatre, on Monday, February 16, under the management of William A. Brady, from a most successful run at the Broadhurst Theatre, New York.

"Simon Called Peter" is by Jules Eckert Goodman, from the book by that name, as written by Robert Keable. As the public is more or less familiar with the story of this play it is only necessary to say that the theme is built around an English clergyman who "joins up" with the British Army in France as a padre only to find himself a rank outsider and not one of the men. His experiences with publicans and sinners where he finally finds God and his own soul bring him in contact with an English nurse, Julia, who takes him through the valley of woman's enchantment to the Calvary of self-abandonment and self-sacrifice.

The play, as was the story, may be termed as daring, and possibly to those of us who may not allow ourselves to see the truth as it is enacted before us day by day, "Simon Called Peter" is a most astounding play, beside being one of the most brilliant, the most beautiful and most outspoken love story on the American stage.

FUNERAL RITES FOR JOSEPHINE E. FLAHERTY

Funeral services for Josephine E. Flaherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Flaherty of Middlesex street, who passed away at her home last Thursday, were held Monday morning with a solemn High Mass of requiem in Saint Mary's Church at 9 o'clock. Rev. Father Joseph A. Quigley was the celebrant assisted by Rev. Father Joseph M. Fitzgibbon, and the Rev. Father Patrick Quill of Saint Charles Church, Woburn. The pall bearers included Messrs. John Delorey, John Foley, Bernard Cullen, John McKee, John Dolan and John Dooley. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery, Montvale.

WINCHESTER WINS FROM B. C. HIGH

Winchester High took a nice basketball game from Boston College High School last Friday evening winning 32-

16 in the high school gym. The locals were very much surprised to see the Maroon and Old Gold, and they were not disappointed, the visitors showing a very excellent game which contained some excellent work.

Winchester gave the crowd its first glimpse of the new lineup in action, and the team played a very well center, about all he lacks being the confidence that comes from regular work in fast company. When he times his jump a bit better he is going to be a real touch man to get that old tap away from. Melly looked very good as a guard, and strengthens the team's defense appreciably. "Fat" Johnson, playing Cassidy's guard did a nice job, and though injured early in the evening, gamely stuck to his guns, covering his man like a tent.

Winchester played a conservative, and strictly defensive game during the first half of the game, and the Boston boys found their five man defense very hard to penetrate. The locals took the lead at once, and held it through the first quarter. During the second period it all changed to the locals.

On a long shot, and a couple of foul balls, but their advantage was short-lived, and from the time the locals tied the score in the end of the game.

Coach Roberts' boys were never trailing.

The home club was leading 16-8 at half time, but during the third period

the Maroon and Old Gold players made a determined sport. Just as the crowd was expecting them to tie up the game, Winchester came out of its usual third period trance, and chalked up four points for a safe lead on a couple of "shoney shots" by Francis

Taney who incidentally played a whole of a game. The visitors tried hard to even things up, but the locals would not be deceived, and were ending a sweet game with B. C. training,

32-16. The score

ELIZABETH MASON REYNOLDS

Elizabeth Mason Reynolds, widow of Dr. Russell G. Reynolds a prominent New York dentist of the past generation, died Tuesday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. F. Smart, on Dix street after an illness of about two weeks. She had observed her 101st birthday some four months previous to her death, and was one of the oldest, if not the oldest resident of the town, in which she had made her home for the past 30 years.

Mrs. Reynolds was born October 25, 1823, in Washington, Conn., the daughter of John A. and Caroline (Mason) Oviatt, and the granddaughter of Elisha Mason, the last surviving revolutionary soldier of the American Revolution, who died aged 89. Her span of life reached far back of the comforts and conveniences of our modern living to the primitive lives of the early settlers when the individual farm was made to bring forth by arduous labor, most, if not all of the requirements of the family, including the wool of the sheep, the linen of the flax, and the hide of the cow, which were converted into clothing, gloves, and shoes. When a girl she learned to spin and knew the details of many of the old-time domestic arts. She saw the replacement of the old flint and steel, by the modern match, the substitution of the kerosene lamp for the tallow dip candle, then the coming of gas and finally electricity with similar countless and almost bewildering advances of every kind. Possessing an excellent memory of old time customs and methods, she was a mine of information and a source of both entertainment and instruction to the younger generation.

Of an unusually serene and tranquil disposition, Mrs. Reynolds was interested to the last in passing events, and appreciative of all that could be done to relieve her of the burdens of accumulated years. She leaves a son, Howard Reynolds, southern representative of R. H. & C. Co., a daughter, Mrs. W. F. Smart, wife of the New England manager of the same concern, also five grand children, and five great grand children.

Private funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at her daughter's residence on Dix street, conducted by the Rev. Clinton W. Hay of Boston. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

SPOILED HIS BUSINESS

Last Saturday afternoon the Winchester Police were notified that a man was canvassing for business on the West Side of the town in a way that was not wholly in keeping with the law. Investigation disclosed the fact that one William G. Akam of 78 Westland Ave., Boston, was engaged in taking orders for wine which he represented as being of excellent quality, and in addition, at no extra expense to the consumer, warranted to contain an 18% "kick." The local police talked quietly with Mr. Akam, and so impressed him with the error of his ways that he departed in some haste for other parts, and it is not thought that delivery of his product will be immediate. We were unable to learn how many orders had been taken previous to the interruption.

HOLIDAY BOWLING

Special Event Monday at Calumet Club

Special all-day bowling will be the feature at the Calumet Club on the holiday, for commencing Monday morning at 11, and lasting until the same hour in the evening, about 50 prizes will be awarded for the sport. The events will be many and varied, and the bowling will be laid out as follows:

Only two prizes in regular bowling and one prize in stunt bowling will be awarded to each individual.

The same score may count in more than one event in either regular or stunt bowling but not in both regular and stunt bowling.

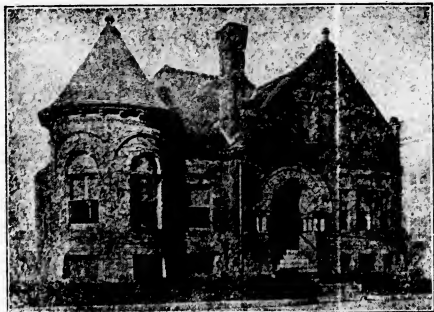

Prizes will be awarded Saturday night, February 28th, at the smoker. There will be three or more prizes in each of the regular bowling events, two prizes only in each of the stunt bowling events. It is hoped to have a prize for each bowler entering.

The events will be as follows:

Regular Bowling: In each Club 6-5-4-3-2-1 High Single Flat; High Three Consecutive Flat; High Three Safeties; High 3-0; High 4-0; High 5-0; High 6-0; High 7-0; High 8-0; High 9-0; High 10-0; High 11-0; ### COMING MEETING OF WYMAN CHAPTER

Moving Pictures for the Mothers' Association

At the next regular meeting of the Wyman Chapter of the Mothers' Association an innovation is planned that is sure to be of special interest to many. Moving pictures made for the Massachusetts Department of Health for use in its educational work are full of practical and important information and at the same time very ingeniously entertaining. A program of these films has been arranged by the Wyman Chapter, through the courtesy of the Department and is sure to be greatly enjoyed. The meeting will be held in Wyman Assembly Hall, Tuesday, March third, at 8:30 P. M., and everyone interested is cordially invited to attend.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Report was received this week from Wheaton College on the work for the first Semester of our representatives in their Freshman class. There were forty marks in all, with no failures and only one condition—a very good record for first year work. The High School has received very favorable reports from other colleges on the work of our last year's Senior Class, including a letter of congratulation from Harvard.

The name of Elizabeth Friend, of the Senior Class, was by error omitted from the Honor Roll printed last week.

According to a list issued Monday, sixty-six students are successfully carrying points enough to graduate in June.

School closes Friday, February 20, for one week vacation.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

The engagement of Miss Mary Brooks Tredennick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Tredennick of 8 Sheffield West, to Richard Francis Fenn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Fenn of 18 Cabot street, was announced last Saturday afternoon at a bridge and two given by Miss Tredennick at her home to 30 of her girl friends.

Miss Tredennick attended school at Ely Court, in Groves and Chiles, and later graduated from Miss Katherine Gibbs' School in Boston. Mr. Fenn is a graduate of the Winchester High School and Amherst College, 1920. He was prominent in the undergraduate life of the college, being a member of the golf team, the musical clubs and the Chi Phi fraternity. He is a member of the Calumet Club, and of the Winchester Country Club.

VISITING NURSE AND HOSPITAL NOTES

PEAK RECORD IN 1924

John Hancock Mutual Life Does Greatest Business in Its 62 Years of History

The John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company of this city whose operations extend generally throughout the country, touched last year its peak of progress in the 62 years of its history. Its insurance issued and paid for was increased more than 15 per cent over the record of 1923. As of December 31 last the insurance in force was $2,932,189,395 or more than double that of seven years ago.

The report issued for the benefit of the policyholders which now number over 3,500,000 records in detail the activities of the company. It is a complete digest showing the schedule of government, state and municipal bonds and emphasizes the part the great life insurance companies take in developing the economic resources of the country, particularly in the agricultural areas.

The gross admitted assets of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company as of December 31, last were $333,197,054 which, less policy reserves, dividends to be paid in 1925 and all other liabilities leaves a surplus of assets over liabilities of $27,607,275. This surplus is a safety fund established to meet any unforeseen contingencies and is over and above the reserve required by law for the protection of policyholders.

In view of this strong financial condition it is interesting to note that the distribution of policyholders during the year in the form of dividends is on a higher scale than for many years.

The company has experienced a favorable vitality, with excellent earnings on its investments, and this, coupled with careful administration, has caused substantial reduction in net cost to policyholders.

The strength of the company and its development during the past twenty years may best be inferred by the following comparative figures:

	1904	1924
Assets	$31,297,626	$333,197,054
Liabilities	$2,529,028	$285,299,719
Surplus	$28,768,598	$247,897,335
Insurance in force	216,113,163	2,032,189,395

President Walton L. Crocker in commenting upon the continuance of the favorable mortality experienced by the company in recent years said in his report that this low mortality "is in keeping with the trend of mortality of the entire country since the war. The persistence of this favorable condition is difficult to explain with authoritative finality. More than one theory exists, each one satisfactory to its proponents; but not one of them is convincing upon the question of the future of the human death rate in North America. The best that institutions like ours can do is to be prepared for the worst and to look forward with confidence to the best. We are thus prepared and our outlook is optimistic. Meantime we enlarge the scope of our efforts in health promotion for policyholders. While human agencies are feeble indeed against the destructive forces of Nature, nevertheless the activities of public health authorities and of co-operating private agencies must be accounted contributory under ordinary conditions toward the prolonging of life. If epidemic disease ever again ravages our land, it will be in spite of these preventive forces, not for their lack. Expense incurred in pursuance of this worthy object, by life insurance companies, seems singularly appropriate and justifiable.

WINCHESTER MAN DISCOVERS BODY OF DROWNED BOY

The body of Alden Loring, nine, the Stoneham boy who was drowned in Strongwater Creek last week Thursday was discovered by William Creamer of 210 Forest street, Winchester, at 5:30 p. m. Saturday, wedged under a culvert at the Oakland Station of the Boston & Maine Railroad, within half a mile of the point where the lad had fallen into the stream.

The Winchester authorities were first notified of the tragedy last Friday afternoon when Chief Sumner Green with Patrolman Johnson of the Stoneham Police came to the local station house to get assistance from the local department in searching the Abenja River for the body.

Young Loring it appeared had slipped into Strongwater Creek last Thursday while engaged with four other boys in sailing toy sailboats at a point where the brook runs through the Lindenwood Cemetery. When his companions saw his body carried under the Montvale culvert of the brook by the swift moving current, swelled by the most few days thaw, they became frightened and decided to say nothing about the matter. It was not until the boy failed to come home with his father that his mother became alarmed and notified the Stoneham Police. Alden Loring was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Loring of 8 Common street, Stoneham, and a pupil in the Dean School in that town.

JUNIOR RECEPTION AT HIGH SCHOOL

The annual Promenade and Reception of the Junior to the Senior Class of Winchester High School was held in the high school assembly hall last Saturday evening from 8 until 11 o'clock.

The decorative scheme was worked out with pink streamers, and a large 1926 class banner was suspended on the stage over the orchestra. Novelty dances, consisted of a favor dance and a "lucky" dance. The latter was won by Miss Beth Noyes and Harold Johnson, president of the Junior Class. They were presented with suitable mementoes of their good fortune.

In the receiving line with President Harold Johnson were Mrs. Howard Johnson, Mrs. James Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. James Quinn, and Mr. Wade Grindle. The committee in charge who also acted as usher included the Misses Mary Carr, chairman; Gertrude Bond, and Catherine Carlisle, and George Bartlett, Charles Cassidy, George Corey and Mitchell Putnam.

NEW TRAIN MARCH 2nd

The Boston & Maine Railroad announces an additional train, both outward and inward during week-days, beginning Monday, March 2d. The train will leave Boston at 12:40 p. m., making all stops as far as Woburn. It arrives here at 1:05. Going back to Boston it leaves Winchester at 2:38 p. m., and arrives in the city at 3:05.

ALICE F. SYMMES VAUDEVILLE ENTERTAINMENT

A most successful vaudeville show was held last Friday evening in Melcroft Hall under the auspices of the Alice F. Symmes Society of the Winchester Unitarian Church. Local talent furnished the entertainment which was thoroughly enjoyed by a large audience.

The program opened with vocal solos by the Misses Laura Baldelli and Helen Rowe, accompanied by Miss Lucy Wilcox, interspersed with violin selections by Mr. James Cusick accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Good. An amusing comedy skit was put on by Messrs. Kenneth Pratt, George Cummines, Herbert Miller, Winthrop Palmer and Raymond Young, followed by vocal solos by Miss Betty Bird, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Bird. The Misses Baldelli and Wilcox next appeared in a trio with Mr. Cusick after which Miss Baldelli sang two selected solos. An amusing shadow picture by Miss Eleanor Holston and Messrs. Herbert Miller and George Cummines preceded some thrilling acrobatic stunts by Messrs. Palmer and Young. The entertainment was concluded with a reel of motion pictures. The entire program was well done and it is hard to single out any one of the performers for especial praise. Mr. Kenneth Pratt was in charge of the arrangements and to him belongs the major portion of the credit for the evening's success. Following the entertainment program dancing was enjoyed with music furnished by an orchestra. The proceeds from the sale of tickets will be used to swell the fund supporting the work being done at Star Island, Isle of Shoals.

SANBORN—HUNT

Mrs. Eleanor G. Hunt of the Hotel Buckminster, Boston, and John A. Sanborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oren C. Sanborn, formerly of Winchester, were secretly married on Jan. 20 at Miami, Florida, according to returns filed in the Dade County court house at that place. Mrs. Betty James and George H. Norton, both of Boston, were the witnesses to the ceremony.

The former Mrs. Hunt is 26 years old, and is the widow of the late Paul A. Hunt, who was a banker with an office in Boston. He died two years ago and for some time past the widow has occupied a suite at the Hotel Buckminster. She arrived at Miami, accompanied by Mrs. James, on New

WINTER blizzards which play havoc with many kinds of public utilities seldom interfere with gas service. One reason is that the gas mains underground are safely protected against the weather and elaborate precautions are taken to keep the plant machinery working smoothly.

Branching out from the plant like arteries from the heart, the gas mains and storage holders must always have a sufficient supply of gas on hand to meet the instant needs of customers. There must be no telephoning for it, no waiting—it must be on tap, day and night whenever and wherever it is wanted.

This ability to serve instantly the needs of the public is a feature little appreciated by the average man or woman. Have you ever thought of it before.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

The delights and joys of this life we do not meet by appointment.
It takes courage to live these strenuous days, but if you will add hope and humor it will be some people get much comfort more pleasant.
A man is never dead broke so long as he can smile.
A young lady remarked the other day that she was "nearly sweet off her feet." I hope she is a handy girl around the house. One smile is worth a hundred grins.

Former Senator Lewis Parkhurst, in appearing at the hearing on the proposed new State Prison Wednesday, held before the committee on public institutions, stated that a modern and humane prison could be built to replace the antiquated and obsolete prison at Charlestown for the sum of $1,000,000. He showed that the saving to the State in maintenance and repairs would make the cost up in a few years, and suggested Bridgewater or Ayer as possible locations for a new structure. Mr. Parkhurst has been fighting for the new prison for the past four years, and from present indications will soon see favorable action taken, many prominent citizens coming to his assistance and supporting him in the matter. There is no question today, but what if the voters of the State could pass on the bill, a new prison would be forthcoming immediately.

KEEP THE LAND

Among the articles coming up for consideration at town meeting is the selling for the sale of four school buildings and lots. These are the Chapin, Gifford, Prince and Rumford. The Finance Committee recommends their sale. It does not go far enough. It should recommend the sale of the old school buildings, provided no good use is proposed for them, but it should recommend the Town's keeping the land. Most of the old residents have heard too much about open spaces and public places, and have seen the Town scurrying around to buy a location for this or that, to feel like parting with such land as it does own. The good results of the old buildings appear to be pretty well wrecked already, if reports are true, and probably are not valuable to public or private enterprise in any way, but sent, but by all means keep the land.

BADLY NEEDED

The Finance Committee, after careful study and an exhaustive investigation, reports that the Town should recommend the building of a new school house in the northeast section of the town. By all means! This is not the "north end" of the town, by the way, which has its fine new Nonan School, but that section which in the old days was known as North Winchester. The STAR does not know how far it is, but when Mr. Arnold Whitaker's children have to travel from his home on Highland avenue clear to the Mystic School it is as though a new school is badly needed in the neighborhood. His difficulties are not the only ones, of course, for there are plenty of other children living near him. A school in this section, was a foregone conclusion long before our recently completed school building program was contemplated, and residents there have long been promised relief. This school should be voted.

AN APPLE A DAY KEEPS THE DOCTOR AWAY

An old saying—but with very much truth in it. This is not superstition—it is fact. We can tell you just why apples are good for you.
1. They furnish bulk, which helps prevent constipation.
2. They furnish fruit acid, which helps to prevent constipation.
3. If taken raw, they provide a necessary vitamin.
Apples are Nature's sweets. The sugar in them is a natural form, which is much better for the body than refined sugar.
Children can have lots of little times with apples—docking for them in a deep basin of water, or trying to bite them off a string without use of the hands. They love to cut them in half and see the star, or cut a face into the whole apple.

"Our Own New England," an historical pageant depicting in song and story the growth of the New England States from the coming to America of the Pilgrims through the years up to the present time was presented in the Town Hall Tuesday evening by the New England Players under the direction of Mr. F. Chester Madan with Mr. Arthur R. Currier, lecturer, and Mr. Herbert D. Miller, impresario. Messrs. Currier and Miller produced and managed the presentation.

Faith of the Program was given over largely to songs, dances and instrumental selections calculated to show the various periods of development from earliest times through the great world war, the musical numbers being characteristic of the epoch which they were supposed to portray. A feature of this part of the program was a chronological summary of events touching upon the growth of Winchester as a community from the time when it was a part of Charlestown, and later of Woburn, through the period when it was known as Waterbury up to the time when it received its present name in honor of Colonel Winchester, a good man and true, who made a present to the town of $2000, as well as doing other things of note.

The Interlude coming between Part I and Part II dealt with the coming of immigrants to our shores, several of the more important types being presented by the players in costume with characteristic musical numbers.

Following the Intermission a fantasy-drama, "Three Maids and a Man," was produced showing at present time the opportunity for industrial activity in New England as compared with that existing in the south and west.

The entire production was unusual and contained much of merit. Several of the musical numbers were songs rarely heard upon the concert platform. Miss Lillian Smith displayed a rich contralto voice to advantage in the popular "By the Waters of Minnetonka" and the lovely "O Sole Mio," while Miss Wright quickly fiddled her way to popularity with her audience. Mr. Currier's historical outline of the town showed evidence of much research and was particularly enlightening to those interested in the origin and development of our community. The program closed with the singing by the entire company of "New England, Dear New England," written especially for the production by Herbert D. Miller, formerly H. D. M. of the broadcasting station WGI.

The program follows:

Personae
Miss Helena Telesco, Dramatic Soprano
Miss Lillian Smith, Contralto
Miss Hope Wright, Violonist
Miss Elsie Wright, Pianist and Accompanist
Mr. F. Chester Madan, Director
Mr. Herbert D. Miller, Impresario
Mr. Arthur R. Currier, Lecturer

TEELE SQUARE THEATRE

The management of the Teele Square Theatre announces the opening musical program on their program. The program will be a full orchestra of effects will take place Thursday evening, Feb. 26.

Musical interpretation of photo plays and concert numbers of the finest type are to be enjoyed by patrons of the Teele Square Theatre, Somerville, as the result of the enlargement of the Warrenton organ in the theatre.

The organ which was originally installed in the theatre was one of the best produced in America, but recently Mr. Viano decided to make additions to the instrument which would give it ability to reproduce the music of any orchestral instrument.

Skilled workmen from the factory came to Somerville and spent months in enlarging the theatre organ. On the completion of this installation we now have one of the largest organs in New England. It has two separate units, one on each side of the theatre, and these units are operated from one console either together or separately as desired by the organist.

Miles of copper and silver wire, great pipes and levers, and many other appliances were attached to the organ. At present it is the equal of any organ in any theatre.

Through the clever manipulation of an intricate set of keys and stops by David J. Lynch, regular organist at the theatre, it is no idle to produce at the theatre, as are rendered usually by a large orchestra.

Patrons of the Teele Square Theatre will marvel at the versatility of the instrument that is capable of blending the notes of the violin, flute, cello, bass, horn, trumpet, trombone, tuba, harp, French horn, piccolo, oboe and other instruments with the majestic notes of the organ pipes.

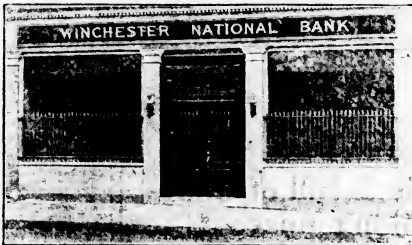

At every evening performance organist Lynch will give a splendid recital in addition to appropriate interpretative numbers.

ENTERTAINMENT AND DANCE BY WINCHESTER I. O. O. F.

The Winchester Lodge of Odd Fellows will give an entertainment and dance in the Lyceum Hall at 7:30 o'clock on the evening of Monday, Feb. 23, to which the public is welcome. Refreshments will be served and a general good time promised all who attend. The committee in charge of the arrangements will not divulge the nature of the entertainment beyond the simple statement that it will be strictly "high class." Tickets may be obtained from Messrs. Cameron, Newcomb, Bacon, Robert Hamilton, Carl Morse, or any Odd Fellow. Mark the date, Monday the 23rd at 7:30, in Lyceum Hall.

It is rumored that if the voters will accept the recommendations of the Town's Finance Committee at the coming March meeting, the tax rate will be in the neighborhood of $25.65, a deduction from the figures of last year. Those figures, however, will depend somewhat upon an appreciable increase in taxable property.

Mr. John Park returned from Europe Wednesday after a visit of several months. The trip was Mr. Park's 40th visit abroad.

C. D. OF A NOTES

The Theatre Party which was conducted by the Court on Friday of last week, was a marked success in every way and proved one of the most enjoyable social evenings ever planned by the organization.

To the committee in charge, G. R. Annie E. Vago, Organist Mabel M. City, Miss Mary Donnelly and Mrs. Anna Hanlon is due the credit for the success of the party, every detail of which was perfect.

The first wing of the party headed the 7:05 train at Cross street and, after filling into the special car provided for us, we wondered where the Winchester Center contingent could all get in. However, we managed to all squeeze as comfortable as possible, many of the younger and slimmer members sitting in a seat or even being delighted to occupy the none-too-comfortable arms of the chairs.

But what we lacked in space and seating accommodations was made up in good nature and fun.

During the ride in, the committee gave to each member a box of candy containing a very appropriate Valentine and to the Grand Regent a Valentine box containing a large bouquet of violets.

The show, "Be Yourself," featuring Jack Donohue, Queenie Smith and Georgia Kane, made a great hit with our party, we enjoyed every minute of it—and stored up enough laughs to last a long time. If possible, the party enjoyed the trip home even more than the one in, and, having been delighted to occupy the none-too-comfortable arms of the chairs, the "best night yet" and we're looking forward to the next one.

Sister Mary Kelley has returned from the Hospital and is making a rapid recovery at her home on Loring avenue.

Grand Regent Annie E. Vago, Sisters Mary Kelley of Hill street and Mary McGrath were the guests of Court Stonham at his supper on Sunday last. Sister McGrath rendered some delightful solos and was given a most enthusiastic reception by the C. D. of A's and R. of C's present.

A CORRECTION

To the Editor of the Star:
The omission of the word "evening" from the notice in your last issue, regarding the "Women's First Annual Mock Town Meeting" on February 25, unfortunately gave the impression that this was a grave error. The notice should have read, "all men will be barred—even from the balconies."

Kindly give this correction in your columns as the Refreshment Committee "views with alarm" the possibility of a "packed" meeting, since the news has leaked out that old fashioned "Town Meeting Buns" and coffee will be served and there is danger of a shortage of supplies.

Yours truly, for the Committee,
Mrs. G. A., F. H. L., A. D. S.

WINCHESTER TOOK SECOND MATCH FROM WOBURN

Winchester won the second leg in the series of bowling matches between independent teams representing this town and Woburn, the rolling taking place Wednesday evening at Sullivan's Alley. Winchester's winning margin was 83 pins, its score standing 1468 to 1385 for Woburn. Peabody was high man for the visitors with 294 on 105. George Osborne of Winchester turned in the best score of the night, 335 on 123. "Pug" Johnston rolled 314 on 115. The rubber match will be arranged later with present plans calling for a meeting on a neutral floor.

WHEREAS, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by David C. Nickerson and Helen F. Nickerson who pray that letters of administration with the will annexed may be issued to them without giving a surety on their bonds, or to some other suitable person, the executor named in said will having, respectively, deceased and declined to accept the trust.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge in said County, on the third day of March, A. D. 1925, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioners are hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Winchester Star a newspaper published in Winchester the last publication to be one day at least, before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, CHARLES F. LAWTON, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, the seventh day of February in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five.

CHARLES N. HARRIS, Register.

Our aim must be steady, wise progress. In the long fight for righteousness the watchword for all of us is: spend and be spent. It is of little matter whether any one man succeeds or fails; but the cause shall not fail, for it is the cause of mankind.—Theodore Roosevelt.

"JUST WOMEN"

The Dramatic Society of the Winchester High School presented on February 20, in the Assembly Hall, a very entertaining play entitled, "Just Women" by Colin Campbell Clements. It was the first play to be staged since the dedication of our new curtain and was therefore doubly appreciated.

The assembly was opened by a very pleasing solo sung by Estelle Simmons. The cast of the play, which was well chosen, did some very good work. Dorothy Parsons in the character of Betty made an attractive little English school miss of the Victorian period. Edith Baker did some very good acting in the rather difficult part of a fluttering, affected society lady. In marked contrast to her was the refined and cultured, conservative impersonation by Bessie Baugher. Mrs. Warren and her maid Clara, as played by Cecile de Coriolis and Catharine Nutter were most amusing. Mary Louise Carpenter and Virginia Hart as Mrs. Pickering and Mrs. Lawry very successfully produced for us the atmosphere of a prim, conservative and perhaps a bit "catty" circle of ladies.

The costumes were in themselves, a source of great amusement. Dorothy Nutter should be warmly commended for discovering so many marvelous antiques. The school thanks Miss Marjorie Wicks, who so ably coached the play, for a very pleasing assembly.

SERG. CASSIDY RECOVERED FORD

Through the efforts of Sergt. Thomas Cassidy of the Winchester Police Department, Mr. K. A. McDonald, former manager of the local Ford agency, was able to recover a Ford coupe which he sold on the deferred payment plan about 13 months ago to a Tony Oliver of Cambridge who disposed of the car with several payments still due. The party to whom he sold the machine in turn sold it, and McDonald, despairing of getting his money otherwise put the matter into the hands of Chief William R. McIntosh who detailed Sergt. Cassidy to investigate the case.

Receiving a tip that the Ford in question might be located in Arlington, a town a few miles from the city, Sergt. Cassidy repaired thither, and after some little gumshoe work traced the car to a private garage where it was positively identified by the engine number. The machine was turned over to McDonald who gained it in a game of chance. The man alleged to be responsible for McDonald's failure to receive his installments when due is known to the police who have turned the matter over to the Cambridge department for prosecution. In the meantime Sergt. Cassidy is being congratulated upon his clever sleuthing.

The Winchester Buick Company has announced the sale through their agent, Mr. Edison Larrabee, of a new Buick Six coupe to Mr. E. A. Horton of Woburn.

POLICE RECOVER STOLEN CAR

Shortly before 2:30 a. m. Monday while Officer James Donaghy was patrolling his beat in the center he noticed a car coming south through the square at a high rate of speed, estimated at about 55 miles an hour. The driver refused to stop when signaled to do so by the patrolman, but Officer Donaghy was able to get the number of the automobile before it vanished in the direction of Medford. He notified the Winchester Station House where steps were immediately taken to place the ownership of the machine, after the police in surrounding places were notified to be on the watch for it.

From the Registry of Motor Vehicles it was learned that the car was the property of Mrs. Caroline Murray of Main street, Winchester. Mrs. Murray upon being questioned asserted that her machine a 1923 Buick Sport model, was in her garage. Examination however disclosed that the automobile had been stolen, and was undoubtedly the one which Officer Donaghy had spotted in the square. No trace of the stolen car was discovered by the police until about 3 o'clock in the afternoon when Chief McIntosh and Sergt. Cassidy found it abandoned in an out-of-the-way spot in the rear of Wildwood Cemetery. The machine was later returned to its owner.

THROWN FROM HORSE IN FIELDS

While riding in the Fells near the South end last Friday afternoon, Samuel Resnick of 116 Riverway, Boston was thrown to the ground when his horse became unmanageable, sustaining a severe scalp wound. It is not known whether his injury was the result of his head striking the ground or whether he was kicked by his mount after the fall. Resnick was given first aid treatment by Mounted Officer Ned Sheehan who sent in a call to the Winchester police for an ambulance. Chief of Police McIntosh and Sergt. Rogers responded and took the injured man to the emergency room at the local Station House where it was necessary for Doctor Bourgeois to take 5 stitches to close the wound in his head. After further treatment Resnick was taken to his home in Boston. He was accompanied upon his ill-fated ride by George Porter of 233 Warren street, Boston.

LEGION AUXILIARY OFFICERS

The officers of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Winchester Post, The American Legion who were recently installed for the coming year by Mrs. Elizabeth O'Brien of Hyde Park, State President, and Mrs. Adelaide Fitzgerald of Hopkinton, sergeant at arms, include:

President, Mrs. Beale A. Pierce
Vice President, Mrs. Pauline Farrar
Vice President, Mrs. Mary Mathews
Secretary, Mrs. Theresa M. Roche
Sergeant, Mrs. Blanche Bennett
Chaplain, Mrs. Agnes Horsell
Treasurer, Mrs. Elizabeth O'Brien
Sergeant at Arms, Mrs. Mary E. Robb
Executive Committee, Mrs. Margaret LeDuc
Mrs. Mary A. Mathews, Mrs. Mary T. Hansen.

Following the installation refreshments were served and an entertainment and social hour enjoyed.

The new upper bridge on the Shore road has been completed by the Park Department and is now in use.

TEACHERS' CLUB NOTES

On Thursday evening, February 19, the Lincoln School teachers entertained the Teachers' Club. The affair was in the form of a Head-dress party. Many gay and festive as well as unique head-dresses were worn. The prize winners were Miss Dodge wearing a lampshade; Miss Moses, cab-driver's hat and mask; Miss Good, Spanish mantilla. Honorable mention was given to Dr. Hinds who wore a tin can hat; to Miss Regan as a Normanly princess and to Miss Adams as a rabbit's head. The Judges were Miss Nelson, Mr. Cusick and Mr. Hight.

The assembly hall was beautifully decorated in red, white and blue crepe paper. After the Grand March the prizes were awarded. A fine musical program followed. Dr. Hinds' singing accompanied by Mrs. Hinds was enthusiastically received. Mrs. Dorothy Tague Taylor a former teacher sang a group of songs accompanied by Miss Gorman. Mr. Cusick of the High School staff followed with violin solos accompanied by Miss Good. Miss Doris Goodspeed, a well known reader was a treat to all.

The refreshments were served in the kindergarten where the canned lights and the chery, crackling fireplace added much to the evening's entertainment.

C. D. OF A. NOTES

The court held a largely attended meeting on Thursday evening of last week at which plans were formulated for the many social activities, in which the various committees will be interested after the Lenten season. These plans include a whist by the visiting committee and many interesting social evenings for the members themselves.

Sister Margaret Donovan, who has been ill at her home on Wendell street is able to be about again, to the delight of the members, who have missed her at our meetings.

Each court of the order is in receipt of a communication from the Supreme Regent, Miss Mary C. Duffy, asking that a legislative committee of five members be appointed from each court who will make a study of all bills which affect the welfare of women and children. This will be carried out in accordance with directions.

LINCOLN SCHOOL NOTES

Washington's birthday was celebrated at the Lincoln School on Friday morning by the presentation of an historic play. It was given by the pupils of Grade six. The children were dressed in Colonial costume. The minut was danced at the close of the little play.

In the afternoon through the kindness of Mr. Fitzgerald moving pictures of electricity was given. Then followed the story of WEEL. Mr. Emory, the Big Brother entertained delightfully with his story of WEEL and also by his selections on the banjo.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Thumlin, who are spending several weeks in the South, have been stopping at Havana.

NUMEROUS STATIONS TO BROADCAST INAUGURAL CEREMONIES

The proceedings of the Inaugural ceremonies held at Washington at high noon, March 4, will be broadcast for the first time in history through a chain of stations from Coast to Coast. Microphones installed at different locations on the platform which is to be erected at the steps of the Capitol, will "pick-up" each word that is spoken and carry it through a Public Address System, in order that those witnessing the event may hear. In addition to serving the loud-speakers of the Public Address System the spoken words of those taking part in the Inaugural ceremonies will be transmitted by the long distance telephone lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company to their broadcasting station WEAF in New York City as well as the following stations: WEEL, Boston, Mass.; WJAR, Providence, R. I.; WTIC, Hartford, Conn.; WOO, Philadelphia, Pa.; WCAE, Pittsburgh, Pa.; WGR, Buffalo, N. Y.; WEAK, Cleveland, Ohio; WLW, Cincinnati, Ohio; WJW, Detroit, Mich.; WMAQ, Chicago, Ill.; WDAF, Kansas City, Mo.; WIO, Des Moines, Iowa; WGL, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Minn.; WSB, Atlanta, Ga.; KFI, Los Angeles, Cal.; KPO, San Francisco, Cal.; and KLV, Oakland, Cal. The proceedings will also be broadcast by the Radio Corporation of America through stations WRC, Washington, D. C.; WJZ, New York, N. Y.; and WGY, Schenectady, N. Y. It is very likely that other stations will be added to this list of broadcasting stations who will transmit this notable event into the ether for the benefit of a vast radio audience who otherwise would be unable to "participate."

William McNamee, one of WEAF's popular announcers, will give his familiar "Good Morning, ladies and gentlemen of the Radio Audience" to the chain of stations connected with WEAF at approximately 11:15 A. M. from his position on the platform and after a brief description of the local scene he will introduce to his listeners the United States Marine Band which will be heard until 11:57. At 11:58 a fanfare, "The Star Spangled Banner" will call the assembly to order and immediately the Justices of the Supreme Court will approach the platform followed by the Chief Justice, Cabinet members and President Coolidge.

At high noon the President momentarily ceases to hold the office of Commander in Chief of the United States, but at the next moment takes the oath of office for the term of four years. Following the short prayer, President Coolidge will address the multitude, not only visible but invisible, and at the conclusion of his address the United States Marine Band will render the "Star Spangled Banner" bringing the ceremonies to a close.

ST. JAMES THEATRE

"Nightie-Night," uproariously funny comedy by Adelaide Matthews and Martha Stanley will be presented next week by the capable Boston Stock Company at the St. James Theatre.

The action of this fast-moving comedy has to do with the meeting of Billy Moffat, a married man who really and sincerely loves his wife, and Trixie Lorraine, an actress whom he has known before his marriage. Trixie is in serious difficulties, having married a man and lost him, all within a few hours. She confides her troubles to Billy, an innocent listener, who willingly agrees to help the fair lady in distress. There probably would have been no play had not Billy's fun-loving sister been present on the same train where the aforesaid confiding was going on. She mentions the fact in a casual way to his wife and then things begin to happen.

Bernard Nedell will play "Billy Moffat," the misunderstood husband; Elsie Hitz, "Molly," his loving but slightly jealous wife; Olive Blakeney will be seen as "Trixie," the charming old time friend of Billy's; Houston Richards is cast as "Jimmy Blythe," Trixie's wandering husband; Roberta Lee Clark has the teasing sister role; and Anna Layng will play Nora Craven, the movie mad maid.

Chivalry
It was this which, without compounding ranks, had produced a noble equality, and handed it down through all the gradations of social life. It was this which militated against kings into contempt, and raised private men to the fellows with kings. Without force, or opposition, it subdued the fiercest of pride and power; it oilied sovereigns to submit to the soft collar of social esteem, couched stern authority to submit to elegance, and gave a dominating vanquisher of laws to be subdued by numbers. Edmund Burke.

COMMUNITY BOWLING

Tuesday evening's rolling in the Community Bowling League resulted in a clean sweep for the Old Following in their match with the Legion while the Alleys also took all four from their opponents, the Benedicts. In the Old Follos-Legion match the high score was turned in by Al Hersey of the former club who rolled 285 on 104. Jack Salver was high man in the Benedicts Alleys match turning in 319 on 114. Farish and Marion were tied with high single with 128.
Last Thursday's match was between the Alleys and G. W. Blanchard Co. which resulted in another four-point win for the Alleys. The Legion-Laundry match was postponed.

MIXED BOWLING TOURNAMENT

Tuesday night's matches in the mixed bowling tournament at the Calumet Club resulted in team 10 winning three points from 12 two from 9 and 3 two from 4. The scores did not run high, although several individuals rolled well up. Mrs. Wolfe led the ladies, her total being 168 with 91 for the high string. Mrs.
Jennings rolled 163 with 83, Mrs.
Wiley and Mrs. Hamilton 81 each.
Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Ayer 83 each.
Mrs. Winslow and Miss Brown 82
each. Mr. Dickson got a nice score with 219 on 124, being followed by Dr. Wolfe with 212 on 116, Mr. May-

Close and interesting matches were rolled in the Calumet mixed bowling tournament Wednesday night. Team 16 won three points from 2 with a single effort, but 15, in taking a like number from 10, had its hands full. The first string ended in an even battle, and the second by a scant six. Team 2 got two from 11, there being but one pin margin in the first. Mrs. Strauss led the ladies with a total of 170 and a single of 104. Other good scores were as follows: Mrs. Brown 173 with 89, Mrs.
Newman 166 with 88, Mrs. Ja-

WINCHESTER WON AT WAKE- FIELD

Winchester High edged Wakefield
last Friday evening in a league
basketball game at the latter's gymnasium, 25-24. It was a thrilling contest with Wakefield leading all the way until the final minutes of the last quarter. The locals were completely outclassed in the first few minutes, and it looked like just a workout for Wakefield when its team led 15-3 at the end of the opening quarter. Tasker, Wakefield's big guard did some nice shooting during this period and seemed to control the ball after every tap-off. During the second quarter, McCauley was substituted for Melly, but the change did little for Winchester which was trailing at half time 16-6.

The third quarter found Melly back
in the fray with the fight very close overtime. He began to get the tap, and with this advantage the locals started to close up the gap between them and their opponents. Tasker commenced sinking them in there,
and with Rolli's help cut Wakefield's lead to one point at the 3 mark. With the count 20-19 the playing got very rough, both teams going at it hammers and tongs. With less than five minutes left Wakefield was one up on a 24-23 count when "Charlie" Cassidy tossed a foul goal making it even Stephen. The home club, with the score tied, started to play some hard-basketball in the hopes of wearing down the locals, but Winchester was holding its own nicely when the opportunity came to clinch the game.

In the midst of a speedy dribble up
the floor one of the Wakefield players
was forced outside by Captain Tansey.
Referee Parker ordered Winchester
out and the opposing player gave vent
to his disgust by banging the ball away
from the basket. The "Ref" immediately ordered the latter to help himself
to a free shot at the Wakefield net.
While everyone held their breath, and Coach Roberts went out for air, Captain Frank chuckled the leather cleanly through the hoop for the tally that brought home the smoked pig.

With a minute and a half left,
Wakefield tried hard to tie things up,
but the Winchester five man defense easily kept them in check until the final whistle closed a thrilling ball

WINCHESTER WON AT WAKE- FIELD

Winchester High edged Wakefield
last Friday evening in a league
basketball game at the latter's gymnasium, 25-24. It was a thrilling contest with Wakefield leading all the
way until the final minutes of the last quarter. The locals were completely outclassed in the first few minutes, and it looked like just a workout for Wakefield when its team
led 15-3 at the end of the opening quarter. Tasker, Wakefield's big guard did some nice shooting during
this period and seemed to control the ball after every tap-off. During the second quarter, McCauley was substituted for Melly, but the change did little for Winchester which was trailing at half time 16-6.

The third quarter found Melly back
in the fray with the fight very close overtime. He began to get the tap,
and with this advantage the locals
started to close up the gap between them and their opponents. Tasker
commenced sinking them in there,
and with Rolli's help cut Wakefield's
lead to one point at the 3 mark. With
the count 20-19 the playing got very rough, both teams going at it hammers and tongs. With less than five minutes left Wakefield was one up on a 24-23 count when "Charlie" Cassidy tossed a foul goal making it even Stephen. The home club, with the score tied, started to play some hard-
basketball in the hopes of wearing
down the locals, but Winchester was holding its own nicely when the opportunity came to clinch the game.

In the midst of a speedy dribble up
the floor one of the Wakefield players
was forced outside by Captain Tansey.
Referee Parker ordered Winchester
out and the opposing player gave vent
to his disgust by banging the ball away
from the basket. The "Ref" immediately ordered the latter to help himself
to a free shot at the Wakefield net.
While everyone held their breath, and
Coach Roberts went out for air, Captain Frank chuckled the leather clean-
ly through the hoop for the tally that brought home the smoked pig.

With a minute and a half left,
Wakefield tried hard to tie things up,
but the Winchester five man defense
easily kept them in check until the final whistle closed a thrilling ball

WHEN MARCH WINDS BLOW BEWARE OF COLDS

There are more respiratory diseases in the first three months of the year than in all the rest of the year combined, states the Massachusetts Department of Public Health. Strict care should be taken of colds, in order to avoid pneumonia. Best of all, care should be taken not to catch cold. This means keeping away from sick people—especially coughing and sneezing people. Lots of fresh air and sunshine are the best kind of medicine. Exercise out-of-doors cures a great many ills—physical and mental. And remember that colds are not to be limited to the out-of-doors. Open windows day and night will make the house a healthful home instead of a hot-house to breed sickness.

CAN JIMMY BE TAUGHT MORALS?

(Condensed from Collier's)

"Jimmy was in a laboratory and he didn't know it. It wasn't his warped body that was in the hands of the scientists. It was his rapacious little soul. He was in a laboratory for children's souls. Jimmy would lie and cheat and steal at every opportunity; he was only thirteen and one half years old and he thought that was the way life went.

These scientists—he thought they were foolish school-teachers—gave him every possible opportunity to cheat in his examinations and in all sorts of tests, and Jimmy didn't miss a bet. For instance, one of his teachers gave him a piece of paper on the face of it were printed five circles, each the size of a dime.

"Close your eyes," ordered the teacher, "and stick the point of your lead pencil into the center of each circle. I am going to give a prize to the boy who has every circle the most times." Jimmy did as was ordered, only he squinted; his lead pencil struck the center of each circle without fail. The test was tried five times. Each time Jimmy squinted and hit every circle.

In the back part of the room, a boy burst out crying. "What's the matter?" asked the teacher.

"I guess I'm not smart enough—I can't ever hit any of these circles with my eyes closed," said the boy. "See the teacher marked the little fellow 'Ten'—the highest possible mark for this test. She gave Jimmy a quarter but marked him 'Zero'." This was an honest test—a test for trustworthiness.

For three months, although Jimmy did not know what he was doing, he was subjected to lessons in hero worship; he was put under a pledge to be true to himself and to everybody else. Special, careful teachers, sympathetic yet seemingly at-terless, pounded decency into Jimmy's head and soul; and they did the same for the other boys in the class. At the end of three months Jimmy's soul was put under another strain. Ten more tests were given to Jimmy, and he shone forth like a knight in armor. The other boys increased their score of trustworthiness, but Jimmy's score rose 52 points to 151!

What the laboratory found out this time: Jimmy had not had a fair start in life and the laboratory gave him the start. His hope was of the sort that couldn't have done it. You couldn't have boosted Jimmy from a mark of 10 on a test of honesty to a mark of 151 on a test of honesty in three months, but you could boost him over 200 per cent in morals. Yes, morals can be taught.

If we could turn the right way—and we will some day—of teaching morals, we would have a new kind of United States in the next ten years; we would have something as epoch-

WOMEN'S MOCK TOWN MEETING

A lively audience of representative women, lent on fun and information, filled the small Town Hall on Wednesday afternoon to hear the serious discussion of articles in the Town Warrant "and others." The only man in sight was the custodian of the hall who tip-toed cautiously around the ante-rooms in the performance of his various duties.

From the reports of those who attended we are inclined to believe that fun and information were about equally divided in the program—and for the "Town meeting Buns" and coffee, served by the social committee, the general verdict was "Delishious!"

Under Article 13, in the warrant, "To see if the Town will vote to construct a school house in the northerly part of the Town," Mrs. Mayo of Kenner road presented her arguments for the proposition in such a masterly fashion that the "unfavorable action recommended" by the conservative chairman of the Finance committee, Mrs. Wm. Thompson, was completely overruled, and the necessary appropriation passed unanimously. Mrs. Mayo referred to the familiar Liberty Loan War Poster with the title "Sure we'll Finish the Job!"

The system of ventilating with fans and blowers calls for more technical knowledge than any layman can possibly possess. Unless they are run correctly, the expense may be very great.

A question of grading the playgrounds around the new buildings is a difficult one.

There is only a few of the problems which are constantly before the School Committee and which are now problems.

Fortunately, one of the School Committee members, Mr. Edward A. Tucker, is eminently fitted by training and business acumen to advise the School Committee in the solution of these technical problems, which necessarily are complex to the other members, and it is fair to say that the School Committee has been heavily on Mr. Tucker for the correct solution of these problems during the past month.

At the election next Monday, Mr. Tucker is a candidate to succeed himself as a member of the School Committee. It would be very wrong thing for the town if he should fail of reelection, and I heartily ask all citizens to cast one of their votes for Mr. Edward A. Tucker for the School Committee.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Russell H. Allen to the New England Bond & Mortgage Company, dated November 3, 1914, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 136, Page 135, for the purpose of sale of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be held at public auction on the premises hereinafter described on Thursday, March 26, 1925, at three-thirty o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage deed, to wit:

"The land in Winchester in said County of Middlesex, bounded and described as follows: Southerly by Church Street, ninety-nine and twenty-five one-hundredths (99.25) feet; Westerly by land now or formerly of Mark Gooden, three hundred and fifty-one one-hundredths (351.10) feet; Northerly on other land of this mortgagee, ninety-nine one-hundredths (99.25) feet; Easterly on land now or late of H. N. Easton, three hundred and fifty one-hundredths (350.50) feet; containing 0.003 square feet, more or less.

Being part of the same premises conveyed southerly by Ralph A. Manning by deed dated November 19, 1924 and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 139, Page 109.

Including all furnaces, heaters, ranges, mops, and concrete light fixtures, screen doors, awnings, and all other fixtures of whatever kind or nature at present contained on the premises, and in any building or buildings erected or to be erected on said lot.

Said sale will be made subject to unpaid taxes, and municipal liens, if any there be.

A deposit of Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) will be required to be made at the time and place of sale, balance in ten (10) days thereafter.

W. O. Blaisdell wishes to announce that beginning Monday, March 2, his business will be conducted upon a strictly cash basis. This will enable the people of Winchester to buy high quality goods at Blaisdell's Market at the lowest prices.

The mild and summer-like weather of last week carried over the week-end, spoiling many plans for winter sports on the holiday. Last Friday was exceptionally mild, the warm and balmy weather attracting many to the beaches and elsewhere out of doors. The golfers were included in the number, about 40 members playing Saturday at the Winechester Country Club, where the course was in excellent condition. There was good iceboating on Myatic Lake Saturday, a stiff wind giving excellent sport. Lack of wind and soft ice stopped the sport on Sunday and Monday, and several of the boats were dismantled on the holiday, their owners despairing of finding any more sailing this season.

Mrs. Helen Moore who passed away last Sunday at her home, 10 Harrison avenue, Woburn was a former resident of Winchester and the mother of Albert G. Moore who now makes his home in this town. In addition to him she is survived by her husband, George Moore, and two daughters, Gladys Moore and Mrs. Anna M. Kelley, both of Woburn. Funeral services were held Wednesday morning with a high mass of requiem in St. Charles Church at 9 o'clock. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery, Montvale.

CAROLINE E. WADLEIGH

Caroline E. Wadleigh, widow of Albert A. Wadleigh, died suddenly in Boston last Thursday. She was 73 years old and for many years had been a resident of the Beacon Hill district of the city. Mrs. Wadleigh was born in Chichester, N. H., the daughter of David H. and Mary Hooke Barton. She was the direct descendant in the ninth generation of Sir Humphrey Boscawen of Bristol, England. She was a member of the Second Church of Boston and was active in the women's alliance of that church. She is survived by a son, two sisters, and two grandchildren. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the home of her son, Herbert A. Wadleigh, on Sheffield Road. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

On Monday, March 9, at 2:30 P. M., the club members will have the privilege of hearing Frank Cheney Hersey, A. M., Instructor in English at Harvard University, and a University Extension Lecturer who will speak on "The Drama." Many beautiful slides will be used illustrating "The Art of the Theatre." Prof. Hersey's fame as a lecturer, his masterly handling of his subject, the varied and unusual illustrations give promise of a very stimulating and intellectual feast for the afternoon. Music will be furnished by Mr. Cedric Hastings, baritone soloist of the Harvard Glee Club, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Lura W. Watkins. More books are needed for the Seamen. Remember to send in your contributions to the Public Library.

ELKS ELECT OFFICERS

The annual election of officers was held, followed by an entertainment of unusual merit. The following officers were elected: Exalted Royal Master, Dunning; Exalted Leading Knight, George H. Schell; Exalted Inner Knight, George H. Schell; Exalted Lecturing Knight, Thomas J. Fallon; Secretary, Dr. J. H. O'Connor; Treasurer, John F. Donaghy; Past Master, John F. O'Brien; Trustee, Frederick H. Clement, P. E. H. Donaghy; Exalted Lodge, Dr. J. H. O'Connor; Alternate, Frederick H. Clement, P. E. H.

WINCHESTER BOY RECEIVES MEDAL

Ganzio Amico, 47 Oak street, Winchester who received instruction and experience as a member of a Middlesex County Life-Saving Service Achievement Club has been awarded a large bronze medal by the Massachusetts Horticultural Society for outstanding warden work last summer. This medal is offered through the generosity of the illustrious Gargens, Weston, Mass.

LAURA M. PAGE

Mrs. Laura M. Page the only surviving sister of the late Mrs. Rev. C. U. Dunning died Sunday morning, March 1st at Franklin, N. H. Funeral services were held at the Congregational Church, Haverhill, N. H., March 4th at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Charles R. Joyce of 827 Main street returned here from the Winchester Hospital, where she underwent a very serious operation for appendicitis.

QUAKE VISITED WINCHESTER

Winchester was one of the places which felt the earth tremors which so disturbed Boston and vicinity last Saturday evening. At least this was the report made public by the Sunday editions, and the newspaper bulletins were corroborated by many residents in various sections of the town. The effects of the quake were by no means generally felt here. In fact the first many residents knew of the disturbance was when they read of it Sunday morning. Others, however, reported feeling the shock distinctly. In some houses pictures were knocked down from their places on the wall, vases were tipped over, chandeliers swung dizzily, and other evidence of subterranean disorder observed. Several persons who had retired early told of being rolled about in their beds while many others reported experiencing vertigo as a result of their shaking up. The local quakes were supposed to have been most violent in the vicinity of the Mystic Lakes and along the Abenajona River, though the ice-boat skippers found this allegation hard to believe when they assembled Sunday morning. According to one of the big dailies two of Winchester's Police Force experienced the force of the earthquake while keeping vigil in the Jewish Cemetery in the highlands district of the town where they witnessed tombstones playing hopscotch as well as other weird and terrifying optical illusions. We found the guardians of the law in question somewhat reticent in discussing their experience so we simply pass on the rumor for what it may, or may not be worth. Many Winchester residents who were spending Saturday evening out of town were surprised to find upon their return that the tremors which they had felt clearly had not been noticed at all here. Apparently the earthquake was rather exclusive and did not favor everyone with its presence. And so far as we are concerned we won't complain, if it or succeeding quakes as the case may be, neglect to drop in where we happen to be stopping.

"I'll Say SHE IS"

Remains at the Majestic Theatre Boston

Because of the great success attending the visit of "I'll Say She Is," in Boston, the lively musical revue which remained on Broadway for 40 weeks will continue at the Majestic Theatre for several more weeks to care for the overhanging audiences. This is the spirited and funny musical comedy in which the immortal Marx Brothers are featured. But the Four Marx Brothers are not the whole entertainment by any means. There is a large supporting cast and a chorus of beautiful girls that can sing and dance and look well in abbreviated costumes. From start to finish "I'll Say She Is" unfurls fun, form and finery, with singing and dancing specialties to rest the spectator between laughing spells. The popular matinees Wednesday and Saturday are particularly well suited to the conveniences of out-of-town patrons.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Gleason, who spent two months in southern California, returned to town Wednesday night.

BALIEFF'S CHAUV-SOURIS

Entirely New, at Shubert Theatre, Boston

Balieff's Chauv-Souris, entirely new this season, will be brought to Boston by Morris Gest next week at the Shubert Theatre, opening Monday night, March 9. Reports from New York, where the latest edition of Chauv-Souris has delighted Broadway all season, bring the news that the Russian confederator and his company have achieved their greatest success in three years with their present program. The distinguishing features of the new Chauv-Souris consists of the most ambitious comic and serious numbers ever disclosed in the repertoire of the Chauv-Souris. Balieff recreated his theatre outside Moscow for the delight of the Western World. A quartet of those numbers which have been widely acclaimed include: "Love in the Banks," "Stenka Razin," a wild orgy out of the annals of Russia's Jesse James; "The Zaporozhzi," a recreation of Repin's famous Cossack painting; and "The Arrival at Bethlehem." Balieff's exquisite and reverent version of nativity taken from Yvette Guilbert's "Golden Legends."

BEGGAR ON HORSEBACK

In Its Two Successful Last Weeks at the Wilbur Theatre

Unquestionably the engagement of "Beggar on Horseback" now in its second month at the Wilbur Theatre, Boston, is the dramatic event of the present theatrical season in Boston. It has taken more than a year for this glorious fantasy by George S. Kaufman and Marc Connelly to reach the home of its producer, Winthrop Ames, and in that time it has been seen in but six cities, where capacity audiences greeted it.

Childhood has "Alice in Wonderland" and it was Mr. Ames who gave his business "Beggar on Horseback." And what fun the authors have had spoofing every-day American life! They have ridiculed jazz, our jury system, cabarets, efficiency experts, the courts, newspapers, vulgarity, the new-rich, golf, radio, art, dancing, dining out, the commercialism of art and numerous other things. Mr. Ames sent the original New York production and cast—save two minor roles—to the Wilbur so that local playgoers might see the comedy exactly as presented during its eight months in Gotham and four months in Chicago. The company of nearly fifty persons is headed by Roland Young. The last two weeks of the Boston engagement will begin Monday, March 9th.

THE ALICE F. SYMMES SOCIETY

The next dance of the Alice F. Symmes Society will be at Metcalf Hall, Wednesday, March 11th, at 8 o'clock. The February meeting was omitted on account of the annual entertainment, Feb. 13th.

"THE GOOSE HANGS HIGH"

Big Play Success from New York at the Plymouth

The younger generation of today have come into their own in "The Goose Hangs High," the Lewis Beach play, produced by the Dramatists' Theatre, Inc. which is scheduled to open at the Plymouth Theatre, Monday night, March 9th. "The Goose Hangs High" has its locale in a small city in our Middle West, and it offers novelty of plot, together with a broad view of certain aspects of our real world domestic economies, the dramatic value of which is seldom realized. It is the story of three children, Hugh, Lois and Bradley, of Bernard and Eunice Ingals. They have always been petted and indulged, always kept blind to the real sacrifices made on their behalf by their parents. Coming home for Christmas, Hugh from his work in New York and the "twins" from college, they have the light hearts and thoughtless ways of such favorites of fortune as they have believed themselves to be. Unconsciously they neglect, in their eager pursuit of the joys of youth, the father and mother who have yearned for their homecoming and their companionship. And yet—when it is told them that the local steam roller of politics has caught their father; that he is not only jobless, but, because of what he has spent on them, is also bankrupt, three heads get together at once for plans of relief. How they save the situation and prove their real family roundness, the story of this delightful comedy which enjoyed a successful run of eight months on Broadway. Matinees will be given Thursday and Saturday.

PROMINENT SOPRANO AT LOCAL CHURCH

The Winchester Unitarian Church has recently engaged a very prominent soprano for its soloist in the person of Mrs. Etta Bradley, the highly accomplished and well known Boston singer. Mrs. Bradley possesses a lovely soprano voice of wide range and compass. Wherever she has sung in concert she has been invariably re-engaged. Some of her recent appearances have been in Keene, N. H., Newton, Brockton, Hartford, Conn.; Lynn, Leominster, and Worcester. She is a professional artist of the Theodore Schroeder Studios, and begins her duties in Winchester on Sunday, March 16th.

MEETING OF THE LADIES' FRIENDLY SOCIETY

Rev. Maxwell Savage of Worcester will be the speaker at the meeting of the Ladies' Friendly Society on March 10th. Mrs. W. W. Winslow will sing. Luncheon, in charge of Mrs. E. R. Eustis and Mrs. J. T. Clark, will be served at one o'clock.

MISSION UNION

The regular meeting of the Mission Union will be held March 10th from 10 to 4. The luncheon at 12:30 will be in charge of Mrs. G. E. Wyman and Mrs. W. C. Hartwell, Tel. Win. 0443. Mrs. Louis K. Snyder will give a report on the International Foreign Missionary Conference at Washington. The thank offering envelopes are to be returned.

It is reported that the Greeley Estate, at heart of Mt. Vernon street and Myrtle terrace, is to be developed. Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Phippen, it is reported, will occupy the house at the corner of the Parkway and Highland avenue where Mr. Forrest G. Brackett is now living. The big mansion on the estate, is to be remodeled and new houses erected.

GOOD SAILING OVER WEEK-END

Some of the best ice boating of the season was enjoyed on Mystic Lake over the week-end, the extreme cold of Friday and Saturday, together with a wind of gale proportions, making exhilarating sport. The new Herschhoff boat brought out by Charles Welch was smashed during one of the strong puffs Saturday afternoon while being sailed by Tom Harris. The designer was aboard when a leeward runner gave way, and the boat was taken down for the season. Welch will have a new runner plank and new runners made for next season. Harris gave a fine exhibition of sailing during the afternoon, handling the boat in a way which made the old timers sit up and take notice. The sport was enjoyed on Sunday, to the entertainment of a large number of autists, who lined the parkway shores. During Sunday afternoon the boat sailed by Earl Nichols was put out of commission owing to a stray collar on the mast breaking. Several of the boats were taken down after the rain started late in the afternoon, and it is not anticipated that there will be any more sailing this season.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

Lending a helping hand will make it much harder for you to borrow trouble.
When you have reached the top of the mountain, my friend, just wave a little courage to the fellow at the foot hills.
Whenever I notice a man has signed his name to my humble and obedient servant, I am reminded of a door mat.
The best kind of a shadow for a man to make is for him to stand in his own sunshine.
The most profitable ups and downs in this life are those in keeping expenses down and appearances up.

NEW SCHOOL NEEDED

It is very probable that the question of the new school house for the north end of the town will come up at Monday night's session of Town Meeting. Such being the case, it is desirable that there be a full attendance of citizens present to pass upon this important matter. There are many families in town, especially in the district to be served by the new school, who are vitally interested in securing the building. It also appears that the Town should not only give to its erection. Such being the condition, the matter should be given the attention it deserves. The school is needed badly, and it is before the recently completed building program was started. Having gone thus far in its educational program, the Town should not complete it and give this section of our town educational facilities equal to that enjoyed elsewhere.

THERE'S NOTHING THE MATTER WITH THE CHURCHES

Would you want to live in a churchless community. It would take more space than this to rectify over so briefly all the things the churches as a whole are doing. A list of the people whose lives are influenced by the churches would be very nearly a world directory.
There is scarcely a phase of our domestic, national and international affairs which is not influenced by the Man of Nazareth.
Too many of us, though, are inclined, yes, determined, to pick out every seeming flaw, to criticize everything that is not done exactly to our own way of thinking, and to say pointedly, "That is what is the matter with the churches."
There's nothing the matter with the churches. But there is something wrong with many of the people in the churches.
They are "sore" at somebody else and are taking it out on the Lord.
They are trying to quiet a conscience by telling themselves they ought to be doing more and giving more.
They are making excuses for their own shortcomings.
When somebody begins to tell you, "This, that and the other is wrong with the churches," begin looking for what is wrong with the churches as a whole. Not that the churches can't be improved. But blatant criticism isn't getting the churches as a whole any where, and those who indulge in it should be spotted and labeled for what they are.
Does any business organization tolerate a knacker? No, of course not. What do you think of the man who is running down his own company? "Knacker" you label him.
The "Knacker," especially when he is a church member, brings disrepute and condemnation on the churches from the very people who should be taught to respect and ultimately to become a part of the church.
We need more church members who go to church and tell others what good the church is doing, what effect it has on the spiritual life of the community. We need boosters for the church.
It ought to be "May I come to your church. I want to help; I want a part in the work you are doing. Let me come to your church, and I'll do my best to live up to its ideals."
"Nothing succeeds like success," says the old adage. Of course churches fail in some of the things they attempt—many fail a dozen times before they succeed—but the successes far outnumber the failures.
Yes, consider the things we work to turn them into successes—but "tell the world about the successes" and the world will honor and praise, and be eager to join and help with other successes.
There's nothing the matter with the churches, but there's something with the matter with the man who tries to tell the world there is.

MISTAKES AT DIFFERENT VALUES

When the plumber makes a mistake he charges for it.
When a lawyer makes a mistake it is just what he wanted, because he has a chance to try the case all over again.
When a carpenter makes a mistake it's just what he expected.
When a doctor makes a mistake he buries it.
When a judge makes a mistake it becomes the law of the land.
When a preacher makes a mistake nobody knows the difference.
But when a printer makes a mistake—Good night!

BUST OF GOV. MCCALL UNVEILED

Exercises Held in Hall of Flags at State House Saturday

The marble bust of Samuel William McCall, World War Governor of Massachusetts, who died Nov. 4, 1923, was unveiled Saturday morning on the 74th anniversary of his birth, in the historic Hall of Flags at the State House, after Gov. Alvan T. Fuller, Emeritus, Charles W. Eliot of Harvard and Executive Council Charles L. Burrill had delivered eulogies in his memory. Letters were read from President Coolidge and Chief Justice Taft of the United States Supreme Court.
The exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. Dr. Edward A. Herion, chaplain of the State Senate. Executive Council Burrill, acting for Mrs. McCall, in the name of the bust, presented the gift in a few words, and Gov. Fuller accepted it on behalf of the State.
When the presentation speech had been finished 6-year-old Samuel McCall Chappell, grandson of the late Governor, stepped forward and recited the bust. The memorial rests in a niche in the side entrance to the Hall of Flags from Dorr Hall and Memorial Hall.
Some time in the Washington's Birthday celebration last Monday the bust, which had been placed in one of the country, apparently was knocked over, for on Tuesday it was found that one of the ears had been partially chipped. The sculptor, Charles S. Fagan, was called upon and the damage was repaired Friday.
Gov. Fuller in his speech of acceptance said:
"Gov. McCall was a scholar, an orator, a statesman, and brought to the service of his Commonwealth and Nation a splendid grasp of public affairs and a patriotism that was high and noble. He did much to advance the ideals of self-government. It was as Governor of Massachusetts that he led the great World War that his public service reached its greatest fruition."
"Gov. McCall knew art and literature as he is given to few men to know and appreciate. He was a student of both. He knew as few men know the works of Macaulay, Shakespeare, Milton, Homer and Virgil. He knew the value that such contributions bring to the ideals and aspirations of a race."
"Massachusetts loves to honor those who have given such unselfish devotion as is the case of him in whose memory we meet here today. Recalling the necessity for regularity in government, but exercising an independent spirit when it seemed that this was the right thing to do, Gov. McCall won for himself an enviable reputation as a statesman and administrator of public affairs."
"It was in the course of his life of public service inspire us in the days to come to greater efforts in behalf of the eternal Commonwealth that he loved and honored."

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Claude H. Perkins are the parents of a son born Feb. 26, at their home on Irving street.
Mr. and Mrs. John Bucci are the parents of a daughter born March 3, at their home on Irving street.
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Barnard of Woburn are spending several weeks in Florida.

"And yet when he came here to settle as a lawyer, he really felt a stranger. He had comparatively few acquaintances. He did not get much practice as a lawyer when he first started up in that capacity. He went into the business of owning and editing a newspaper, with a few friends to help him. He, however, soon became a public man, a Representative of Massachusetts, and remained so all his life. And it was his State office which gave him the most satisfaction, namely, the office of Governor of Massachusetts."

"I knew McCall well early in his career. I was attracted to him very much, first by his scholarly qualities. He was really an admirable scholar in Latin and Greek, which he learned in the old curriculum of the American colleges, such as Dartmouth, then furnished."

"We came here to try to make the example of Gov. McCall go down in memory of the rising generation. Indeed it is a great public object, to make the memory of such a man go down the generations. He leaves behind him comparatively few books and public addresses, means of commemoration. He was never a very active preacher of such matters, so that we can but pass down to the coming generation—now the rising generation—his memory—the memory of his deeds, his deeds and his own public spirit."

The following letters sent to Councilor Burrill from President Coolidge and Ex-President William H. Taft were read by Stanley R. Miller, who was for three years private secretary of Gov. McCall:
"My Dear Mr. Burrill:—In anticipation of the occasion a few days hence of the presentation of the bust of former Gov. McCall to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, I wish to express my gratification that this honor is being conferred."
"Gov. McCall's public service, including 20 years in the national House of Representatives and three years as Governor of Massachusetts, marks him as one of the most notable figures of his time, well deserving the testimony which you are to pay him."

From Ex-President Taft:
"My dear Mrs. McCall: I greatly regret that I cannot be present at the exercises to be held on the occasion of the presentation of the bust of Gov. McCall. I am very glad to know that there is to be in the Capitol of the State a well-executed bust of the late Governor. Gov. McCall's services during his several terms in Congress and his three terms as Governor, his literary discrimination, his sense of culture, his general personality, his power and style of expression, all made him one of Massachusetts' noted sons."

Among those present at the ceremony were Mrs. McCall and her three daughters, Ex-Gov. Edward T. Fuller, Commander H. C. Copeland, formerly naval aid on Gov. McCall's staff; Gen. and Mrs. Clarence L. Edwards, Ex-Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, Secretary of State Frederic W. Cook, Executive Council John H. Curran, Adj. Gen. Jesse F. Stevens, Hon. Samuel L. Mr. Clarence E. Hill of Walcott Terrace was among the Winchester people who attended the Inauguration Exercises at Washington Wednesday. Mrs. Hill, who has been at Neola Orleans for several weeks, is expected home the middle of this month.
Rev. Fr. Nathaniel J. Merritt, pastor of St. Mary's Church, is back in town again after enjoying a rest at Atlantic City.
Mrs. S. F. Goff is spending the winter in the South and for several weeks will be the guest of Judge and Mrs. J. A. Hartness of Stateville, N. C.
Report has it that Miss Dorothy Gosson, heiress, whose confinement at the McLean Hospital, Waverley, ceased shortly after the removal of William F. Jardine as her guardian, is to be the appointment of John M. O'Donoghue in 1925, is the new owner of the former William S. Forbes estate on Swan road, Myopia Hill.
Luncheon and afternoon tea served from 10:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. at the Betsy-Jean Tea and Gift Shop, Parkway and Washington streets. Attractive gifts sold at a special price.
Mrs. Joel H. Metcalf, widow of the pastor of the First Parish Church, Portland, Me., who died recently, has consented to take up the duties of parish assistant until a new pastor is obtained, and possibly as a permanent position.
Miss Emma H. White of 120 Forest street, Winchester Highland, met with a serious accident in the early evening of Tuesday, when she fell in the dining room of her home fracturing her right hip. Miss White is at the Winchester Hospital where she sustained the injury over two months. This accident awakens the sympathy of her many friends and is especially sad because her two sisters, Miss Viola and Miss Kate have been shut-ins for a long time.
Charles French, a former well-known citizen, at one time director of Winchester's first steam road roller, was heard from this week. Assistant Water Registrar Frederick L. Wakemeyer found a letter from Mr. French from Jacksonville, Fla. He states he is well and hearty and gives his present address as Tampa, Fla.
The prompt action of Walter McDonald, a salesman at the Winchester branch of J. H. Bates & Co., resulted in saving a little girl from sustaining serious burns Tuesday afternoon. Mr. McDonald was driving along Swanton street when his attention was attracted to a child of five or six years who had run screaming into the middle of the road. A closer glance revealed that her clothing was afire, and McDonald quickly stopped his machine and hastened to her assistance. Whipping off his coat he quickly wrapped it about the badly burned child, and in a few minutes the threatening flames extinguished. In doing so his right hand was badly burned, requiring the attention of a physician. The child sustained slight burns about the body. In response to his questions she told Mr. McDonald that she had put a light match in the pocket of her coat. He did not learn her name.
James T. Blair, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Blair of Falls river, a prominent athlete at the University of Maine, has been elected to the presidency of the Senior class at the Orono college.
Local followers of track and field sports have been glad to see the success achieved this winter by Woburn athlete Ed Blake who has been running regularly on the Dartmouth short distance relay team. Blake has done a lot of his summer practicing on Manchester Field, and is well known to many of its frequenters.

Grand Regent Annie E. Vayo attended the State Conference in Boston on Sunday last. A report of the conference will be read at the next business meeting.
At the special meeting which the Court held last evening were discussed for the March social evening which will take the form of an Irish night, due to its falling on March 19th which is very close to the birthday of Ireland's patron saint. Guest tickets for this social may be obtained from any of the committee in charge. Sister Agnes Quinn, Mary McGrath or Anna Hanlon. The committee promises that all who attend will feel well repaid as the March social evening is always one of the best meetings of the year.
Sister Katherine Smith of Swanton street is recovering from her recent illness and we hope to soon have her present at our meetings and socials again.
Cards have been received this week announcing the engagement of our popular Monitor, Sister Betsy Noonan, and Mr. Ralph F. Bullard of the C. F. Hovey and Co. Staff. The Court's sincere congratulations are extended to Sister Noonan, who is one of the most popular of our younger members.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

The next meeting of the Winchester Circle of the Florence Crittenton League will be an all day sewing meeting at the First Congregational Church on Thursday, March 12th. Instead of a regular luncheon, there will be a box luncheon at 12:30. Members are urgently requested to attend and help on the sewing, as there is still a great deal to be done. The time for the annual Benefit Bridge has been set for April 17th.
Last Saturday morning the Winchester Fire Department was alerted by telephone call from Woburn for a fire in the cellar of the Connolly residence at 61 Montvale Avenue, the home of "Jimmy" Connolly, internationally known distance runner. The Woburn Department was unable to respond, engaged at the time in fighting a two alarm fire at Peterson's Patent Leather Plant, a blaze which burned the roof from the factory before it was put out. The Winchester firemen quickly extinguished the fire in the private dwelling without damage.

Last Friday evening while Lou Ross, 14 W. Main street was having his hair cut in a barber shop at the corner of Florence and Harvard street some one stole the motor meter from his car which was parked near the building.

One of the severest wind storms of the year was that which Winchester experienced last Sunday evening. During the course of the storm the Police Station received many phone calls telling of trouble in several parts of the town from fallen tree limbs and crossed wires. The local authorities notified the Edison repair crew to fix a broken wire on Main street near the residence of Rev. Howard J. Chidley which had plunged the houses in that vicinity into darkness, and later in the evening informed Superintendent William Nicholson of the tree department that a good sized apple tree on the Withersell estate on Church street had blown down and was blocking the thoroughfare. Supt. Nicholson and his men got onto the job and fixed things up for the night, cleaning the job up permanently the next day.

WINCHESTER BOYS ON CHAMPIONSHIP GODDARD FIVE

The basketball team of Goddard Seminary at Barre, Vermont, won the state prep school championship at the Rutland Tournament held last Saturday. This is good news to local sports followers who will remember that two local boys, "Doc" Tansey, and "Levi" O'Donnell are members of the Goddard quintette, the latter leading the team as captain. Goddard has enjoyed a very successful season defeating many of the leading private school and college freshman outfits. "Muggins" Tansey won the distinction of being picked as all-Vermont left forward, a tribute to his excellent playing throughout the season. Both Winchester boys were members of the school's crack football team last fall and will make strong bids for the varsity nine this spring.

JOHN TOFURI

John Tofuri, seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Tofuri of 44 Holland street, died Friday night at his home after a brief illness with pneumonia. The little boy was a pupil in the second grade of Saint Mary's Parochial School, and had attended his classes earlier in the week, seemingly in his usual good health. He was ill only two days. Besides his parents John is survived by three brothers. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Saint Mary's Church conducted by Rev. Father Joseph A. Quigley. The bearers were all schoolmates of the deceased. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery, Montvale.

LOCAL U. S. MARINE MAKES GOOD

Quantico, Va., March 13.—By showing marked aptitude for his military duties, Louis Frederick Grunzel, of Winchester, Mass., has been promoted to the rank of sergeant at the Marine Corps station here. His name appears among the Marines who have recently been advanced in rank at this military post.

Louis, who is a son of Mrs. Ruth Truitt, of Winchester, joined the Marine Corps at Boston several months ago. In recent weeks he has been stationed at Quantico, principal military base of the Marine Corps in the eastern part of the United States. When certain men were recommended for promotion recently, Louis was one of the Marines selected.

HIGH SCHOOL PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

The regular meeting of the High School Parent-Teacher Association, will be held Monday evening, March 23, 1925 in the High School Assembly Hall at 8 o'clock. Speaker, Dr. A. Warren Stearns, Dr. Stearns is lecturing under the auspices of the Massachusetts Society of Mental Hygiene and will explain the causes of failure in high school from the standpoint of mental hygiene.

This meeting offers an opportunity for high parents and teachers to consider an important subject and to enjoy the social hour which will follow the lecture.

Allan Page, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Page of Everett avenue has been appointed manager of the hockey team, at Choate school for the coming year.

UNITARIAN MEN'S CLUB

Dr. Shields Warren of the Boston Herald, who is also connected with the staff of the Boston City Hospital, gave a talk last Friday on "Hobbling Through the West." Dr. Warren soon after his discharge from the army started to "hump" his way through the west. His address was very amusing, stating how he travelled in true hobnob fashion, riding the bumpers, in side-door Pullman and in all the approved methods of travel known to the profession.

The annual meeting will take place early in April on date to be announced later. It will be preceded by supper at 6:30 followed by an entertainment consisting of songs and music. The April meeting will be a union meeting of the men's clubs of Winchester Protestant Churches and will be held on April 30 at 8 P. M. in Metcalf Hall. There will be an address by Rabbi Levi of Boston. Dr. Levi, as radio lovers are aware, is one of the most appealing speakers of our time.

ACCIDENT ON CROSS STREET SUNDAY

Shortly before 5:30 P. M. Sunday, John Kearns of 2 Holton street was removed to the Winchester Hospital as the result of an encounter with an automobile on Cross street.

According to one report of the accident, Kearns was proceeding along Cross street on foot when he noticed a Maxwell touring car approaching. When the car came abreast of him Kearns attempted to grasp the car as though he had been told to do so. He was struck and knocked down. A passing automobile picked him up and took him to the Winchester Hospital where he was found to be suffering from a general shaking up and a lacerated scalp. He was treated by Doctor L. Joyce of Woburn, and later removed by the Doctor to his home. The Maxwell did not stop after the accident, and in the attendant excitement no one remembered to get its number.

MISSIONARY MEETING

A missionary meeting of the Woman's League of the First Baptist Church will be held at the home of Mrs. Newton Shultz, 14 Winthrop street, Tuesday, March 17, at 3 p. m. The leader will be Mrs. Ida P. Armstrong. The general topic discussed will be "Evangelistic Work in the Foreign Field." Miss Elsie M. Kittling of South China will be the speaker.

Michael Queen, Taxi Service, Main street, Winchester, Tel. Win. 1673.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

The regular meeting of the Fortnightly on Monday, March 9 was called to order by Mrs. Lorence M. Woodside, 1st Vice President. After the business meeting, brief reports were given from the Federation meeting at Malden by Mrs. Helen I. Fessenden and Mrs. Alice S. Jenkins. The club then listened with much pleasure to a group of songs by Cedric Hastings, baritone of the Harvard Glee Club, accompanied by Mrs. Lura W. Watkins.

The club was glad to welcome Supt. James J. Quinn who brought a message concerning Education as a Science saying it is fast becoming organized as one of the sciences. He told of the research work which is being carried on in order to discover and eliminate useless words. Only two-thirds of the words used in 1914 are now used. What of the other third? Letters of business men are being examined also words that children use in their compositions, and words which are used by their parents so that better writing may result from this study. Mr. Quinn spoke of the musical need of a greater utilization of the art and musical resources of Boston for our school children, and the desirability of attractive surroundings for them; and closed with a plea for acquainting them with the masterpieces of literature.

Mrs. Woodside, in introducing the speaker of the afternoon said that the Fortnightly had always been interested in the drama, and had given many plays, but that this was the first time it had arranged to have a lecture on "The Art of the Theatre." The audience who listened to Mr. Frank Cheney Hersey, A.M., instructor in English at Harvard University, lecturer and editor, were all the more keenly interested in the subject, for it opened up vistas of which they had but little conception.

Mr. Hersey gave a comprehensive survey of the growth of acting and the production of plays, illustrating his talk by many beautiful slides on stereophones. He first traced the development of the structure of the stage from one of depth, with an "apron" in front as in Shakespeare's time to the "picture" stage of David Belasco. Then came views of play bills dating from 1703. That of the "Boston Theatre" in 1794 was of especial interest. Previous to this date only "Moral Lectures" such as the "Moral Lecture of Romeo and Juliet" with a solemn dirge and a funeral procession" were allowed at the "New Exhibition Room" in Puritan Boston. Another Boston bill had the names of Edgar Allen Poe's parents on it. A rare Ford's Theatre playbill dated April 13th had on it a patriotic verse insertion in honor of Lincoln's presence that fatal night. We were shown pictures of famous actors and actresses, Nell Gwyn, David Garrick, Mrs. Siddons, Ellen Terry, Edwin Booth, Sir Henry Irving, Beerbohn Tree. The lecturer revealed the secret of their power, explained the stage settings of their plays, and mingled many delightful personal reminiscences with his comments.

We were then told of the revolt against detail and historical accuracy by the modern imaginative artists of the stage, notably Gordon Craig and Granville Barker, and of the English standpoint, and Bakst from the Russian. Vivid and startling indeed were the many illustrations of this impressionistic school. Mr. Hersey praised Belasco, and the Ziegfeld productions in America and said "a great many these days are doing interesting things."

He closed by quoting Bernard Shaw to the effect that "whatever Bastilles may fall, the Theatre will not fall. The homes of Hohenzollern and Hapsburg may go—nobody cares. Prime ministers and commanders may come and go—but the plays of Euripides, Aristophanes, Moliere, Goethe, Ibsen, Shakespeare, are fixed in the eternal scheme of things."

The Music Department of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs has for a long time felt the need of a State Song which extols the glory of Massachusetts rather than the glories of the nation.

The Department is therefore offering a prize of $40-$50 for the words and $20 for music for the best song written by a Massachusetts woman or women. The rights of publication to remain with the composer. The song must be of even meter with two verses of not more than eight lines each. Chorus optional. It may be written in two, three or four part harmony, and within the range of middle "C" to the "E" in the octave above. This is the maximum range.

Mrs. H. H. A. Beach, Miss Mable Daniels, Mrs. Edward MacDowell and two men whose names are not announced as yet, will act as judges. The compositions will be sent to them numbered, with the name enclosed in a sealed envelope, and not to be opened until the decision has been made. Therefore, when sending manuscripts do not put your name on it, but enclose name and address in your letter.

All words not set to music must be in, not later than April 1st. If you wish to collaborate with someone, it will save advantage to do so. The Contest will close May 15, 1925. All Massachusetts women are eligible to enter the Contest, whether they are club women or not. Remember we are just as anxious to have an original tune as original words, for we want to feel this State Song is entirely our own product. Send all manuscripts to Mrs. Mina C. deCastillo, Chairman of Music, 324 Franklin street, Cambridge, Mass.

The Star received its annual letter from Henry J. (Buckie) Lyons this week, together with his remittance for two years. Mr. Lyons wishes to make sure that the Star, as he writes "I would be lost if I could not hear about old Winchester weekly, and I will always continue in taking the Star and in belonging to Winchester American—St. Louis American League Post No. 97." His reports seeing several Winchester boys and gives his address as 5444 South Union avenue, Chicago.

The unusually good weather of last Saturday and Sunday brought the motorists out in full force, local and metropolitan officers reporting traffic as very heavy throughout both days. A hardy-gurdy grinding out defunct popular airs in the square Saturday evening was hailed by marketeers and hangers-on about the center as a sure sign that spring had arrived.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

All people who are wrapped up in themselves make a package about the size of a pill box.

When a man trips he should fall forward, in getting up he will be further along.

It is a very good thing to remember all kindnesses of others, forgetting your own.

Flattery is like a perfume, good to smell of, but not to swallow.

If you have any troubles take them to a lawyer, he gets paid for hearing them.

If a man cannot smile he is built wrong, but if he can smile and won't, let him alone.

THE TRUTH ABOUT SULPHUR AND MOLASSES

Sulphur and molasses is not a blood purifier. There is no more excuse for taking it in the Spring than for eating mule soup.

The best Spring tonic is fresh air. Those of you who have been following health rules regularly during the winter do not need a tonic. However, fresh air, sunlight and exercise are very successful body builders. Daylight saving should be an incentive to outdoor recreation after work hours, whether it be recreation in golf, or tennis, or walking.

Another thing—there is no excuse for the habit of taking a physic periodically. The real food, including green vegetables, fresh fruits, coarse breads and cereals, and sufficient exercise are the best regulators.

CHILDREN OF THE PARSONAGE

The appearance of the new volume of "Who's Who in America," with its 25,000 biographies of prominent men, for one reason or another, are considered of sufficient consequence to merit inclusion in such a group, should serve to point for all their fathers to have been the children of ministers. It has been settled many times in the past, but persists in breaking out of the cover of the present volume. Mr. A. N. Marquis, the editor of the volume, with the aid of Prof. Stephen S. Visher of Indiana University, would seem to have the list anchored under a weight of statistics sufficient to make the obsequies permanent. Special inquiries made among the persons included in the volume of "Who's Who" show that 11.1 per cent of them had clergymen as their fathers. In addition, a considerable proportion reported their fathers to have been a "farmer and preacher," "teacher and preacher," and the like. In other words, Mr. A. N. Marquis is out, in 1870, the census year nearest the birth of most of those in the volume—there were about 40,000 Protestant clergymen in America, including those working part time at that profession. This was about 4 per cent of all the men. This means that about 1870, one Protestant clergyman in each fifteen had a child who later found a place in Who's Who. And, in proportion to the population, that the Congregationalists fully 28 times the average number of notables. Many other statistics, as drawn from the same group of facts, have been gathered in the opening pages of the new edition and will repay study. This is shown that 63.67 per cent of those who furnished complete data for the previous edition were graduates of colleges or of the national military and naval academies. Another 13.69 per cent were non-graduate students. But 8.12 per cent had not had a high school education. And the old idea as to the place of birth celebrities receive a knock in the sentiment that most of them came from farms; 24.5 from small towns; 24.8 per cent from small cities; 24.8 per cent from large cities or their immediate suburbs.

OLD MONUMENTAL WORKS CHANGES HANDS

The H. P. Shattuck Co., Inc., established in 1876 and widely known throughout this section as producers of monumental work of high excellence, has purchased the real estate, stock and business formerly owned and operated by Bennett Perry and Sons at Stoneham. This plant is well known to Winchester residents as the site of the Bennett Perry Farm Hill railroad station. The new owners will conduct the plant as a branch office and show yard, carrying a large stock of granite monuments and being thoroughly equipped to promptly execute all special orders. Mrs. Claire Price Perry, has entered their employ.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Aldrich of Brookline have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Hope Moffette, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Stoddard Aldrich to George Edward Stoddard Aldrich of this town.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Mr. Arthur P. Gargas, proprietor of the Winchester Shoe Shining Parlor, was stricken suddenly last Monday at his home at 320 Wellington street, where he was later found by his brother in a helpless condition. He was removed to the Winchester Hospital, where he has been found to be suffering from a shock. Late reports indicate that his condition is slightly improved, but it is likely to be some little time before he can leave the hospital.

A real estate man told me this week about a residence his firm had sold which had been owned by a mutual acquaintance, a man of large means. The owner had put over a million dollars into it, but died suddenly before its completion. He had also built several fine homes in the town. The residence had to be sold at less than half the money he had put into it. His wife, in his will, gave the property to his friend, "it seems too bad to have his family lose all that money."

I replied "But he left a large amount of money."

"Yes," was the reply "But that is all he had left."

WHICH IS THE GREATER NEED?

To the Editor:

Through the columns of the Star may I call to the attention of our citizens some facts from the School Report that warrant much consideration at this time in connection with the choosing of a site for the proposed new school building in North Winchester.

On page 231, the report says under Wadleigh School, "The best utilization of this building will eventually be somewhat of a problem." Isn't this the time to consider the problem that later the Wadleigh may not be considered in the scrap heap?

Quoting again, "The town must consider the necessity of building a larger and more inclusive intermediate School to replace the Wadleigh." The Junior High movement is no longer in its infancy; it has proved its value. In our town a Junior High would relieve the congestion in the High School. It would give EVERY pupil now in the elementary schools an opportunity to live within its portals from one to three years and thereby enter High School more efficiently prepared than is possible under the present inadequate restricted conditions in the Wadleigh.

The Wyman is overcrowded, the Noonan nearly full to capacity and it will take another year before the problem of school districts is satisfactorily solved. If a new Junior High took the place of the Wadleigh, would take care of all the overflow from the Wyman and the elementary schools, together with providing for the Highland School district a favorable and accessible school.

The citizens of North Winchester have a school in that district. We have central schools too large to be the best and most adequate have not seen a model in up-to-date architecture. My little vesting mistakes in the other buildings might be avoided and much gained by the constructive criticism that comes from "ring" in a building. Why not one where the school near the present one, where it would be available in part for summer use in connection with Leonard Field?

The writer is not alone in believing, however, that the most pressing and immediate need in our progress is for a Junior High School which would provide for every pupil in town greater educational opportunity.

Therefore, I should like to propose that a committee consisting of our most able Superintendent Mr. Quinn, Finance Committee and one or more parents from the Washington and Wadleigh Schools be appointed to investigate and report on which is the most pupils efficiently at the present time, the erection of an elementary or a Junior High School.

Thank you for this space, I am

Yours sincerely,

Ella M. Emerson

MEETING OF THE LADIES' FRIENDLY SOCIETY

Tuesday, March 10th, a large number of members of the Ladies' Friendly Society and guests enjoyed the delicious luncheon served under the auspices of Mrs. E. R. Eustis and Mrs. J. T. Clark.

Rev. Minkwell Savage of Worcester, the speaker of the afternoon, was greeted by one of the largest audiences of the year. Mr. Savage spoke briefly of the history of Unitarianism, which really began in the time of the Reformation and not, as many suppose, a hundred years ago, when the speaker of the afternoon, to whose sacrifices Unitarians owe so much, and who are unappreciated.

Mr. Savage urged church members to show loyalty to their church by giving of their substance, and by attending church. He has no patience with the "tired American business" man who worships on the golf course, or who is with the minister of his church at Sunday morning service, in spirit, only. Disembodied spirits are of little value to a minister or a church. Full pews are a church's best advertisement.

Mrs. W. W. Winship added greatly to the enjoyment of the meeting by singing splendidly a group of songs, "May Time," "Pirate Dreams" and "In an Old Fashioned Town." Mrs. E. C. Alexander was at the piano.

C. D. OF A. NOTES

The interest of the Court is at present being centered on the Social Evening which will be conducted on next Thursday night in Lyceum Hall under the auspices of the Visiting committee, of which Sister Nora O'Melia is chairman. This social will take the form of a "fish week" with decorations, favors, games and refreshments all in keeping with the occasion. The entertainment, the first part of which will be the start plan under the direction of Sister Agnes Quinn, and the second a concert of wide variety, is being produced by Sisters Quinn, Mary McGrath and Anna Hanlon. We have expectations that this will be one of the most enjoyable of this year's socials. Guest tickets may be obtained from any member of the committee.

At the next regular meeting plans for the annual banquet will be discussed. The committee is now working on holding the supper at the Glendale Farm Inn, Woburn. However, the Court will decide this later.

ADJOURNED TOWN MEETING

The meeting then passed to the consideration of those articles in the warrant not touched upon at the first session. The first three articles passed without comment. Mr. Stone explained in passing article 11 which called for $7500 to be expended in grading and improving the new schoolhouse lot. Mr. Stone explained that $5000 of the sum was to be spent at the Lincoln and the remainder at the Mystic School lot. Article 12 calling for $4500 for granite walks around the school houses was quickly disposed of with favorable action, and the long awaited article 13 relative to the new school in the Highlands came up for discussion. Chairman Stone of the School Committee was the first speaker, and after touching briefly upon the necessity for a school in the proposed district offered a motion that the Secretary be authorized to raise $140,000, $135,500 to be borrowed on 20 year bonds with a reserve of $5000 to erect a schoolhouse upon a lot of land situated at Prince and Highland Avenues, $125,000 to be expended upon the building and $15,000 on the lot. Mr. Craighwell then moved the rejection of the building but not the selected site. He strongly asserted that all the other new schools had been judiciously placed and that the same mistake would not be made in this latest instance. According to the speedometer on his and other automobiles a position on Keown Road at Highland Ave., was much more nearly in the center of the district which the new building is to serve, and that much more desirable. He wanted to make an amendment to the motion before he was voting for it. Mr. Stone explained that the Keown Road site had been considered but had been deemed too near the hospital. Mr. Laraway thought that even with his admittedly superior vocal equipment he would be unable to disturb anyone at the hospital by shouting in that direction from Keown Road. Town Counsel Pike asked for a sense of the meeting vote on the sites in question whereupon Mr. Stone stated that as long as the meeting seemed interested in locations it should consider one on Appalachian Road and Reservoir street which the building committee had rejected because of its proximity to the town water supply. Mr. Craighwell arose and asked his undersigned to be the motion of a schoolhouse be rejected with the recommendation of the School Building Committee et al. closing with a few remarks upon general education and its descent through the ages from Socrates and others whose names we did not catch because of a spirit of levity which had possessed the meeting down through Shakespeare to the present day with a hope that the proposed new school would prove a bulwark to the future development of the town and nation. The discussion seemed to be moving more or less in a circle when Mr. Snyder asked that the meeting vote on the acceptance of the school and settle the site later. A motion was made to this effect and passed by an eye vote of considerable volume. Mr. Kiesel wanted to know why the financial provisions of the original motion could not be accepted, and Mr. Ives replied that he did not feel it wise to vote upon money for a lot which had not yet been decided upon. Mr. Rowe then moved that the selection of the site for the schoolhouse be put over until the next session of the meeting when suitable descriptions of the various lots in question not heretofore described could be drawn up for consideration by the voters. His motion was carried, and the meeting began to thin out, it being apparent that many in the hall were interested only in the new school.

Article 14 providing for a modification of the building laws in the business and commercial districts of the town, particularly stating that the distance between buildings in this area be reduced from the now required 30 feet so that structures may be erected either abutting or ten feet apart was passed after favorable remarks by Mr. Allen, Chairman of the Finance Committee, and Mr. Laraway. In connection with the next article in the warrant inserted to see whether the town wanted to amend the zoning map so as to include the Prince School lot in the adjoining business section. Mr. Parsons moved indefinite postponement, stating that after conference with residents of the vicinity, the planning board was opposed to the suggested change. The motion was successful.

The discussion of article 16 relative to the sale of the rejected schoolhouses and lots and Mr. Laraway's contention that the best way to ensure the highest returns was by means of public auction resulted in the postponement of action until a suitable motion could be framed by the town council. The town voted to accept certain parcels of land as offered by the Winchester Landries Inc. and Thomas M. and Gertrude Y. Vinson, after which action upon Article 19 providing for additional space adjoining the Palmer street playground was indefinitely postponed.

Article 20 brought out the last real brush of the meeting when Mr. Davidson supported a motion to place the portable schoolhouse on the old Wyman lot at the disposition of the Park Department for use at the Palmer street playground, and asked for an appropriation of $600 to be used in moving and equipping the building. Mr. Laraway favored the motion while Mr. Stone, speaking for the School Committee was opposed to its acceptance claiming that the overcrowding of the present Wyman district might make the use of the building by his department imperative.

Mr. Harris of the Finance Committee stated that his committee had recommended unfavorable action since it felt it unwise to take sides in a departmental dispute and were further of the opinion that if the transfer of the building was made the structure would be used as a bathhouse, the creation of which at Wedge Pond town sentiment in the past had opposed. After further reassuring remarks by Mr. Davidson the original motion was passed by an eye and nay vote which any one with the courage of strong convictions might well have doubted.

The expected fireworks in connection with article 21, the Loring Ave. playground which was on the cards as one of the highlights of the meeting, failed to materialize when Mr. Parsons succeeded in getting a postponement until a subsequent meeting that more information regarding titles might be obtained. Mr. Craighwell wanted the matter indefinitely postponed but his motion was lost though there were several in the hall who seemed to favor it.

The town By-Laws relating to fire-arms were amended with minor changes introduced by Mr. Vinson striking out Section 21, Article III, and substituting in its place the following which we quote from the records: "Sec. 21—No person shall except as authorized or required by law fire or discharge any gun, fowling piece or other means of propelling an air rifle in the town of Winchester; but the provisions of this section shall not apply to the Chief of Police or other officers in the performance of their duties, nor to the use of such weapons at any military exercise nor in the lawful defense of the person, family or property of any citizen nor the rights and privileges of an owner or lessee of land as set forth in Chapter 131, of the General Laws." Mr. Vinson and Mr. Laraway spoke in favor of the acceptance of the above. There was no opposition.

Following this there remained but two articles relating to building lines and layouts for acceptance and the hall rapidly cleared. Despite this fact Mr. Davidson refused to adjourn the meeting until the articles were run through. The reading of locations was dispensed with and the several motions passed as quickly as possible with the exception of the last two articles which were at the suggestion of Mr. Dotten postponed until Monday, March 23 at 7:45 P. M.

THE ISLAND THAT UNCLE SAM FORGOT

One of Uncle Sam's tiniest Philippine Islands, at least he thinks it is this and is prosecuting his claim to it is flourishing just now under the Dutch flag. An agreement between the United States and the Netherlands to arbitrate the question of the island's ownership has just been signed. A bulletin from the Washington, D. C. headquarters of the National Geographic Society says: "It is conceivable that the Old Woman Who Lived in the Shoe might have known nothing about it if one of her offspring had wandered away. When the United States took over the Philippines from Spain in 1898 it acquired so many islands that, like the old woman, it didn't know what to do. The six or seven—or maybe it is eight or nine—thousand islands have never even been accurately counted and more than 1500 of them have no names. It is not strange, then, that one of the smaller and more remote islands, though it did have a name, Palmas, was neglected for many years.

Half as big as Central Park, a few of the many Philippine islets are so isolated as Palmas. It lies 48 miles off the nearest point of Mindanao, Cape San Augustin and is the farthest, southeastern bit of land claimed to be a part of the Philippines. So neglected has the islet been that many maps do not show it, and most of the gazetteers pass its name by.

Palmas is it sometimes called (Mauras) is only a little over half the size of Central Park in New York City, being only one third miles long by two-thirds of a mile wide; a mere speck in the sea when its distance from large land bodies is considered. It lies about 29 miles west of the 127th meridian (east longitude) which forms the eastern boundary of the region ceded by Spain to the United States, and about 40 miles north of the parallel 4°45' (north latitude) which forms the southern boundary. It is therefore well within the area marked out by the treaty for United States ownership.

First American Visit in 1906 There is no record of a visit by any official of the United States or the Philippines to Palmas until 1906 when Leonard Wood, then governor of the adjacent island of Mindanao, while on an inspection trip through the waters of his province, anchored off the island. To his surprise the little boat that put off from the island village carried a Dutch flag. It was explained to him that the native heerman held an appointment from the Dutch and that for 15 years Dutch ships had called once a year to bring supplies and take away copra. Four hundred and fifty-eight inhabitants were then on the islet.

A report was duly made on this apparent alien occupation of American territory; the State Department became interested; and for 17 years the matter has been under consideration by the plenipotentiaries of the Netherlands, Spain and the United States.

LOOK AT THE COST

Gas fuel comes direct to you through pipes. The dirt, soot, cinders, ash and smoke remain behind at the gas plant. You get only the refined product, clean, efficient, ready to use. And you pay for it after you have used it.

The cost of gas service is one of the least expensive items in the household budget.

The average man spends 15 per cent of his income for food, 16 per cent for rents and taxes, 11 per cent for entertainment and charities, 12 per cent for clothing, 9 per cent for miscellaneous and 4 per cent for such services as gas, telephone, electricity, street car and water supply.

Taken alone, gas service is only a little more than one cent of your total expenditures. Think of that.

John Oliver LaGore, in a communication to the National Geographic Society, writes: "The Halibut is the largest fish of the Flounder family and one of the most widespread in its range. It claims all seas for its habitat, in regions north of Havre, New York, and San Francisco.

Eye Position Varies With Climate

A strange fact concerning this and other cold-water species is that they have eyes and color on the right side while species inhabiting warm water have eyes and color on the left side.

The Halibut usually frequents offshore banks and exists in great numbers in many localities but is sought after with such eagerness that it is gradually decreasing in numbers. It grows to a large size and fish weighing 200 or 300 pounds are often taken. A record weight was established when in June, 1917, the Eva Avina, fishing 50 miles off Thatcher Island, Massachusetts, caught a Halibut 9 feet 2 inches long and 4 feet 2 inches broad, weighing 625 pounds dressed.

The seaward movement of the Halibut has been noted by American fishermen. When the taking of Halibut first began, it was most abundant in the waters of the United States, Canada, and the British Isles.

dam on Georges Banks. Later it gradually disappeared from those banks and went farther out to sea. It is now found mostly in the deep gulches between the offshore banks, in water 100 to 350 fathoms deep.

Stan Frey Fly of Tail
A voracious eater, the Halibut feeds upon the Skate, Cod, Haddock, Menhaden, Mackerel, Herring, Lobster, Cusk, etc. Crabs and Mollusks are also to its liking. Instances are recorded where it has attacked Codfish and stunned them by the flip of its tail. One was so busy putting a big Cod horse to death that it allowed a dory to steal up and capture it before it had become aware of its peril.

The female Halibut becomes heavy with roe in July and August, and instances have occurred where such a large quantity was taken from one of them that a good-sized man could scarcely carry it.

The Metropolitan Garage on North Main street, conducted by Mr. Howard Wheeler for a number of years has been purchased by Messrs. E. S. Wellington and E. T. Coleman, who will continue the business under the firm name of the Winchester Sales Co., handling the well known Pierce Arrow car in Winchester. The new firm will conduct a repairing department under the direction of skilled workmen and will stock storage oil and gas. Mr. Wheeler, who is still in town, has not decided just what activities he will undertake in the future.

Lawns cared for, windows washed, carpets beaten, screens put up, C. C. 29 Summer street, Winchester.

When Mr. Frank Fallon returned to his home on Lloyd street last week after an absence from town he found a pane of glass in a window in the rear of the house had been broken near the back on the frame. A battered Ford Sedan had been seen standing near his house on one occasion, but upon a neighbor going out to ascertain its business had immediately gone away. Nothing in Mr. Fallon's house was missing, and the matter was turned over to the local police.

"THE GOOSE HANGS HIGH"

Famous Comedy Making a Popular Appeal to Boston Audiences at the Plymouth

The Dramatists' Theatre, Inc., production of the famous Lewis Beach comedy, "The Goose Hangs High," is proving one of the outstanding hits of Boston theatres.

This delightful play of American home life is now in its second week of a limited engagement at the Plymouth Theatre, where it ended its first week on Saturday to the record audiences of the season.

"The Goose Hangs High" has its locale in a mid-Western town and tells of the happenings to the Ingalls family—a household of typical American folks who live their lives just as you and I live, and have and solve their troubles in a most natural way. Bernard Ingalls and his wife have sacrificed everything to educate their three children. It is Christmas time when the children arrive home from school, but instead of taking part in the family reunion so thoughtfully planned for them by their parents, they run off to join their younger friends, in a thoughtless, tactless way, leaving their loved ones to wonder on the ways of the younger generation. However, later the father is enmeshed in a political quarrel that puts him in his position and hounds him for ruin. It is here this play takes a serious turn and develops into a virile drama which ends in the children solving life's most serious problem and running off with the honors. There is enough comedy to make a book for any farce and coupled with the tense dramatic situations and a pretty romance, this play has all the elements that go to make a success.

The cast in brief:

Mr. Thomas Whiffen, Eric Dressler
William Handley, Lorna Elliott and others.

Matinees will be given Thursday and Saturday during the remainder of the run at the Plymouth.

WADLEIGH PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

At the recent meeting of the Wadleigh Parent-Teacher Association the parents heard a most interesting program by five teachers, the subject being, "Home Study."

Miss Hayward gave concrete example of assignment. English work. Mrs. Rowe showed what was done by pupils in geography in 20 minutes at home. Miss Davis work in history and Eric Dressler, mathematics. Miss Barr told of the foundation laid in eighth grade study of Latin for High School Latin. No new problems are assigned but practice at home is necessary for perfection in principles taught at school.

One hour daily for four days, or 20 minutes for each subject is assigned to pupils of the seventh grade, one hour and a quarter daily for five days for the eighth grade.

Mr. Quinn paid a glowing tribute to Mr. Crowell and the teachers, voicing the verdict of many parents that the need of home study and results obtained had been most acceptably presented, following which refreshments and social hour were enjoyed.

The Mestersingers are in Winchester April 2nd. Have you bought your tickets? If not, order them at once at the Star Office, Bennett Winchester Elks' Charity Fund.

BIG BROADWAY CAST AND BEAUTY BRIGADE

The New York Winter Garden's annual revue, "The Passing Show" New 1924 edition, coming to the Shubert Theatre, Boston, for a limited engagement commencing March 23, is acclaimed as the greatest show ever produced. There is a company of 150 people. There are two acts and 30 scenes. It is said the costumes worn in this colossal spectacle are the loveliest in design, the richest in fabric and the most tasteful in coloring ever seen in a modern extravaganza.

The music by Sigmund Romberg and Jack Schwartz is beautiful. In this year's edition of the "Passing Show" will be found a cast of Broadway favorites headed by Billy B. Van, George LeMaire, Lulu McConnell, Ruth Gillette, Jack Rose, Eleanor Willem, LeRoy Duffield, Dan Healy, Harry McNaughton, Harrington Sisters, Cathleen Healey, Herbert Astor, Richard Lee, Ben Franklin, Trade Twins, William Simpson, Tracy and Hay, Robert Simpson, Andrew Joachim, James Steager, The Marvelous Lockfords and the famous Winter Garden Beauty Brigade including such beauties as the Misses Frances Blythe, Sally Broni, Florence Elmore, Josephine Turley, Ada Landis, Olga Merville, Elaine Mortenson, Peggy Neil, Bonna Odear, Marion Pozzys, Dorothy Phillips, Agatha Phillips, Marie Talle, Mae Reeve, Flo Summerville, Peggy Walden, Rosalind Kuhnau, Viola Watson, Billy Williams, Rosalind Wilson, Eleanor Vauzhan, Jeanne Vernon, Opal Skinner, Helen Murray, Alice Parry, Florence Quinn, Violet Rose, Fern LeRoy, Florence Lytle, Belle McLoughlin, Gypsy Mooney, Betty Carpenter, Evelyn DeLamere, Georgia Gray, Ruth Hansen, Virginia Banks, Alice Blane, Cyrella Casey, Dolly Casner, Ann Cluin.

The annual supper of the Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church was held last evening with a record attendance. Rev. J. Frank Chase, secretary of the Watch and Ward Society of New England, was the guest and speaker.

FOUR FIRES MONDAY

The Winchester Fire Department made four runs Monday starting at 12:30 in the morning with the last at 6:30 p. m. The early morning call was by telephone for some burning cornstalks in the rear of the residence of Mr. George A. Rivinus on Main street. The department then took it easy until 12:40 in the afternoon when it answered Box 731 for a grass fire off Pond street in the rear of the residence of Mr. Michael Lynch which threatened to enter a wood-lot before getting under control. At 4:37 in the afternoon a telephone call was sent in for a grass fire in Rangely behind the home of Mr. William E. Gillett, the result of burning rubbish getting beyond control. The last run at 6:30 p. m. was in response to a telephone call for a grass fire at the Palmer street playground. En route to that fire the department stopped and put out another in the woods off Palmer street which may have been caused by the first blaze. At none of the day's fires was there any damage.

"LITTLE JESSIE JAMES"

"Little Jessie James," L. Lawrence Weber's New York and Chicago musical comedy hit, is coming back to Boston at the Wilbur Theatre for a limited return engagement beginning March 23. When "Little Jessie James" graced the boards there some time ago it was the Mecca of those who demanded the unique in a musical show. The run, however, came to an abrupt end when previous bookings caused it to depart. Mr. Weber is bringing it back so that those who heard its charms described second-hand may have an opportunity to clip the coupons with the more fortunate investors in entertainment of several months ago.

The chorus of "Little Jessie James" does not perform in the cut-and-dried tradition of the theatre. When Mr. Weber created the background for his principals, he created, also, an array of talent and charm. "Little Jessie James" falls upon the shoulders of Miss Laura Hamilton. Although she is petite, a dynamic energy fires the ability that is hers and the load gives her no distress. The inspiration of the playwright finds life in her hands. About Miss Hamilton are gathered other artists who have grooved fame from the muse of musical comedy, some of them being: John Sully, Al Raymond, Gladys Baxter, John Lundberg, Bartlett Ditch, Evan Valentine, Clara Throp and Madeline Grey.

Mr. Frederick E. Ritchie of 48 Wedgemore avenue suffered the death of his father, Mr. David A. Ritchie, who passed away at his home on Washington avenue, Cambridge, last Friday morning. The late Mr. Ritchie was the founder, and for many years president of the Lamb & Ritchie Sheet Metal Corporation of Cambridge, and was prominently identified as director with other industrial enterprises. He had been a resident of Cambridge for the past 60 years.

Radio maps are in—35 and 50 cents. Wilson the Stationer.

WINCHESTER BASKETBALL ENDS

With the Framingham game last week Tuesday afternoon the Winchester High School basketball team closed a season which was not so good as its ardent supporters might well have wished for. The team played 19 games and won nine, scoring 422 points to 401 for its opponents. At good Winchester played as good basketball as any outfit in the Suburban League, witness the games it showed against Chelsea, and Boston College High, the former admitted the class of high school fives around Boston, and the latter good enough to get a decision over the much-touted Arlington team. Again on occasion the locals have put up a miserable brand of play, losing games to Bruckton, Wintthrop and Watertown by lopsided scores. In all fairness to the boys it must be admitted that most of their reversals came after close games with their opponents' winning edges being five points or less. We would hazard a guess that in few of the games played this season did the local five trail at half time. Almost all of the games on the wrong side of the sheet were lost because of the inability of the players to travel the mile distance at speed. This fault may have been and probably was due to a lack of condition brought about by the impossibility of getting the gymnasium for sufficient practice sessions. We would all but wager that the time spent in weekly practice by the team would average nearer three hours than it would a higher figure.
It is easy to understand that a highly developed combination game such as basketball, and one which depends for success so much upon physical condition, is not going to get a great way on such a meager practice schedule.
We blame no one for the fact that more practice could not be obtained but we submit that the problem of a sufficient number of regular hours for practice has got to be worked out before basketball in Winchester will ever attain a high level.

It should be remembered that the outlook from a material point of view was scarcely reassuring at the start of the past season. Four men of last year's star five had left school and it was necessary for Coach Roberts to build an almost entirely new outfit around Captain Tansey, and to use in so doing material which had had little practical experience. That he succeeded in putting a team on the floor which was a credit to the school and town is distinctly praiseworthy, and calls for commendation for him and his boys.

Captain Tansey was the individual star of the Winchester team throughout the season and his all around work, coupled with his scoring ability, stamped him as one of the outstanding performers of the Suburban League. He is easily one of the best which the local high school has ever produced. The other members of the first team, Rolli, McCall, Cassidy and Johnson have all worked well, and are deserving of praise; the same going for the first string substitutes, McCauley, Halkort, Kendrick and Dolan. These last named were outstanding players with the second team and never failed to give good accounts of themselves when called upon to relieve their brother players on the varsity.

The outlook for next season is fairly good. Melrose and Tansey will of course be greatly missed but it is expected that "Woop" Rolli will return to school and with him will be Cassidy and Johnson, regular guards.
Adding McCauley, Halkort, Kendrick, "Nick" Fitzgerald, and others with more or less experience totals a promising squad, from which a good team should be produced.

The season's record follows:

FIRST TEAM GIVEN HONORS

The two picked teams of Calumet howlers who recently met the Boston City Club in invitation matches rolled a match of their own on Saturday night, there being some question regarding the superiority. The First Team, so-called was given the honors by virtue of winning the total although the match resulted in the Second Team taking the first two strings. There was some fine bowling, Stephenson rolling a total of 361 with 151 for high single. Newman also rolled a fine game, making 544 with 133, while Heaton got 336 with 118.

The scores:

MIXED BOWLING TOURNAMENT

Matches in the mixed bowling tournament at the Calumet Club Monday night were clean cut and decisive.
Team 4 took two points from team
10, 8 three from 12, and 8 three from 15. The ladies rolled well, Mrs. Wolfe making a total of 190 with 100 for her best string. Mrs. Kelley rolled 184

HIGHLANDS WANTS SCHOOL AT KENWIN ROAD

That there is keen interest in the proposed new school for the Winchester Highlands District was manifested by the gratifying large attendance at the open meeting held at the Washington School on Cross street, Saturday evening, March 14.

Without doubt, the majority of citizens of Winchester are familiar with the Article in the Town Warrant asking for a new school in this District naming Prince avenue as the proposed site. They also know that the proposed new school is designed to replace the Highland School on Highland avenue and the Washington School on Cross street. For this reason the residents in the District to be served feel that much care and thought should be expended in the selection of the site for the school. It was for the particular purpose of protesting the Prince avenue site and the discussion of a site farther north, preferably in the vicinity of Kenwin road, that the meeting was held.

Mr. John Park, as chairman, ably assisted by Mr. W. L. McGillicuddy, opened the discussion outlining the need of the District for a new school and the reasons for favoring the Kenwin road site. These reasons were so admirably set forth in the letter which appeared in last week's "Star" that it is necessary to repeat only the most important one here, i. e., that because of the large areas of undeveloped territory on the northerly end of this school district and the recent building activity, the center of school population is correctly located in the immediate neighborhood of Kenwin road.

The School Committee was represented by Mr. Stone and Mr. Tucker both of whom were thoroughly in sympathy with the desire of the residents of Winchester Highlands to have a school which would adequately serve the community. It is of interest to note that Mr. Stone stated that the site selected at Prince avenue was not the selection of the School Committee but was the selection of the Planning Board. The School Committee originally favored a site near Kenwin road, particularly having in mind Appalachian road.

It was voted that Mr. Stone should report to the School Committee that the meeting wished to go on record as favoring a school to be located corner of Kenwin road and Highland avenue or Appalachian road and Highland avenue.

It was stressed at the meeting by several of the speakers that the tax payers of Highland avenue and of Winchester Highlands helped to pay for the schools recently built in this district and that while the need of a new school to replace the Highland and Washington Schools has been most pressing it is the only district in whose needs have not been supplied. It is earnestly hoped that the voters of Winchester will remember this at the coming Town Meeting and that they will vote to give this district a school in the place where it wants and needs it.

EMBLEM CLUB NOTES

Election of officers at the last meeting on March 11, brought out nearly every member of the club. The nominating committee submitted the names of the same board of officers who, with the exception of one trustee, consented to serve for the ensuing year. For many other social duties made it impossible for Mrs. Anna E. Yayo to accept re-nomination. Mrs. Frances T. Dimmon was elected as trustee in her place. The club may be congratulated on retaining the services of its leading officers, for much of the work of formation is as yet in the progressive state and it is bad policy in leading officers to change leaders, crossing a bridge to change leaders.

After the business session, Mr. N. M. Nichols, visiting Elk, gave a very interesting talk on civic matters, and of course each member is very glad to see the aid of the club in the very creditable welfare work he has undertaken.

Excited Ruler Davidson announced "Solid Night" to be given by the local lodge, with tickets for the banquet now on sale. He also urged the members to attend the "Measurers' concert" to be given in the Town Hall, April 2. And then, just to make things interesting, Mr. Fred Schall, E. L. K., proposed that the ladies take up the matter of selling candy at the intermission which will take place between the two parts of the concert. (Course such a golden opportunity did not go to the hands of a very enterprising committee which includes Mrs. Anna Lockman, Mrs. Zella A. Kempton, Mrs. Anna Yayo, Mrs. Clara Morrison, Mrs. Katherine T. Macdonald and Mrs. Lila B. Green. If these ladies don't round up enough home-made candy to satisfy the audience it won't be their fault. Already 41 one-pound boxes of sweets have been procured, and of course each member is expected to do her share towards the project as the proceeds of the candy sale go to the Emblem Club.

The social hour was marked by an unusually fine entertainment under the direction of Mrs. Yayo. It began with the singing of the Anthem, her program featured Miss Betty McKoon in Irish folk dances, and Mrs. J. Roy McGrath in ballads and song sketches. Both well-known artists received much applause, and the club hopes for a "repeat" from them at an early date.

Refreshments consisting of salad and rolls, cake and coffee, were served by Mrs. Susan L. Quigley, assisted by Mrs. Mary Halvart, Mrs. Isabel Wheeler, Mrs. Ella Hallahan, Mrs. M. McHearne, Mrs. Josephine Power, Mrs. Cecelia Harrold and Miss Sara Quigley. A most delicious "shamrock" cake was donated to the spread by Mrs. Harrold, mother of Mrs. Mildred Hobley.

On account of Lenten services, the second regular meeting of this month will be omitted.

THE FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

Monday afternoon at 2:30, March 23, the fortnightly program will be in charge of the literature committee. After a short introduction by the chairman, Mrs. W. W. Hill, members of the committee will present various phases of the literary work of A. B. Brown—a profile Massachusetts writer of distinction, she has been given the Pulitzer prize for the play, "Children of Earth," her first work of $1250 offered by Harper's Magazine for a short story, and she is also an ex-president of the Boston Authors' Club. A sketch of her life will be given, poems read, one of her stories told, her latest book, "The Mysteries of Am," her recent play, "Charles Lamb," her poem, "Ellen Prior," briefly reviewed and a comedy in one act, "Joint Owners in Spain" presented.

While the stars is being prepared for the play music will be contributed by Mrs. Winfield S. Hanson, violin; Mr. Joshua Phippen, cello, and Mrs. William A. Lefavour, piano. This program carries with it an air of mystery as no names of the participants are given.

Invited guests, girls and boys of the Senior and Junior classes in the High School, and member's daughters beyond High School age and under 29. Members are requested to be in their seats by 2:30 as all unnecessary business will be omitted. Following the program tea will be served by the social committee, Mrs. Guy H. Saragant, chairman.

Under the dramatic committee, Mrs. Anna S. McGarage, chairman, three one-act plays will be presented on the evening of April 2, at 8 o'clock sharp, and will be followed by dancing. Music by Perry's Orchestra.

AN OLD VISITOR IN NEW GARB

An old visitor in a new garb made its appearance at the First Baptist Church last Sunday when the regular weekly calendar came out in its new and attractive form. The church now enjoys the distinction of having the most attractive church paper in town. It is printed on heavy, crisp, art paper, folded to eight pages and printed with under-fold leaves blank, making a particularly effective form. The usual church news is given on the two center pages and the officers and committees on the back as has previously been the arrangement.

The cover design, hand made for the job, is worthy of note. The design is composed of certain distinctive features typical of Gothic Architecture, the pointed perpendicular type of medieval architecture prevalent in European cathedrals from A. D. 1200 to 1500, which evolved a characteristic decoration by means of arcs of circles, possessing a great originality, and richness of form. The pointed arch is characteristic of Gothic architecture.

The little winged head of a child at the top of the design is a symbolic representation of an angelic cherub, as on the ark of the covenant, typifying the presence and power of the Deity. (See Ps. XVIII, 10—Ezek. X—Heb. IX, 5.) The little circular figure at the base of the design is a trefoil, a well known form of Gothic tracery, often used as an element in the ornamentation of galleries, windows and panels, etc. Here and there within the arch are a number of quatrefoils, which have four lobes instead of three.

The lettering used in the panel is the "Black-letter," a form of Gothic lettering. The "Black-letter" is essentially a letter or ecclesiastical and other serious work, and as such has been used for many centuries. It has an obvious origin in the pointed, perpendicular characteristics of Gothic architecture.

The paramount desire in the use of Gothic in design is for blackness i. e.,

Chats With YOUR Gas Man

BAGS OF GAS

If gas were sold like gasoline, it would cost you less than one-half what it costs now.

There would be no meters, or mains, or piping. You would bring your bag or container; we would fill it; and you would take it home.

What then? You could not use the gas, for gas itself is almost valueless without service. We do not sell gas. We render gas service.

This is a good thing to remember when your gas bill arrives. Service is the thing you actually pay for, even though it is measured in cubic feet. Its real measurement is in terms of convenience, economy and comfort.

richness and "color" in effect. To preserve this distinguishing characteristic, words are separated only enough for legibility, and lines not spaced widely.

The use of "Black-letter" permits of many pleasing variations. The particular form used in this design is taken from an alphabet designed by the late Bertram G. Goodhue, a distinguished draughtsman and designer of many beautiful American churches. It is a splendid example of a modern American variation of this interesting letter.

The lettering used in the panel is the "Black-letter," a form of Gothic lettering. The "Black-letter" is essentially a letter or ecclesiastical and other serious work, and as such has been used for many centuries. It has an obvious origin in the pointed, perpendicular characteristics of Gothic architecture.

The paramount desire in the use of Gothic in design is for blackness i. e.,

MIDDLESEX, SS. PROBATE COURT

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Catherine K. Wadsworth late of Winchester in said County, deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court, for Probate, by Herbert A. Wadsworth who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge in said County of Middlesex, on the twenty-fourth day of March A. D. 1925, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Winchester Star, a newspaper published in Winchester the last publication to be one day at least, before said Court, and by mailing post-paid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, GEORGE F. LAWTON, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this fifth day of March in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five.

CHARLES N. HARRIS, Register, mch25-26

About a year ago a winter coat was found in the girls' locker room of the Winchester High School. Inquiry and advertisement have met with no response, and the coat is still being held. Information relative to it may be sent to the Winchester High School.

SHERIFF'S SALE
COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

Whereas, on February 11, A. D. 1925, taken on execution and will be sold by public auction, on Wednesday the eighth day of April A. D. 1925, at one o'clock P. M. at my office, 20 Second Street in Cambridge in said County of Middlesex, all the right, title and interest that John J. O'Brien of Boston in the County of Suffolk, had and claimed in and to the severalth day of December A. D. 1924, at one o'clock, A. M. being the time when that same was attached on mortgage process, in and to the following described real estate, to-wit:

The land with the buildings thereon situated partly in Winchester and partly in Woburn, Massachusetts, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a stake on the line of the line of Pond street in said Winchester in line with the Southern side line of Woodside road from Cambridge, thence running Southwesterly by said Pond street 611 feet to a stake, thence South 30 degrees 30 feet East 183 to the point of beginning, containing 6 acres more or less, together with the first five acres of the whole line thereof, where the premises attached to the mortgage, the grantees, and their heirs and assigns, to have right of use in common with others throughout the streets.

Just before 2:30 Wednesday morning the residents of 6 Ridgeway were aroused by an unknown man who said the machine which he was driving had broken down and that he needed help. Thinking his actions were suspicious the Winchester police were notified and Officer Hogan was sent to investigate.

He escorted the man to the station where the latter claimed that his truck had broken down and that he wanted a taxi to Arlington. Investigation disclosed that he had been intoxicated, and had come to Winchester to visit acquaintances. He was allowed to go after being questioned.

Last Friday morning in the District Court Judge Jesse W. Morton continued the case of Alexander Boudreau of Philadelphia, the young man arrested last week Wednesday night by Officer John Regan of the Winchester Police Department, and who was charged with having in his possession two loaded revolvers without a permit.

He claimed that the latter had been made up. Upon finding that Boudreau had apparently no criminal record Judge Morton decided to impose a fine of $100 but when he learned that the young man had no money and would have to serve a jail sentence he changed his mind and handed out a six months suspended sentence in the House of Correction. Boudreau said that he could secure work in North Billerica and was permitted to depart there by the police.

GOOD WORK BY FIRE DEPARTMENT

The Winchester Fire Department has been the recipient of much praise from those possessing the facts for its clever work in connection with the early morning blaze last week Tuesday at the residence of Mr. E. H. Stone on Cambridge street. The fire, which started in a small store room off the main room on the third floor of the ell, had apparently been burning for some time before its discovery. Only the prompt arrival of the apparatus and the excellent work of the firemen thereafter prevented the blaze from spreading to the main part of the house. Doubts were freely expressed by many in the crowd over the ability of the firemen to prevent the destruction of the entire roof, but clever handling of the situation checked the fire at the house partition and it was subsequently extinguished while confined practically to its starting place in the south-west corner of the ell. The actual fire damage was confined to the top floor of the ell. The small room in which the fire started was almost completely burned out, and a hole was eaten in the corner of the roof just above it. Several roof and floor timbers were charred through, but all of them even on the side of the ell where the fire was fiercest, will not have to be replaced. Most of the damage was that done by smoke, heat and water.

BUSY WEEK-END FOR FIREMEN

Last week-end proved a busy one for the Winchester Fire Department, eight runs being made to different parts of the town. The first call came at 12:55 p. m. Saturday, a still for a grass fire at Madison avenue west. At 3 p. m. Saturday Box 66 was pulled in for a brush fire in the woods at the Lacker estate on Highland avenue. Twenty minutes later found the department answering a telephone call for a grass fire on a vacant lot near the estate of Mr. George A. Sexton on Wedgewood avenue. This call was separated from the next one by 15 minutes, the alarm sounding at 3:45 p. m. for another grass fire on some vacant land at Sheffield and Glen roads. Saturday's last run was at 4:10 p. m. to Sheffield west at Everett avenue where a pile of burning rubbish needed attention.

Business started Sunday shortly after noon with a still alarm for a brush fire at Walsley road. The blaze started near Pond street on the old golf links and getting into the woods gave the firemen a stiff two-hour fight before yielding to treatment. The second call of the afternoon was received at 1:35 when burning grass on Rock avenue threatened some private property in the vicinity including the garage of Mr. Peter Dougherty. Sunday's last alarm was at 7:15 p. m. from Box 741, the station having been called by telephone that there was a brush fire off of Middlesex street. The Chief's car and combination responded and found upon their arrival that there was a blaze rather over on Horn Pond Mountain which was put out without incident.

Monday's running fire was on Savanton street, in the rear of number 55 where a burning pile of rubbish got beyond control. There was no damage.

POULTRYMEN TO BAND TOGETHER TO COMBAT THEFT

Poultry thieves have become so active in Middlesex County that a county-wide meeting of poultrymen was called by the Middlesex County Extension Service in the Town Hall, Acton, Thursday, March 26, at 8 o'clock for the purpose of banding together for mutual aid in combating the crime. Some of the men from other counties, who have had experience with poultry thieving and the type of men who carry on this kind of crime, will be present to tell how they have met this menace.

Action farmers will tell of some of their losses and judging from the attitude of most of them poultry thieving will be a very dangerous business for the thieves from now on. The Extension Service says, "The seriousness of poultry thieving demands attention." "The presence of every poultryman in the county and the formulation of a definite campaign for combating thievery will go a long way in putting a stop to the losses now being borne by many farmers in the county."

WHY DID THE PLANNING BOARD SHIFT?

Editor of the Star:
In scrutinizing the columns of the last issue of the Star I observed the following few lines: "Mr. Stone stated that the site selected at Prince Avenue was not the selection of the School Committee, but was the selection of the Planning Board." Hence it was my desire to support the Planning Board. Then lo and behold! To my amazement a member of the Planning Board raised a point of order after I had spoken a few words, asserting that the Planning Board had nothing to do with the general discussion.

Now Mr. Editor I will admit that I am not familiar with parliamentary procedure, but there are others I believe who are in my class in that respect—namely folks who sport van Dyke beards and wear red neckties. I assure you Mr. Editor that it certainly is embarrassing to be ruled out of order before an intelligent group of men and women voters. Two weeks ago Monday night my motion could not be entertained, although perhaps it might have been entertaining. It certainly was refreshing however to your humble servant to listen to the converts who were so enthusiastic over our new school, who a few years ago voted against the general school building program. Let us all fall in behind our building committee and pull and row and suggest and not criticize public spirited gentlemen.

Very truly yours,
Patrick H. Coughwell

FIREMEN'S WORK APPRECIATED

David H. DeCoursey,
Chief of Winchester Fire Dept.,
Dear Sir:

I wish to express to you my appreciation of the prompt and efficient way in which the Department handled the fire at my house on March 17th. In consideration of same I am pleased to enclose check for $100, for the benefit of the Winchester Firemen's Relief Association.

ECHOES FROM THE TOWN MEETING

Dear Mr. Wilson:

Do you know what they are saying in Winchester Highlands today—it is, "We may not be great leaders but we are some little steers."

People are anxiously asking each other, "Where is Washington street Extension? Is it a new street that our generous town fathers have laid out for us while we have been sleeping, or have they without our knowledge, changed the name of what is probably the oldest and is certainly one of the principal streets in the town? No one seems to know the answer."

Three cheers and a tiger for the School Committee and Supt. Quinn. They saw their duty and they did it. No one blames the School Building Committee. They do not live in Winchester Highlands.

But what a blow to our pride when one of the speakers admitted that he did not know where Winchester Highlands was located. It is to be hoped that when the new schoolhouse is erected, he will visit it often and will get acquainted with one of the town's most beautiful sections.

They say that Jonas Laraway has more facts and figures in his mind than Dan, Bradstreet and Babson's put together, and he can use them too in a cause that he believes right.

After all, as one of the speakers so aptly put it, it is not houses or money that count. It is children.

Altogether it was a great meeting and an inspiring one, to see the men and women of Winchester Highlands and their friends from all sections of the town, waiting tense and silent while the tide of oratory for and against, flowed on, waiting to VOTE on one of the most important questions that has come up in years. They had done all their talking beforehand, they had worked tirelessly to bring about the demonstration with which they had come to that meeting, and they were not averted one iota from that determination, which was to stand solidly behind the School Committee and the Supt. of Schools in their choice for the site which, in their judgment, was best suited for the erection of the new school building. No personal preference for other sites influenced them. If they lost, they lost together. If they won, they won together. Well, they WON. It was a great victory and when the new schoolhouse is erected, the people of Winchester, north, south, east and west, will point with pride to the town's finest schoolhouse on its most beautiful site.

A Lifelong Resident of Winchester Highlands.

RECOVERED STOLEN OVERCOAT

Sergeant Thomas Cassidy of the Winchester police department recovered Tuesday in a Boston pawn shop the overcoat which was stolen on the fifth of last February from the cloak room of the Unitarian Church. The coat is the property of Mr. Arthur S. Hollins of Maxwell road, and was taken by a sneak thief while the former was attending an entertainment in Metrol Hall. The Winchester police were notified and have been on the look-out for the garment ever since. Following Sergt. Cassidy's discovery of the coat he got a confession of the theft from a prisoner in the House of Correction, known under the alias of John Breen and who is now serving time for the theft of three coats in Newton. Chief of Police McIntosh will have the man brought to trial in the District Court at Woburn Saturday morning.

Miss Eleanor Stearns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Stearns of Salisbury road, who has been visiting friends in Spokane, Wash., will return by the way of California, visiting relatives in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

A man can be much better employed breaking bad habits than in making good promises.

No matter what the words may be, a song of woe will never make a hit.

Keeping your nose on the grindstone will not necessarily sharpen your wits.

Just give a wink to some of your troubles and win a smile from good fortune.

A woman who keeps smiling when her husband holds the back door open letting in the flies is possessed of much courtesy.

TOO MUCH DAY-DREAMING DANGEROUS

A little day-dreaming helps the imagination; too much day-dreaming is dangerous. It tends to give the person a false and distorted view point of every day matters, and makes him shy, exclusive, and retiring. If habit of day-dreaming is formed too strongly in childhood, the adult is apt to run away from disagreeable tasks by denying their existence.

The job of every mother and father is to teach the child to look things squarely in the face—to do a job whether he likes it or not. Plenty of pleasant tasks and sufficient play and playmates should be provided so that the child will enjoy reality, and not have to fall back on dreams for happiness.

THE CHANGE IN BUILDING LAWS

Residents of Winchester will be interested to know that last week Governor Fuller signed the act to amend the General Laws relating to building lines, which recently was introduced into the Legislature by our Planning Board and Board of Selectmen.

Under the old law, land owners sometimes objected to the establishment of building lines along property not yet built upon because they found it necessary or desirable in the development of their land to build low retaining walls or ornamental walls or fences along the street line, but heretofore such structures were regarded by the statutes like houses or other buildings and their erection within the restricted space was forbidden. Because of this situation two attempts to establish building lines along portions of Highland avenue failed. Owners of land abutting the street where the land was above the level of the roadway felt that a building line would hinder them in the reasonable development of their real estate.

The new amendment to the law will make it possible for the town to provide in the vote establishing any building line that the landowner may build retaining walls, fences, gates and the like, along the street line, of such a character as will not obstruct the view or be objectionable to the neighborhood. This it is believed will make the building line law more workable and enable Winchester and other towns to have needed building lines along side-hill streets.

Winchester was one of the pioneers in the establishment of building lines. We now have them along thirteen miles of streets. The advantages of such lines to the community are well recognized. Our work in this field has been widely commended. Other towns are following our example.

The new law will be chapter 130 of the acts of 1925.

REFORESTING NOT TO BE DISCONTINUED

Editor of the Star:

Referring to the letter given publicly this week and addressed to the citizens of Winchester, written by Mr. William A. L. Boazoley, Commissioner of Conservation, I would say that the Winchester Water Board has no intention of discontinuing the work of reforesting the watershed of our reservoirs. Mr. Boazoley, in writing under the date of March 10th, expressed his regret over the possibility of the Town discontinuing this important work. He was misinformed regarding the situation, and the Board is continuing the carrying out of its plans for planting this year and will continue, to completion. It has not had any discontinuance under consideration.

Respectfully,
Edmund C. Sanderson,
Chairman Winchester Water Board.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

The following cases were reported to Board of Health for week ending Thursday, March 26:

Measles	16
German Measles	2
Scarlet Fever	3
Scarlet Fever	1
Maurice Dimond, Agent
Board of Health

Spring has arrived! Work started Wednesday on raising the topmast and painting the flag pole on the common, while on Tuesday the automobile parking signs were set out, all resplendent in new green and yellow paint.

RED CROSS

The Winchester Chapter of the Red Cross has received the following letter from National Headquarters at Washington.

March 20, 1925
To: All Chapter Chairmen.

Subject: Tornado Relief.
The American National Red Cross has been engaged in administering relief to disaster sufferers throughout the entire area affected by the recent tornado almost from the moment of its occurrence.

Mr. James L. Fieger, Vice Chairman in charge of Domestic Operations, and Mr. Henry M. Baker, National Director of Disaster Relief, were in St. Louis when the tornado struck and assumed direct charge of the relief work in Missouri, Illinois and Indiana, which is being administered as one operation from the St. Louis branch office.

Relief work in Kentucky, and Alabama is being administered from National Headquarters at Washington, D. C.

Your chapter is authorized to accept in behalf of the American Red Cross for transmittal to National Headquarters at Washington all contributions for the relief of the disaster sufferers. Adequate publicity should be immediately given to this fact. Individual contributions will be restricted by the Red Cross to the relief of any particular area when so designated by the donors.

Sincerely yours,
John Barton Payne, Chairman.

Every year the American Red Cross is called to aid in Disaster Relief. In the smaller disasters, money sent directly from National Headquarters is sufficient. Part of our Annual Roll Call Money goes to the national treasury, for this purpose. But when a great disaster comes to a locality, the Red Cross must call on the generosity of the American people. It has never called in vain. All contributions are to be sent to Mr. Wm. E. Priest, Savings Bank. If you do not wish to send to the treasurer, an opportunity will be given on Sunday, March 29, at the various churches.

M. C. W. G.

At the regular meeting Thursday evening, March 12th, the Winchester Branch elected the following officers for the coming year:

Report: Mrs. Elizabeth Blake
Vice Report: Mrs. Nora Ambrose
Sec. Sec. Mrs. Mary Ellen Foley
Fin. Sec. Mrs. Mary Dillion
Treasurer: Mrs. Ruth Ambrose
Projector: Mrs. Susan Gaffney
Sentinel: Mrs. Katherine Fallon
Organist: Mrs. Mary Fallon
Lecturer for 1925: Mrs. Catherine Callahan, Mrs. Mary Alden

After the business session, a social hour followed, and refreshments were served.

One of the most successful and enjoyable of the "Lenten Whists" was held on Tuesday evening, March 10th at the home of Director Mrs. Anna DeCourcy, Westley street, and a tidy sum was realized for the Charitable fund.

March 19th was M. C. W. G. day, at the Home for the Aged, and as usual, Winchester Branch sent a generous donation to the little "Sisters of the Poor," at that institution.

The semi-annual concert and entertainment for the patients at the Holy Ghost Hospital, Cambridge, will be given by the Massachusetts Catholic Woman's Guild on Sunday afternoon, March 22nd at 3 o'clock. For work each year, the Guild brings to these helpless sufferers, a few hours of sunshine, and every room and ward is visited, that all may enjoy this treat as well as the dainties supplied on that occasion.

On account of Holy Week, the date of the next regular meeting of Winchester Branch, has been changed to Thursday evening April 2nd, at which time plans for the installation of the newly elected officers, will be perfected.

Thursday evening, April 2nd, K. of C. Hall.

NOVELTY SHOWER

Wednesday evening at the Home of Miss Fleanor Hudson on Prospect street, an unusual novelty shower was tendered Miss Ruth Phippen, whose marriage to Mr. George French is set for the coming May. The guests were already present when Miss Phippen arrived, and shortly thereafter a completely appointed, bridal veil and all, was pushed into the room to the strains of the Wedding March from Lohengrin. Hanging from the shoulders of the "dummy" was a raily decorated basket containing many beautiful gifts for the bride-to-be. Following the merriment attendant upon the arrival of so strange a messenger, bridge was enjoyed, first prize being won by Mrs. Robert Johnson, and consolation by Miss Helen Cabot. Dainty refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

Among those present were Mrs. Willard Hudson, Mrs. Haven Sherburne, Mrs. Robert Johnson, Mrs. Chester Wolfe, Mrs. John Wells, Mrs. Paul Godwin, Mrs. Kenneth Neeson, Mrs. Arthur Lloyd, Mrs. Walter Keyes, Mrs. Marcus Fowler, Mrs. Arthur Harris, Mrs. Joshua Phippen, Mrs. Walter Rice, Mrs. Henry Harris, Mrs. George Hudson, and the Misses Ruth Phippen, Mary French, Helen Rowe, Helen Cabot and Eleanor Hudson.

CALUMET CLUB NOTES

The April program of events at the Calumet Club to be issued next week will contain several important social events of interest. The ladies will enjoy an afternoon of bowling on Wednesday, April 1st, opening at 2:30 o'clock, the affair being in charge of Mrs. Arthur W. Pitman and Mrs. John A. Maddocks.

On Wednesday, April 8, there will be an afternoon bridge party for the ladies at 2 o'clock. At this party guests must be accompanied by a wife or daughter of a member, and those attending are requested to apply for tickets on or before Monday, April 6, of any of the following committees: Mrs. Ernest Dudley Chase,

MUTUAL INTERESTS

Did you ever think about your customers and realize that without them you would have no business?

Only by creating something and selling it to customers, or by selling something—labor, merchandise or capital—that someone else has created and placed in your hands to sell at a profit, can a business be established.

This is equally true in Banking. We need deposits of capital in the aggregate in order to become mutually helpful to our customers individually.

We pay interest on deposits above $300. Let's talk it over when you need help.

The members of the eight looting teams in the mixed bowling tournament will provide entertainment for the winning teams on some evening during the third week in April. The nature of this entertainment and the date will be announced later.

On Saturday evening, April 18, the annual dinner and meeting of the Club will be held opening at 6:30. At this meeting the election of officers will take place and there will be an entertainment.

The Board of Selectmen is in receipt of a letter from the Chief Engineer of the Boston & Maine Railroad in which the Board is assured that the condition of the three rail fence along the northerly side of Swanton street, about the condition of which it had previously written the B. & M., will receive the prompt attention of the railroad authorities.

Miss Mildred Gurney whose wedding to Mr. Angelo Crovo of Woburn will take place in the near future, was tendered a novelty shower last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hatch on Fairmount street. Guests were present from Winchester, Arlington and Woburn. During the evening refreshments were served and a general good time enjoyed.

Return balls at Wilson's.

A POOR LOCATION

Editor of the Star:
At the second session of the annual Town meeting held two weeks ago last Monday night, it was asserted by the chairman of the School Committee that the Committee deemed the Kenwin road site too near the Hospital, and Amalanchan, who was too near the North Reservoir and in their opinion the logical site was the Prince Avenue site.

Now history. Kenwin road is a street that extends from Washington street in an easterly direction to Highland Avenue. Last week the Town expended $1035.62 for the removal of rocks and stump in order that Kenwin road might be extended to Highland Avenue. Immediately after that operation "for sale" signs appeared in that immediate vicinity.

Now that we have decided to erect the school on the Appalachian road site after the most nonsensical discussion that ever took place in the Town Hall since Winchester was incorporated a town in 1830, I would like to call the attention of the inhabitants of Winchester to the danger that exists at the junction of Hillcrest Parkway, Appalachian road and Reservoir street. It is in a dangerous deplorable condition, due to the fact, and the danger is that, either the State or the Town claims any jurisdiction in that immediate vicinity. There is no fence or sign warning folks of the danger that exists there—and we all recall the tragedy which occurred at Spot Pond a few weeks ago.

Let us wake up! We have been so lock the door before the horse is stolen. A few years ago, as you all recall one of our late ex-town officials was repudiated for drinking in our own reservoir. It certainly is proper that I would suggest that the Board of Selectmen, Water Board, Town Council and Metropolitan Park Commissioners act jointly and eliminate the deplorable condition if possible that exists at the North Reservoir.

Now then, in conclusion—Winchester to my mind, was in the Charles Town Village, was the ancient Rome was when Rome was created down the Thier river between the seven hills more than 2500 years ago. We have seven hills in Winchester with the Aberjona River, a miles long winding its way to the Atlantic Ocean. We are only in our infancy; we are bound to grow, and let us follow in the footsteps of our predecessors, the framers of the Constitution of the United States of America, and remember Town meeting is like Christmas—it only comes once a year.

So "Good night" and I wish you one and all a Merry Christmas on the 25th day of next December.

Very truly yours,
Patrick H. Craighwell

Mr. Timothy Callahan for the past five years in the service of the town, severed his connections with the Park Department last Saturday. He takes the best wishes of his many friends with him as he enters the catering business with his brother in Winchester. Mr. Callahan has been appointed to fill the vacancy left by his departure, and started upon his new duties Monday.

Mr. Lettome was formerly in the employ of the Winchester Laundries Inc.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

Thirty members enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. George F. Arnold last Friday afternoon when the regular meeting was held at her home on Dix Terrace. Mrs. Louis K. Snyder gave a most interesting account of the Foreign Missionary Conference which she attended in February. Mr. Washington and her report was deeply appreciated.

A joint meeting of the Western Missionary Society and the W. C. T. U. will be held at the Congregational Church, Thursday, April second. Miss Grace Leigh Scott, pastor, and Director of the department of Social Morality, will speak at 2 o'clock. Her subject will be "Hold High the Torch." Miss Scott is making a tour of the eastern schools and colleges, and members should not miss this opportunity to hear her. She is an exceptionally fine speaker.
